JOINT ELECTION COMMITTEES.

The Correspondence Between the Republican Executive Committee and the Reform Executive Committee.

ROOMS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,
CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 22, 1870.

Maj. F. W. Seibels, Secretary and Treasurer "Union Reform Party," Columbia, S. C.:

Sir: Capt. F. W. Dawson and others of the "Union Reform Party" have spoken to me on the subject of the ensuing election in this State, setting forth their desire to have joint committees appointed for each polling precinct throughout the State, say two from each party, whose duty it will be to see that fair play is had at the polls and in the canvassing of the votes, to which I heartily agree. Mr. Cardozo, Mr. Mackey and Mr. Nash, of the Republican Executive Committee, to whom I have spoken, concur.

Of course it will be a matter for the decision of the County Canvassers, as to whether or not these committees will be, as such, permitted to witness inquisitorially the canvassing of the votes. In my judgment the plan ought to recommend itself to both parties. In any case I shall do what I can in this and every other way legitimately to secure a fair election. Though a candidate myself I should spurn from me the thought of occupying an office that has been secured by fraud or violence.

I do not think that the "Reform" party need fear, whether this plan is adopted or not, that the Republican party intend to elect its candidates by any other than fair and legitimate means.

An early reply will much oblige

A. J. RANSIER,
Chairman Rep. State Ex. Com.
E. W. M. MACKEY, Sec'y R. S. E. C.

CAMDEN, S. C., Sept. 24, 1870.

Hon A. J. Ransier, Chairman Republican State Executive Committee:

SIR: On behalf of the Executive Committe of the Union "Reform" Party, I take pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of your communication of the 22d inst., addressed to Major E. W. Seibels, the Secretary of the Committe, communicating the assent of the Executive Committee of the Republican Party, to the appointment of a Joint Committee of two persons from each party, at each polling precinct in the State, to see that fair play is had at the polls and in the canvassing of the votes," at the ensuing election.

Though, as you suggest, the proposed arrangement might not be acceded to by the Managers and Commissioners, yet the plan is so just, and so admirably calculated to allay the apprehensions of the people, already so greatly excited, and to satisfy all of the fairness of the election, that it is scarcely to be expected that any will refuse their accord with the very commendable views contained in your letter.

In the present temper of the people, it is not only necessary that the elections should be fairly conducted, that but all should know that they had been so conducted.

We therefore willingly agree to your proposition, and will take the proper measures to carry it into operation on our part.

I am, Sir, respectfully, &c.,

J. B. KERSHAW,
Chairman Ex. Com. Union Reform Party.

THE WATCHMAN

WEDNESDAY, OCT'R 5.

A. A. GILBERT - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR

The Sumter Watchman has by far the largest circulation (especially in the surrounding country) of any paper published in Sumter, and was established in 1850.

GEN. JOHN D. KENNEDY

Addressed a large number of the citizens of Sumter, white and colored, from the Court House steps at Sumter, on Monday last, after the adjournment of the Court.

Gen. WADE HAMPTON, the other speaker for the occasion, from unavoidable circumstances, did not arrive. His heart and soul are fully in the cause, and we had hoped to have the privilege of greeting him again at Sumter, and of affording our people an opportunity of hearing from his own lips his words of earnest and honest advice and eloquent appeal.

Gen. KENNEDY acquitted himself with decided success. His ability, liberality and patriotism combined, mark him unmistakably as one of the representative men of the State for the time to come.

He spoke with great earnestness and strong point and reason, anon rising with burning enthusiasm to the eloquence of his theme.

We have not, since the war, witnessed indications of so deep an interest on the part of a mass of hearers.

The great heart of the people of the State is stirred. Passion and prejudice are giving way before the momentous issues of the day, and great good must be the result of the Reform movement, let the election go as it may.

We solemnly call upon our people to do their duty—calmly and dispassionately.

COL. C. W. DUDLEY

Addressed a considerable number of the citizens of Sumter, from the Court House steps on Saturday last.

It is to be regretted that the notice of the intention of Col. DUDLEY to speak at this place was so brief as not to admit of its general circulation.

