

PREPARING FOR WAR IN EDGEFIELD.—Since Governor Chamberlain's letter to Judge Carpenter and proclamation read in open court last Monday to the grand jury, there has been quieted down considerably; but on the 6th inst., just on the eve of Governor Chamberlain leaving for the Cincinnati Convention, he issued another proclamation offering a reward of $200 for the arrest and delivery of any of the murderers of six persons, the murderers of John and Catharine Harrow, is estimated 150 persons were engaged in this deed, making a pretty little sum to be paid by the tax payers of this county, in addition to the large amount which the County Treasurers of this county have stolen since November, 1876, which the tax payers have to make good. No reward has ever been paid for these radical thieves. It is said Hubbard, with several leading Radical office holders, intends to make a making arrests soon. Prince Rivers has already been applied to for his battalion in Hamburg, and they are now drilling and waiting for marching orders. The White Star Guards are on the lookout, and will yet give some of the Deputy United States Marshals and Probate Judges and others about Edgefield Court House a warm reception before the summer is out.

WHO INVENTED THE SEWING MACHINE.—Col. C. W. Howard, of Georgia, in a letter published in the Atlanta Times, claims for Georgia the honor of the invention of the sewing machine, and says that the Rev. F. R. Goulding should have obtained the patent which was given to Howe. Mr. Goulding was a Unitarian minister, and is widely known as the author of the charming book "The Young Menorahs." He possesses a great talent for mechanics, which he has developed for fear it would conflict with his religious duties. Mr. Howard says that, sometime in 1848, he visited Mr. Goulding, who was then in his usual workshop, and saw him busy engaged in working a machine which he had invented. He proposed to patent so soon as he could get a part of the machine cast. This he was delayed, and meanwhile the patent was given to Howe. The importance of this invention was not understood at the time. Mr. Goulding is now seventy years of age, blind and in poverty. The fruits of his invention were never reaped, and but little has been realized by him from the sale of his book, which has been translated into almost every language of Europe.—This is another instance of neglected genius in the South.

THE VOTE OF THE STATE AT CINCINNATI.—On the seventh and last ballot, the South Carolina delegation were equally divided—seven voting for Blaine and seven for Hayes. That position which voted for the latter was headed by Governor Chamberlain.
