

The P. O. will be opened for business from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

The Money Order Department will be opened for business from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mail going East will close promptly at 12:40 P. M. Mail going West at 10 P. M.

The mail will be taken from the street box each day 30 minutes before the trains arrive.

R. W. HARRIS, P. M.

Index to New Advertisements.

Bank Statement. If you are going—A. H. Foster & Co. Furman University—C. Manly, D. D.

Mrs. Lou Gask has been quite sick with erysipelas, but is much better now.

The State campaign meeting will be here next Tuesday. Let everybody come and listen and keep cool and learn.

Friends and relatives were very much shocked and grieved last Friday to hear of the death of Miss Fannie Trompeter.

White lawn at 3/4c. at PURCELL'S.

THOS. STEEN, who has lately been living at Trough Shoals factory, has recently become insane and was carried to the State asylum this week by Dr. Fant.

Those who talked of dispensaries will be opened again on August 1. Gov. Tillman issued orders last Monday that all dispensers open their dispensaries on the 1st in accordance with the law of 1893.

A new postoffice has been established between Jonesville and Lockhart. The name of the office is Adamsburg.

Those who went to Asheville on the excursion last Wednesday say that they had a nice time. We are not surprised, for tourists say that for grandeur and beauty, the scenery of western North Carolina is not surpassed in any part of the world.

Another liquor case was brought before the Town Council this week. The defendant was charged with having retained whiskey contrary to law.

GALLAGHER BROS. Photos are admired by everybody.

ABSENT INSPECTOR GENERAL FARLEY was here last Friday to review the Johnson Rifles.

GALLAGHER BROS. will return to Asheville in a few days. Get some of their fine photos before they leave.

Mr. Albertus Moore, of Camden, is visiting his uncle, Dr. M. A. Moore and family.

Mr. J. W. Pusey and daughter, have gone to visit friends and relatives in Laurens county.

Judge Townsend went down to Columbia last Wednesday night to hear a case in equity.

Miss Beulah Harris is visiting her relatives in Chester and Rock Hill.

Misses Annie and Madie Goides are spending their vacation with relatives in Spartanburg.

Mr. Horton—Allow me through "The Times" to express my humble gratitude to so many of the good citizens of my dear old county for their confidence to request me to place my name before the voters of the county for one of their Legislators.

The Selah Sunday School will give her annual picnic on August 1st in Bachelorsgrove at Sedalia.

Revs. B. G. Childers, D. P. Boyd and J. S. Blackman, Col. D. P. Dimeson, Hon. Stranwarne Wilson, Bro. C. G. Gentry, Editor "Times" of Rock Hill, W. R. Minter and Thos. Betenbaugh, the speakers are requested to confine themselves to a strictly Sunday school talk.

The following gentlemen have been specially invited to speak.

Rev. B. G. Childers, D. P. Boyd and J. S. Blackman, Col. D. P. Dimeson, Hon. Stranwarne Wilson, Bro. C. G. Gentry, Editor "Times" of Rock Hill, W. R. Minter and Thos. Betenbaugh.

The Kelton Meeting.

By half past ten o'clock last Saturday quite a crowd had gathered at the spring about a mile from Kelton and had seated themselves on the side of the hill opposite a small mound of earth on which the speakers were expected to stand.

W. M. Vanderford, master of ceremonies, opened the exercises by the announcement of the first speaker, Jno. O. Tate, candidate for the office of Supervisor of Registration.

Mr. Tate detailed his services to the Reform movement, and showed how he had always done his duty. Did not profess to be an orator or a politician, but said that he was a Reformer and stood flat-footed on the Ocala platform.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

Carlsruhe.

JULY 24.—The farmers have been very jubilant over the fine prospects of the crops, but since the continual fall of the hard rains which have not ceased for the past week or ten days they are feeling blue and fear if the rains continue the now promising cotton crop will be cut off by the rust.

The next speaker was Col. Duncan, candidate for Congress. It was raining when he commenced, but he said that if he might be permitted to wear his hat he would stand the weather if the people would listen to him.

Mr. J. A. Bell, Baptist pastor from Greenville, S. C., began a protracted meeting at the Carlsruhe Academy last Sunday.

Mr. H. B. Edgerton, student from the Theological Seminary of Clarksville, Tenn., is teaching a three month school at the Carlsruhe Academy.