His speech, however, was not without good effect. It was calm and temperate, showing, in strong point and illustration, the extravagance and corruption which have prevailed in the administration of the affairs of the State for the past two years, and hence the imperative necessity for reform.

The colored people listened with marked attention to what he said, notwithstanding the constant and irritating interruptions to which he was subjected, and we have no doubt that good seed were sown, which will spring up and bear fruit in the time to come.

And here we feel called upon as a public censor, to condemn, as unworthy and disgraceful—totally unbecoming the character of the community in which we live—the style and spirit in which gentlemen of the Reform Party are disturbed by those of the opposite side. Radical speakers have never been interfered with, at this place, and common decency forbids it.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS FOR SUMTER COUNTY.

The County Convention, of the Republican Party, which assembled at Sumter on the 24th ult., nominated the following ticket:

Senator—W. E. Johnson.
Representatives—Gen. F. J. Moses, A. L. Singleton, W. W. Ramsey, W. H Gardner.
Judge of Probate—C. M. Hurst.
Coroner—J. A. Whittemore.
School Commissioner—J. N. Corbett.
County Commissioners—B. Spears, J. M. Tindall, E. Archy.

THE POSITION OF THE DEMOCRACY.

We ventured the assertion, some time since, that opposition to negro suffrage would not be found in the platform of the Democracy of a single State—North, East, South, or West. So far the assumption holds good. From time to time, we have given the position assumed, as the State Conventions have assembled.

THE GREAT JEWISH FAST.

Yesterday was the great Jewish Fast of the Day of Atonement. The Synagogue in this city was crowded to overflowing, and the solemnity of the occasion was deeply impressed upon the countenance of every worshipper. The fast commences at sundown on the previous evening, and ends at sundown the next day. It is a day of abstinence to all Israelites. For twenty-four hours, commencing at one act last evening and ending with the appearance of three stars this evening, neither food nor drink passes the lips of the devoted.

It is a day of humiliation, penitence and prayer. No worldly occupations interrupt the pious reflections of the solemn occasion—no trivial conversation nor ordinary reading disturb the train of religious thought.

In places where there are Synagogues, these shrines are crowded with worshippers from early morn until night, and many persons remain all that time in prayer. The services are not suspended during the entire day, and, it is usual for some pious member of the congregation to assist the regular minister in performing the onerous duties of the day. The regular services are all in Hebrow. It is customary to introduce a sermon, in the vernacular, exhorting the worshippers to amend their ways, to repent of their sins, and to prepare themselves by the practice of virtue, for the life hereafter. This custom of preaching or lecturing is so ancient among the Jews, that it is said to have been sanctioned by Moses himself. (See Josephus against Apeion.)

In places where there are no Synagogues, the Israelites observe this fast, with the same solemnity. They are provided with prayer books, for this and all other religious occasions, which contain the forms of prayer both in Hebrew and the vernacular of the country in which they live. Those among us (with few exceptions) use the English translation. The prayers for this day are very solemn, and being composed by the greatest theologians and poets of their race, and distinguished by a high order of literary ability.

It is a sublime thing to witness the celebration of this fast by millions of persons scattered over every part of the habitable globe—a fast dating back to the time of Moses, and still observed by his people with a vigor and devotion unknown to any other religious body of men.

PAVILION HOTEL.

This house is worthy of special notice. Mrs. BUTTERFIELD, the accomplished hostess, continues to enjoy the valuable services of Mr. R. HAMILTON, as manager, and is prepared to accommodate guests with all the comfort and courtesy for which the good old Pavilion has been so long noted. Mr. HAMILTON is a "host" in himself, and Mr. HENRY BOINNEAU, the very kind and very courteous book keeper, is no less a favorite, or successful in catering to the tastes of the traveler. A recent visit to the Pavilion is the basis of these remarks. We advise persons who may intend visiting Charleston during the Fair, next month, to write in advance and secure rooms.

