The Crops

We are informed by one of the most reliable planters near the head of Four Holes Swamp, that the army worm has made its appearance in the Cotton Crop in his neighborhood, and is inflicting serious injury on the late growing Bolls. The older cotton will not be so materially affected by them, but their presence even at this late stage of the season will prodace great damage on the crop in general. The corn in the same section is very good; and the rice is going ahead of all calculations.

Our impression of the crops of the District at large may be summed up as follows, viz:

THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA. In the Matter of the Dead Body of Meter Davis, deceased;

Evidence taken this tenth day of August A. D., 1867, before Charles B. Glover, Erg., Magistrate, acting as Coroner for Orangeburg District, at Orangeburg in the said State.

MATTHUS ALBRECHT.-Last night, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, Lieut. Davis ealled at deponent's house, and stated that his The first bale of New Cotton was brought to his Town on Saturday last 14th inst by this Town on Saturday last, 14th inst., by house ne went into the bed institute the deceased senseless, and about every minute Mr. Fletchen Livingston. It was classed or two the color of her face changed, after which she would turn pale, and had a cold clammy appearance; the fingers about the nails would turn blue. These changes were accompanied by spasms, which lasted only a short time. Her head was very het, and there was a little foam from her mouth. She had been sick from about ten o'clock same night of her decease. Was not present when she died.

MR3. GETHA ALBRECHT .- Saw the deceased about 74 P. M., August 9th, deceased complained of having fever, but was up at the time preparing her husband's supper. Did not hear her say she had taken any medicine that day. Was with her about I hour. Has known deceased since she moved here, and has not heard her complain excepting of fever until last night. Does not recollect whether she complained of any pain or not.

LIEUT. JOHN DAVIS .- Yesterday upon his return from his office, deceased told him she was complaining of chill and fever. This was about half-past five. Deceased said, "I wish I could break this chill and fever." Deponent recommended that she take some pills which had been suggested to deponent. Deceased took a cup of tea and nursed her child whilst deponent ate his supper. After supper his wife retired with her child. Deceased suggested that deponent should give her three pills. The prescription was recommended by a Mr. Getting of Charleston. Prescription was put up at Mr. Eckel's Drug Store, by a young man whose name deponent does not know. The copy of the prescription which deponent had received, is in possession of Drs. was put up at Dr. Eckel's establishment. pills had only been used on this occasion. No other medicine was used except the above which was administered about half-past eight. Noticed no sickness. About ten minutes after she took the pills, decersed complained a great deal of languidness and heaviness. Was absent about fifteen minutes, when deceased told Coonent that she felt better except a headache. About half-past nine, deceased complained of seeing strange things before her eyes. Both fell as ep. About half-past twelve o'clock was aroused by the child erying. Deponent then called deceased and told her that the child was awake, and sin had better nurse it. Tried to arouse her a second time and third time, both by calling and shak ing ker; finding himself unanswered, his attention was called to her peculiar breathing, which alarmed so much that he sought assistance from his neighbor Mr. Albrecht. Before going for Mr. Albrecht, took a light and no-

A .- That a patient who was completely narcotized by an overwhelming dose of opium, or any of its preparations, would be very much in condition of one who had had an attack of apoplexy which was about to terminate fatally. Would not consider the deceased more liable to apoplexy than nine-tenths of women.

Q .- If, when you saw deceased at half-past two o'clock, without any previous history of the case to guide you in an opinion, would you have said she had an attack of apoplexy, or taken an over dose of morphine?

A .- I would have said that she had had an attack of apoplexy, or had taken some powerful narcotic poison.

Dr. A. S. Salley being reproduced, says; Q .- Could you give an opinion as to what quantity of morphine would produce death in person who was healthy?

A .- I cannot say. Q .- Suppose the analysis to be correct, could amount of morphine found in the three pills taken have produced death?

Q .- If the prescription had been properly prepared, could there have been any injurious effect produced by the pills?

A .- It would searcely have been sufficient o produce rest or sleep. Q.—From her appearance when you first saw her, would you have ascribed it to an overdose of morphine?

Q .- In putting up a prescription, is it not possible that some pills would contain more morphine than others? A.-It is possible where the mass has been carelessly made. Q .- What is your opinion of the analysis? A .- My opinion is predicated on what I saw of the case, and the history of the case as obtained from Mr. Davis, who was present from the time she took those pills. This analysis is inaccurate and unsatisfactory. SOUTH CAROLINA .- ORANGEBURG DISTRICT.
