The Orangeburg Hotel. At the courteous request of Mr. WILLIAMson, the proprietor of the above house, we have been through the establishment and noted the great improvements he is making in the premises. The house has undergone a thorough refitting, and we are confident will be conducted in a style which will challenge comparison with any other Hotel in the interior for comfort and good fare. Mr. WILLIAMSON'S rates are quite reasonable, and we bespeak for him from the people of Orangeburg a liberal sup-

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Commissioner in Equity of Sales for January, 1368.

The winter season is on us, and wood is high. Persons who have to buy wood, and would be economical in its use, would do well to call on our enterprising townsman Mr. WM. WILLCOCK and get one of those first-class Cooking or Heating Stoves, as they not only save wood but labor, and in these days of freedom, when it is very hard to keep a servant, they are more especially needed, as the lady of the house with one of these stoves can attend to her own cooking with the greatest case. Mr. WILLCOCK warrants every stove purchased and from him furnishes the necessary utensils. See his advertisement in this issue and give
