We are indebted to Capt. A. G. SALLEY for a fine specimen of the execution of his Rice Beater, in a present of superior Rice, for which he will please accept our thanks. We commend his advertisement to the notice of our

Southern Clothing Establishment.

With pleasure we invite attention to the advertisement of Fall and Winter Stocks in store at the long-established Clothing House of Mr. WM. MATTHERSEN, No. 219, King Street, Charleston, S. C. The cool weather which we are now experiencing is prementery of the rapid approach of whater and we must fortify ourselves against his piercing blasts by investing our bodies in warm and comfortable apparel. At Mr. M's. this can be procured at the most reasonable prices and of every quality and style. If you visit the City, call at his Establishment. He, or Captain McTuneous well known to many who fought the battles of the "so-called" will be glad to serve and suit you.

The Hilber's Louise.

As during the present season there w... bably be a considerable travel between this District and our metropolis and as many- may prefer while in the city to be domiciled away from the bustle and excitement which characterize hotels we invite attention to the Card of the above popular House which we publish elsewhere. We have ourselves been guests of .Mrs. HILBERS and can recommend her as a model hostess and her establishment as one which will compare favorably with any in the State. Situated on King-Street near the busimess heart of the City and within fifty yards of the City Railway, the elegibility also of its location is an additional recommendation. We iinvite our traveling readers to partake of its lhospitalities, assured that they will there meet with every attention and be surrounded by Glover, Humpry. (every comfort.
