AGRICULTURAL, & C.

[From the Carolina Spartan.] Large Yield of Wheat.

MR. EDITOR—I have just got three bushels and a half wheat off 4320 feet of land, i. e. not quite a tenth of an acre, which is 43,560. I think at least half a bushel wasted, eaten by chickens and rats. But what I actually got was at the rate of 35 bushels, 1 peck and 1 1/4 quarts.

I measured 9 feet square, making 81 square feet, and counted 340 bunches of wheat, not quite two bunches to the square foot. In many places there are 3, 4 or 5 feet square, without any wheat at all. If regularly distributed, it would have borne at least three times as many bunches, five to the square foot, without at all diminishing the number or size of the heads. This would make nearly 100 bushels per acre. I sowed about a pint of seed, so much weevil-eaten, that scarcely more than half of it came up.

I put guano on about two-thirds of it, at the rate of about 100 pounds to the acre. This portion was nearly double as good as where the guano was not put. The land is very poor, and had nothing but a very small quantity of manure the previous spring, and had borne a moderate crop of sweet potatoes.

The seed was, in part, selected heads. I intend, should my life be spared, more thoroughly to try the experiment of selection on the next crop. W. B. CARSON.

Reidville, Spartanburg, S. C.

Clover.

Our neighbor, Dr. J. S. Hamilton gives us the following as his experience with clover, on his plantation in Columbia co., Ga., 8 miles from Thompson. On a red stiff soil, originally poor, but which had been cow-penned and made rich for barley-patches, a lot of exactly one acre was plowed and prepared thoroughly, then sown with clover, in November, 1865—October would have been better; no other seed was sown. In the early summer of 1866, it became high enough to mow; but acting on the advice of H. Hull, Jr., the first crop was left to fall upon the ground, and die to the roots. In October last, the Doctor found another growth some 18 inches high. This was pastured off by stock, and sheep were kept on the patch through the winter until March 1st.

All stock was then taken off, the weeds pulled, and on the 1st of May the clover was cut and cured for hay. It was only partially cured, when, from the threatening state of the weather, it was hauled in and spread under the gin house and other farm buildings. On that clover patch, 16 head of mules and horses were fed 45 days as much as they would eat, and Doctor H. says no food was ever given stock, that was consumed with more avidity. No other rough food was given, and the stock improved all the while they were upon it. He says it saved him daily the purchase of 160 lbs Northern hay—10 lbs. for each animal—or 7,300 lbs., which would have cost him 3 1/2 cents per pound, or $252.00 for that acre. Now that is a large crop, but it is no more forage than Mr. Hull made in his best clover in 1864; and Rev. Dr. Henderson's little patch, two blocks from where we write, has done this year about as well, and the second crop is now in general 2 1/2 feet high. Dr. Hamilton says that by preparing a half dozen acres for clover, he will not need to pull fodder.

[Southern Cultivator.] TREATMENT OF ITCH.—By a mixture of olive oil (1 part) and storax (4 parts) is highly spoken of by a Russian practitioner. The same mixture is also useful against morpions and other vermin, while petrolcum and even balsam of Peru were of insignificant value.

HUMOROUS.

Tim Niggins After His Honeymoon.

Seems to me things have changed somewhat! Seems to me so—but me if it don't. I've been married now six months now, and the fact is, Susan showed the least of the more when I thought she had; in fact to speak the right down truth, she's knocked things about generally for the last two months, and kicked up the old boy in particular! She's slung the cat through the window by the tail, and would have thrown me out of the—by the heels, if I hadn't walked out in a fast run.

She's got cross as four sticks, and says she'll use half a dozen on my back if I don't quit smoking in the house.

And she threatened to throw the bootjack down my throat last night because I spit in the fire. If she'd done that, I suppose I'd have had the colic or bootjack cramp.

"Timothy Niggins," says I, to myself, says I, "you have gone and done it, you've put your foot in it, and you have got to put up with the consequences, you have. Come what will, you can't get out of it, you can't."

A girl loses her beauty mighty quick after she gets to be Mrs. Susan Sunflower was pretty as venus; but just as soon as I married her, her skin turned yellow, her eyes lost their beauty, her hair got thin, and she got to be just the shape of an ail cask—she has, by jingo!

And Oh! what a temper she has got—Never knowed her to be mad before I married her; never knew her to offer to throw the stove or chair down anybody's throat; no, never until she was Mrs. Niggins!—Aunt says she'll come all right after awhile; but I don't see why she can't be all right now, I don't; If she don't improve soon, the Lord help me!

"Just you spit in that fire again," says she to me yesterday; "jist do it again, and I'll throw this stick of wood down your throat! What did I marry you for? To run round after you and make up the fire after you spit it out? You tormenting beast? Did I marry you to slave and work for you while you smoke and chaw, and chaw and smoke, and spit in the fire? There's the pigs I had to feed too; there's them chickens I had to feed too; there's Ben Dyke's hog got in the garden and dug up my seed-beets, and you never saw it; there's that old rooster scratched up my onion bed and you never saw it; And you never see nothing you ought to see, and see everything you oughtn't to see! There's Ann Buster who was over here yesterday, I saw you wink at her, Tim Niggins! Don't say you didn't! I saw you—I say I saw you! I—"

Very Dutch.

