

AVANT YE CARPET BAGGERS!

CHUCK YOUR BAGGAGE, PLUNDERERS—AND MOVE ON. The New York Journal of Commerce, one of the most moderate of American papers, is really gleeful over the prospect of a carpet-bag Waterloo. It thinks North Carolina has the honor of giving Carpet-Baggers the first grand warning of the wrath to come, so far as their distinctive political career in the South is concerned. Here this: "The indignation, if not the blood, of the South is now up, and the carpet-bagger hereafter will have to move on with the Wandering Jew. That man must be a thorough going partisan who is not glad to throw a shovel of earth up in the political coffin of the South during his brief existence there. He took nothing there but his carpet-bag with its paper contents as aforesaid, his hate of the South and his insatiable ambition. He had no interest in Southern industry or Southern development. He was a messenger of war, and not of peace; or was out of the disturbances which he spared no effort to foment, and for which he always had at hand the remedy of powder and cold steel, that he expected to profit. His vote at the last session of Congress was generally to be found on the bad side of all political and financial questions. For jobs he has the fondness of a mouse for cheese, and was usually detected burrowing away the centre of every rich contract of franchise. Such is the species carpet-bagger—the worst of all the genus politician. We congratulate the South and the country that the fiat of a plunderer and indignant people is about to stamp the political life out of the whole odious race."

The National Taxes.

The following statement of the provisions of the law of July 11th, in regard to sources of revenue, is compiled from official sources, and should be kept for reference: Special taxes, including those on bankers, will cease May 1, 1871, excepting those connected with fermented liquors, spirits and tobacco. Taxes on gross receipts will cease October 1, 1870. Taxes on sales will cease October 1, 1870, except those on sales of tobacco, sports, wines, and those paid by stamps. Taxes on income including salaries will be 2 1/2 per cent. on incomes over $2,000, instead of 5 per cent. on incomes over $1,000. Taxes on legacies will cease October 1, 1870. Taxes on passports will cease October 1, 1870. The use of stamps will cease October 1, 1870, for promissory notes for less than $100, for receipts, and for canned and preserved fish. The receipts from these sources in the fiscal year 1870 were estimated at $83,016,630. The reductions have been officially estimated at $55,000,000.

The Progress of German Unity.

The battle of Sadowa, 1866, made Prussia mistress of North Germany and gave birth to the Northern Confederation. It did more—it taught the South German States the propriety, if not necessity of courting the friendly alliance of the North. No sooner was the treaty of peace signed between Austria and Prussia than the fact was made public through the annoyance of the Emperor Napoleon, that Prussia and the Northern Confederation had entered into a military alliance offensive and defensive, with Bavaria and Wurtemberg and Baden. A military alliance with these South German States was not all that Bismarck and the German unionists who need with him wanted. More, however, it was impossible for the present to obtain. Sedan has now accomplished what Sadowa left undone. Baden, it was always known, was impatient for a closer union with the North. There were doubts Wurtemberg and Bavaria. It appears that Bavaria and Wurtemberg have made an end of those doubts by a formal vote in favor of confederation with the North. If this be correct Germany is now more a unit than she has ever been in all her previous history and Count Bismarck will be gloriously crowned the edifice. In all future time Bismarck will be spoken of as the most daring and the most successful of the statesman of the nineteenth century. His name will live forever.—N. Y. Herald.

The Boston Traveller.

The Boston Traveller, welcoming a little rain which fell there the other day, remarks: It is hard to make a citizen of Boston appreciate the terrible dryness which has been experienced for many weeks by large sections of New England. It requires sight to realize fully that the pastures, and even the fields to a great extent, have been as brown as in December, and that cattle, for weeks, have been fed at barns, as in midwinter, and brooks and streams, and ponds, and springs have been long exhausted except in rare cases and that it has been necessary for our farmers to economize in the use of water as for a ship's company when on allowance. And yet this has actually been the condition of large sections of New England for weeks past. The state of the country was not only distressing, but really alarming; for in case of fire the inhabitants were utterly defenceless.

CONDEMNED BY FACTS.

The Radicals in Congress having abolished, at the last session, the Department of the Interior, one of the most important in the government, and also the office of Assistant Treasurer of the United States, without knowing it, it is time they were driven out of the capitol and men who know what they are about put in their places.