PHOSPHATE ROCKS OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

We direct attention to the advertisement of Professor F. S. HOLMES, formerly Professor of Geology in Charleston College. Professor HOLMES, one of the discoverers of the "great Carolina Marl Bed," proposes to publish in book form a history of their discovery and development, their origin, geological position and age. Also, their Chemical character and agricultural value. This pamphlet is now in press and the Professor has gone North to perfect his arrangements for the early delivery of his book, which will be of much interest to the planter and others interested in the discovery and value of these phosphates.

PUBLIC MEETING.

Pursuant to notice given, the citizens of the Folk of Black River, met at Mitchel's Mills, on Wednesday, 26th Sept. On motion of Capt. R. H. Chandler, Capt. James D. McFaddin was requested to preside, and G. White was appointed secretary.

The chair explained the object of the meeting, and upon motion, a Committee of seven, consisting of the following gentlemen, viz: Capt R. A. Chandler, Dr. I. I. Ingram, Wm. Durant, A. J. Tindal, J. J. Harvin Joseph Mack, Peter Lavine, Wm. Mitchel, & J. W. Newman were appointed to prepare business for the action of the meeting.

The committee after consultation reported the following paper which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it is the privilege of the citizens of every civilized community, to council together for their general welfare, and for the promotion of sound morals, it becomes their important duty, so far as in their power to accomplish it by moral or lawful means; to exert their best influences to suppress vice and crime in whatever form it may exist amongst them.

Amongst the many deplorable misfortunes which surround us as a people, there are none which has affected more the welfare of our country than the indiscriminate purchase of Seed Cotton and grain. It not only, in many cases, leaves in penury and want the honest farmer, who by toil has secured a support for his family, but it engenders a disregard to, and a familiarity with crime and honesty with many, which if not suppressed, must result in the total destruction of the Agricultural interest of the country. Be it therefore

1. Resolved, That it is the sentiment of this meeting that it is the duty of every good citizen to discountenance the [illegible] of cotton and grain, and that we will not purchase from any person who is known to be engaged in the [illegible] of dishonest practices, and that we will discountenance the same by closing their places of business at dark. Thus lending their aid to encourage and sustain the honest farmer and thereby promote the general interest of the community.

2. Resolved, That in the foregoing resolutions, we do not, [illegible] the sentiments of any individual, and disavow any other than moral or legal means to suppress this vice.

4. Resolved, That copies of the proceedings of this meeting be furnished the Manning and Sumter papers, with request to publish, and that a committee of five, to be appointed by the chair, be requested to communicate immediately, the proceedings of this meeting to the merchants and traders in the surrounding country.

The chair appointed the following gentlemen to comprise the committee, viz: F. B. Brown, R. C. McFadden, T. G. Cole, Joseph Mack and Peter Lavine.

There being no further business before the meeting on motion it adjourned.

JAMES. D. McFADDEN, Ch'n.
GRIER WHITE, Secretary.

IN MEMORIAM.

COL. JOHN C. RHAME has passed from earth. He expired on the 9th september, 1870, at his residence, near Lynchburg, S. C.

The frosts of sixty winters, and the sufferings of the past three years, had silvered his once dark and glossy hair; days of sickness—days of untold pain and anguish—had left their deep impress on his manly form and features. The skill and services of eminent, scientific, medical men, were invoked and rendered to no purpose. Each ray of hope that came faded away. Death hovered by his bed-side, and at last with his icy touch stilled the throbbings of the sick man's heart—breathed upon his lips and closed them in eternal silence. So peaceful was his exit, that the King of Terrors could not efface the holy and ineffable serenity which lingered around his brow, and wreathed itself about his lips, in a smile of triumph! Ere his spirit winged its flight, he gave unmistakable evidences that his home henceforth would be in "the land of the pure and the holy."

The subject of this memoir was many times selected to fill positions of honor and trust by his fellow-citizens, by the Legislature and the Executive of the State, the duties of which he ever discharged with ability and fidelity.