Miss Lily Sanders, of North Carolina, an influence adds much to his qualifications as an evangelist.

Mr. Query, of Welford, S. C., is visiting their relatives, Mr. G. W. Hill and family.

Mr. J. S. Welsh, candidate for the House of Representatives, was opposed to educating the negro with money raised from taxing the whites.

After a short announcement by the editor of THE TIMES, dinner was announced and for about an hour the crowd was at its ease to eat dinner.

An excellent barbecue prepared and served by Messrs. Sprouse was one of the features of the day, and a part of the programme that most of us would not have been willing to miss.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

Sedalia.

JULY 24.—Mr. Edmon—According to promise I will give you the news from this part of the county.

Mr. J. A. Bell, Baptist pastor from Greenville, S. C., began a protracted meeting at the Carlsruhe Academy last Sunday.

Miss Lily Sanders, of North Carolina, an influence adds much to his qualifications as an evangelist.

Mr. Query, of Welford, S. C., is visiting their relatives, Mr. G. W. Hill and family.

Mr. J. S. Welsh, candidate for the House of Representatives, was opposed to educating the negro with money raised from taxing the whites.

After a short announcement by the editor of THE TIMES, dinner was announced and for about an hour the crowd was at its ease to eat dinner.

An excellent barbecue prepared and served by Messrs. Sprouse was one of the features of the day, and a part of the programme that most of us would not have been willing to miss.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

Carlsruhe.

JULY 24.—The farmers have been very jubilant over the fine prospects of the crops, but since the continual fall of the hard rains which have not ceased for the past week or ten days they are feeling blue and fear if the rains continue the now promising cotton crop will be cut off by the rust.

The next speaker was Col. Duncan, candidate for Congress. It was raining when he commenced, but he said that if he might be permitted to wear his hat he would stand the weather if the people would listen to him.

Mr. J. A. Bell, Baptist pastor from Greenville, S. C., began a protracted meeting at the Carlsruhe Academy last Sunday.

Miss Lily Sanders, of North Carolina, an influence adds much to his qualifications as an evangelist.

Mr. Query, of Welford, S. C., is visiting their relatives, Mr. G. W. Hill and family.

Mr. J. S. Welsh, candidate for the House of Representatives, was opposed to educating the negro with money raised from taxing the whites.

After a short announcement by the editor of THE TIMES, dinner was announced and for about an hour the crowd was at its ease to eat dinner.

An excellent barbecue prepared and served by Messrs. Sprouse was one of the features of the day, and a part of the programme that most of us would not have been willing to miss.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

Sedalia.

JULY 24.—Mr. Edmon—According to promise I will give you the news from this part of the county.

Mr. J. A. Bell, Baptist pastor from Greenville, S. C., began a protracted meeting at the Carlsruhe Academy last Sunday.

Miss Lily Sanders, of North Carolina, an influence adds much to his qualifications as an evangelist.

Mr. Query, of Welford, S. C., is visiting their relatives, Mr. G. W. Hill and family.

Mr. J. S. Welsh, candidate for the House of Representatives, was opposed to educating the negro with money raised from taxing the whites.

After a short announcement by the editor of THE TIMES, dinner was announced and for about an hour the crowd was at its ease to eat dinner.

An excellent barbecue prepared and served by Messrs. Sprouse was one of the features of the day, and a part of the programme that most of us would not have been willing to miss.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

In the absence of T. J. H. Smith, J. B. Lancaster, candidate for same office, was next called to the stand.

Lancaster said that there was no special issue in the race between himself and his opponents, as they all belonged to the same party, but he wanted to say that he was a true Reformer.

Mr. Tate finished his speech with a joke and sat down amidst the hurrah of his friends.

Preamble and Resolutions.

Adopted by Mount Taber Alliance No. 309, at a call meeting July 20, 1894, upon the death of J. H. SAVAGE.

At the organization of Mount Taber Alliance in 1890 Bro. J. H. Savage was elected President, and his zeal for the order and the sympathy for his fellow citizens gained the confidence of all the brethren, and he was held in that position until his health gave way, and on the 9th day of July God called his spirit up higher, to leave a wife and 5 children and all that know him to mourn his departure, but we have that sweet assurance that our loss is his eternal gain.