Two old Dutch neighbors in Pennsylvania were proverbially steady, stupid and honest, and had carried on their transactions with their neighbors and each other for years, on the plan of ready pay, in cash or barter. But at last hard times came, and they were forced to resort to keeping accounts.

One day they met for settlement, and after very hard labor and arguing, it was apparent that Hans owed Yaw kub twenty dollars.

"Well, Yaw kub, how must we settle him now? I've got no monish."

"Yaw, yaw; never mind dat, we can settle him mit a notish."

"Well, then, you writes de notish."

"Dat ish not right," said Yaw kub; "you owes me de monish; you writes de notish, I sign him, dat ish the way."

So Hans set about and produced the following: "Twestmoland Kounty, I owish Yaw kub twenty dollars for settle up when I lash no money to pay him

(Signed) YAW KUB."

Then arose an unforeseen difficulty, which of the two ought to keep the note.

It was finally decided that Hans ought to keep it, for how else would he know how much to pay Yaw kub?

In due time, when Hans, the debtor, got the money, he paid up, and this raised another puzzling question, and ended in the conclusion that Yaw kub must take the note in his keeping, so that he would know that Hans had paid the money.

TO THE Benevolent and Patriotic.

The undersigned beg leave respectfully to recommend to your consideration, Lieut. Monroe H. Harman, Co. K. 20th So. Ca. Vols., Kershaw's Brigade. Lieut. Harman is from Lexington village, and early in 1861 entered the service as a private in Co. O, 1st So. Ca. Vols., commanded by Colonel Gregg, in Bonham's Brigade. He went to Virginia and there remained until his regiment disbanded by the expiration of its term of service.

Shortly after he again volunteered, and was Orderly Sergeant of Co. K, 20th So. Ca. Vols., and upon its re-organization was elected 2nd Lieut., and some time after was promoted to 1st Lieut. of the same company. From the time he entered the service, he was always prompt and energetic in the discharge of his duties, and during the whole period, from that time to the present, was never in a Hospital but a few days, and never absent from his command until the disastrous battle of the 19th of October, 1861, in the Valley of Virginia, when he was in command of his company, at which time he was wounded and taken prisoner, and was retained by the enemy until about the 10th of February last, when he was paroled and arrived at his home on the 20th March, but in a condition which unfit him for any further service to the Country, and inability to assist himself. His wound was through the right eye, taking it out entirely, and the lodgment of the ball under the left eye deprives him of sight. The little he had had been spent in the service of his country and destroyed by the enemy, his little property consisting of a house and lot in the village of Lexington which gave shelter to his aged father and mother, and which was burned by Sherman's army in their passage through this District, so that he and they are not only deprived of clothing or food, but are left without even a shelter. It is hoped and believed that a grateful people will not suffer such a soldier to want the common necessities of life. His neighbors would gladly come to his assistance, but by the invasion of the enemy have been deprived of their means, hence this appeal.

Most respectfully submitted, by F. S. Lewis, State Senator, Lexington District; John H. Combs, Representative; Wm. Fort, Representative; S. P. Wingard, Clerk of the Court; A. E. Heford, Ordinary; Henry A. Meetez, Com. in Equity, L. D.; W. Berly, pastor of St. Stephens; Rev. H. A. Smith, local minister; G. A. Fink, Editor Lexington Flag.

LOCUST GROVE, May 8th, 1865. We have this day carefully examined Lieut. M. H. Harman, and find him totally incapacitated for any business whatever. His devotion to the South, patriotism and untiring zeal, justly entitle him to the worthy consideration of a grateful people.

THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. THIRTIETH VOLUME. 1867.

THIS WELL KNOWN RELIGIOUS FAMILY newspaper, commenced its THIRTIETH VOLUME in January 1867, under the editorial control of the REV. E. H. MYERS, D. D., who has conducted it for the past twelve years.

Devoted to Religion and the interests of the Church of Christ—an organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in the Southern States—of high literary character—having among its contributors and correspondents many of the most eminent divines in that Church, and giving due attention to every question of public importance, to facts in Science and Art, to the News, to the Markets, etc., etc., we deem it the very paper for the Family, where but one paper is taken, and worthy a place with the best, where several are taken.

Besides, it is emphatically the paper for the poor man, (and such we all are now) for it is cheaper, style and size considered, than any paper in the Southern States.

As a medium of extensive country advertising, it is the best paper in the South East, having a wide range of circulation, and a large list of subscribers in South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

Any person sending $50 00, will be entitled to a copy of the paper for one year, for this service.

Those wishing to subscribe may remit by mail, or apply to the nearest itinerant preacher of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, all of whom are Agents for the paper.
