AGRICULTURAL, &C.

[COMMUNICATED.]

MR. EDITOR: As a matter of interest to the farmers, it may not be inappropriate to relate a fact which was communicated by a worthy and reliable farmer of our District.

He says: "On seeing the advertisement of Dr. E. J. Oliveros, that one dollar's worth of strychnine baited out to crows, would be a saving to the farmer of twenty bushels of corn,' I was induced to try the experiment. Accord-nine and prepared it in the following manner: Fort Motte..........John Birchmore. Get some old vessel, something never more to be used, put in it one quart of corn, add a teaspoonful of strychnine, then pour upon it when it will be ready to be put about the field. He goes on to state that "in thirty-six hours after putting out the bait, quantities of dead crows, black birds and sundry other kinds could be seen on his soil, and scavenger buzzards could be seen in numbers feasting themselves on their carcasses." He has concluded that this one dollar expended, has saved him at least ten bushels of corn. If you think this worthy of publicity, you have the privilege of INCOGNITO.

[We learn from a gentleman who has tried the above, that his corn fields were almost destroyed by black birds, until he adopted this remedy. In two days he counted 46 dead ones in his fields, and he estimates, he has saved by its use; five acres of corn.-ED. O.

Circular to Land Owners.

So. Ca. BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION,

Charleston, 5th April, 1867. To the Land-owners in South Carolina:

GENTLEMEN :- I take the liberty to appeal to your patriotism in behalf of the recently Jones, O. E. Johnson, Haidy. enacted-measures of immigration, at least to the patriotism of those among you who entertain the opinion that an increase of population, in- Lesser, L. B. dustry and capital, will be beneficial to the State.

It is well known that European immigration McKay, E. J. Millhouse, J. is now mostly flowing into the West, where Maneal, Peter (colored). cheap lands and many facilities and other in-Nelson, Miss Mary. ducements are offered. In the new States, public lands are yet to be had at a nominal Peal, Thos. outlay, and a stranger going there need not for 2 cents. a moment be at a loss where to locate, thousands of places being always for sale and regishis selection. With us it is different. In this market, suitable for PRESENTS for all occa-Alti. 1 there may perhaps be thousands of sions, call at places r sale in South Carolina, no one can feb 23 vertised and registered in some well known and accessible locality. For this the Bureau of EZEKIEL Immigration has partly been established. Without any charge whatever to the land-HAVE NOW IN STORE owner, his lands that he can spare for sale, will know where to find them unless they are ad-be registered and advertised in the best markets of the world. But how can this be done, unless you forward the information?-Have you no lands to spare? If you have, put on a fair and reasonable price, make the conditions of payment as liberal as you can, describe their location, capacities and advantages, and communicate with this Bureau. It may be said,

"we will sell a portion of lands reasonable and on fair enough terms, if a purchaser come."

But it must be remembered that no one can looking for lands, of which no one can inform country where no such delays and difficulties need be encountered? And then again the European immigrants that are looking for employment, laborers, servants, mechanics, etc., of every kind, where are they to find it? In your villages, on your plantations, do you want a blacksmith, wheelwright, carpenter, this Bureau will endeavor to supply you. But you should say so-how else am I to know?

It would never do to send such people trampling about the country without an object. Do you have any good positions for factories, which you are unwilling or unable to develop yourselves, why should you not inform this Bureau:

therefore state their facilities and advantages, their probable prospect of success, and the terms of lease or sale? Do you have valuable mineral lands that you cannot realize for the want of capital, why not enable me to endeavor to do it for you? It will cost you nothing.

I would respectfully but earnestly urge that this matter receive a prompt consideration. If there are a few men in every district willing to spend a few hours for the general good, let them meet at a convenient place, let them gather such information as they can, and then inform this Bureau what is wanted for their neighborhood and what can be done there to further the intentions of the law; let them say what laborers, servants, mechanics, etc., are wanted or could find employment, and let them fix upon a current rate of reasonable wages for their district; let them endeavor also to obtain information of such tracts of lands, as might be had for lease or sale, describe their quality and value, and whatever else they may deem of importance. I most respectfully, therefore, solicit the co-operation of all public spirited men, more especially of the members of the Legislature and the editors of public journals. Under the firm conviction that immigration is one of the most vital necessities of the State, and a sure means by which a portion of our former prosperity may be soonest restored, I even take the liberty respectfully to solicit the honorable the Judges, to bring this matter to the attention of the public in their charges to the Grand Juries on Post Offices in Orangeburg District.
