

Death of Mrs. Jane Tweedy Butler.

This distinguished and venerated matron died on Sunday, 11th inst., at the residence of her son-in-law, Charles Carson, in Greenville county.

Mrs. Butler was a remarkable woman in many respects. She was not only connected by blood and marriage with the chivalric Butlers of South Carolina, but she was also a daughter of a family of Rhode Island, renowned for its heroic name.

Mrs. Butler in her more youthful days was remarkable also for her beauty, and she was the looking lady to the look. She possessed fine intelligence, and was always sprightly, pleasant and entertaining in the society of her friends.

Mrs. Butler was a resident of Greenville for about forty-five years, with the exception of a short interval, when with her husband she resided in the Indian reserve in Arkansas, while he was holding the office of Indian agent.

NOTHING IS MORE LADY LIKE than the use of fine note paper and a neat fashionable envelope. So think the fortunate receivers of such billet-doux. The sweetness of a charming sentence is rendered more delicious, if conveyed in a delicate tinted sheet of Price's Note Paper. It is a bad taste in a gentleman writing to a lady on inferior stationery. If you wish to be posted on the latest novelties, the fashion in these matters, enclose a stamp to Walker, Evans & Cogswell, for one of their little fashion books "Card Etiquette," or send an order for a recherche lot of pens and envelopes of the latest style. Do not forget at the same time to order a monogram.