He joined the Presbyterian church when he was young, and he served as a ruling elder and a superintendent of the Sunday School in his church, discharging every duty imposed upon him, to the satisfaction of his brethren and friends, with always an eye single to the glory of God. He was a wise leader, a safe counselor, a true citizen and a model Christian gentleman. It is therefore—

Resolved, That this Alliance bow with humble submission to the will of God, while we deeply mourn the loss of our brother we do feel thankful to God for the life he has lived among us.

And that we tender our heartfelt sympathies and prayers to the bereaved wife and children, and admonish his sons to imitate the Christ-like example that their father set before them, and trust that the loss they have sustained will work out for their eternal good.

3rd. That a page in our minute book be inscribed to his memory, and that these resolutions be spread on the minute book of this Alliance and a copy be sent to the family and that they be published in THE UNION TIMES.

W. S. VAUGHAN, } Com.
F. M. ADAMS, }
G. C. HARRIS, }

Campaign Meetings. Laurens, Saturday, July 28. Union, Tuesday, July 31. Spartanburg, Wednesday, August 1. Greenville, Thursday, August 2. Pickens, Friday, August 3. Oconee, Monday, August 6. Abbeville, Tuesday, August 7. Anderson, Wednesday, August 8.

PURCELL has some nice Striped Apronette at 8c. a yard. Regular price is 15c. a yard.

List of Letters. Remaining in the Postoffice at Union, for the week ending July 27, 1894. Mr. Jas. Rhoads. Mr. Nathan Lilleberg. Mr. J. L. Price. Rev. R. B. Hill.

Persons calling for the above letters will please say I have advertised, and will be required to pay one cent for their delivery. R. W. HARRIS, P. M.

WANTED. 10,000 lbs of WHEAT STRAW. BAILEY & MURPHY.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY, GREENVILLE, S. C. The next session will begin September 25, 1894. For catalogues or for information about the courses of study, Messrs. Halls, Private boarding, or other details, apply to the President.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION Merchants' & Planters' NATIONAL BANK OF UNION, SOUTH CAROLINA.

At Union, in the State of South Carolina, at the close of business, July 18th, 1894.

RESOURCES. Loans and discounts, $150,226 02. Overdrafts, secured and unsecured, 909 82. U. S. Bonds to secure circulation, 15,000 00. Banking-house, furniture and fixtures, 2,000 00. Due from National Banks (not cashed), 1,112 03. Reserve Agents, 9,210 71. Checks and other cash items, 78 55. Notes of other National Banks, 920 00. Fractional paper currency, nickel and cents, 106 18. LAWELL MONROE RESERVE IN BANK, viz:

Specie, 9,129 00. Redemption fund, 15,000 00. Treasury, 1 per cent of circulation, 675 00. Total, $189,367 34.

LIABILITIES. Capital stock paid in, $50,000 00. Surplus fund, 50,000 00. Undivided profits, less expenses, 6,586 84. And taxes paid, 15,000 00. Due to other National Banks, 231 66. Due to State Banks and Bankers, 238 29. Dividends unpaid, 42 00. Individual deposits subject to check, 58,673 00. Certified Checks, 22 55. Total, $189,367 34.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, COUNTY OF UNION, ss. I, GEORGE MUNRO, Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. GEORGE MUNRO, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 24th day of July, 1894. CHARLES BOLE, Notary Public. CORRETT—ATTEST. F. M. FARR, J. T. DORRANCE, T. C. DUNCAN, } Directors.

To the Reform Voters of Union County. PURSUANT to the plan adopted by the State Reform Executive Committee, the various Reform Clubs of this (Union) county shall meet on Saturday, August 11th, proximo, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of expressing their choice by ballot for Governor and Lieutenant Governor of this State, and to elect delegates to the County Convention which convenes at Union on August 14th, 1894.

Each club is entitled to one delegate or a large number at its option. No member shall participate in said election except such as participated for the Reform delegates in the August primary of 1892, and all others who will pledge themselves to abide by and support the ticket suggested by the State Reform Convention of 1894.

Each club shall provide managers for holding said election. The Chairman of the delegation of each club to the County Convention is required to make returns of said election to the county convention, to be held on the 14th of August, proximo. GEO. DUNCAN, J. S. WELSH, Secy. Chairman Reform Ex. Com.