Col. RHAME had long since retired from public life, and was seldom seen farther from his home than the village of Lynchburg where he regularly attended church. He was for the past twelve years a consistent member of the Methodist Church, at Lynchburg, and for a length of time, and until his health would no longer permit such duties, was Superintendent of the Sabbath School of the same church. He was a true patriot and devoted to the cause of the South during the war, and though lame from the fracture of a limb, which occurred in 1857, he accepted the command of a company of infantry raised for home service, while the war was in progress, which command he held until the war was ended. On being apprised of Potter's advance towards Sumter, Col. RHAME hastened, with such of his command as he could hastily collect, to the scene of conflict at Dingle's Mill, and participated in the action until all hope of success was gone and the day was lost, when he retired from the field among the last to yield, barely escaping the clutches of the foe.

His political integrity and unyielding devotion to the principle of "States Rights" were so well known to his friends that any allusion to his politics here would be superfluous.

Col. RHAME was honest and high-toned, generous and brave, affectionate, kind and charitable, a good citizen, a loving father and devoted husband. He possessed a rich and cultivated mind, and a heart susceptible of the deepest emotions. He was an admirer of the sublime and a lover of the beautiful in nature.

He asked to be buried near the haunts of men where the warm sun light might fall on his grave, where the merry voices of children and the songs of summer birds might fill the air with sounds he ever loved to hear. There he reposes; he has been laid to rest in the village grave yard at Lynchburg; there, where in the bright Sabbath mornings the sweet sound of the church bell may float over the grave of him whose "spirit was so warm and true." Sept. 22d, 1870.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

BETHEL CHURCH, Sept 26th, 1870.

At an extra Church Meeting of Bethel Church, Sumter Circuit, held this day, the following preamble and resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted:

Death has again visited our Society, and with his all devouring scythe, has cut down and removed from time to eternity our beloved brother NICHOLAS S. PUNCH. We deem it eminently fitting, and a privilege, on this sad occasion, to record our estimation of his character as a christian and as a man. Our brother was a true type of the christian gentleman. His life as a citizen was exemplary to a remarkable degree. Quiet and unobtrusive in all his ways, he was scrupulously exact in all his relations to his fellow man. In all his transactions he was upright, honest and just. Strictly attentive to his own affairs, he never intermeddled with the business of others—he was truly the pattern of a good citizen.

Of his character as a christian we cannot speak too highly. He was a warm, active christian, never more delighted, or earnest and zealous, than when engaged in his master's work. For nearly twenty-five years he served the church as a steward; conscientiously and faithfully discharging the duties of that office. In all the meetings of the church for the transaction of business he was present, unless providentially prevented, the same thorough going christian. Kind and courteous in his deportment, quick to understand, and firm to execute all business entrusted to his care, he was justly regarded a strong pillar of the church.

In the Sabbath School he was eminently useful, and manifested his interest in, and love for this auxiliary of the church by liberal contributions, punctual attendance, and was one of her most devoted and efficient teachers. He was ever ready to contribute everything available, within his reach, to the prosperity of the church. But that friendly hand is cold and still; that kindly voice is forever hushed; the pulsations of that warm and generous heart are stilled in death, and we are left to mourn. We are sure that our loss is his eternal gain. Death has no sting for him, and yonder grave can claim no victory. He has already heard the welcome plaudit, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." The palm of victory is in his hand, and the crown of glory upon his head.

It is our melancholy duty to embalm with our praises and our tears the memory of the just; Therefore, be it

Resolved, That in this solemn dispensation of an All-wise Providence, the community has lost a good and reliable citizen, the church one of its most active, zealous and efficient members.

Resolved, That our warmest sympathies as christians are extended to the family of our deceased brother in this their sad bereavement.

Resolved, That a blank page in our church Journal be inscribed to his memory.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Sumter Watchman, with the request that they be copied in the Christian Neighbor and Southern Christian Advocate.

HOW TO MAKE HOME ATTRACTIVE.

Don't have your stairs without banisters, at the risk of breaking your children's necks. Don't have wooden ceilings, that require a cord of lightwood to illuminate the room. Don't have windows without glass, so that whenever it rains you must shut out the light of heaven. Don't have sashes without blinds, so that the summer sun will dazzle your eyes, warp your furniture and fade your carpet. But order all the necessary materials for furnishing your house in comfortable style from P. P. Toale, Charleston, S. C., the largest manufacturer of such things in the Southern States.