Miss Nancy and the Irishman.

I have said, that the custom of the attendance of Miss Nancy and the oxen had been peaceable; but on one occasion it came near being disturbed from a source that seems to have been a disturber of all thrones. A late importation from the Green Isle, finding his way to Elberton, and Miss Nancy's cake cart brought a mug of cider, but after it was drawn, and before paid for, concluded he would swap it for a ginger-cake; to which she consented and poured the cider back in the barrel. Pat having eaten his cake, started off, when he was called back by the vigilant Nancy and reminded that he owed her for purchase. "Not for the cake!" exclaimed Pat, "Didst I swap ye the mug of cider for it? and now ye want pay too." "But" said Miss Nancy, "ye didn't pay for the cider, is it? Bead ye poured it back into your barrel where it now is. None of yer tricks ye Jezebel; none of your shabby tricks to cheat an honest farmer out of his little penny. Miss-terse Rumsey, ye got yer cider in yer barrel which I swapped for yer cake, and now to talk of pay for yer cake!" and off he turned indignantly. Though Miss Nancy could not, in her confusion, unravel Pat's false logic she could see so far as to know that whereas she had eighteen cakes, she now had but seven-teen, and no money for the missing one. She therefore sued Pat, with the hope that the justice, learned in the law, could explain it. When the suit came on for trial, Pat appeared, and arguing the case with the same earnestness and subtlety that he had at the cart, confused the court as much as it had Miss Nancy; but all unconsciously to the confident justice who tried it. In giving his opinion, the latter said the case was very plain though neither of the parties seemed to understand it and pronounced his judgement that Pat should buy and for another cake and swap it back for a mug of cider, to please the plaintiff who seemed so dissatisfied with her former trade; and she should let Pat drink his cider and have the worth of his money—and she have the money for her cake and the worth of her cider in the cake given back which would make them even.

Germany Restless.

The New York Herald correspondent at Berlin, writing under date of the 26 inst., reports as follows: "The excitement and first flush of victory have subsided here and in all parts of Germany generally. It would be an error for any one to believe that the enthusiasm of the war is of the same intensity that characterized it a fortnight ago. An earnest wish is expressed everywhere that the war might end, and the belief is widespread that it has lasted too long already. The cause of these anti war sentiments I do not know and do not pretend to explain, although it is undoubtedly the case that the under current of public feeling indicates a growing sympathy for liberal government of France. In addition, the recent imprisonment of Herr Jacoby, the liberal leader, and other staunch democrats and liberals do not fail to impress the masses unfavorably. The arbitrary course of the German authorities awakens apprehension that although the most triumphant results seem certain to accrue from the war no political benefits will be derived therefrom—none of that extension of popular liberty which has been promised so often and never granted. Last, though not least, it is evident that no matter how the war ends there will be no material reduction of the burdens which have been laid upon the people by this bloody strife.

Some years ago there resided in one of the principal towns of Maine a butcher, who, though illiterate, was not without wit.

During one of his diurnal rounds with his cart he stopped at Judge B's, who asked "What have you to-day, Thomas?" "Mutton, Judge." "How much a pound?" "Two cents and a half. Have some?" "Two cents and a half a pound?" replied the Judge, in affected astonishment. "I'll live on faith before I'll pay two cents and a half a pound for mutton!" The butcher-man paused a moment, and holding out his hand, replied, "Judge, you'll have to diet on repentance some time before you can live upon faith!"

It is no sin not to be well up in the classics.

Liakim Dutton was not. But he loved the American fair. In fact he loved two of them. Those two felt emotions of love toward Liakim. And they quarreled about him like two Kilkenny passies. Consequence was, all three were brought into court, Liakim being the cause of the struggle was thus addressed by his Honor: "And so those women were fighting about you?" "I believe so, Sir." "You are a sort of Adonis, then?" "Sir?" inquired Liakim, his eyes protruding, and a shade of pallor creeping into his face. "You are an Adonis," the Court roared.

"Oh no, Sir—never as bad as that; but I've been in the penitentiary for stealing horses."

GERMAN EXPENSES.

The Germans thus figure up the cost of the war on their side: Cost of the military action of Germany, 1,250 millions of francs; direct losses, 1,250 millions; indirect losses, 2,250 millions; war compensation for the reconquered territory, 1,500 millions; and Leithings, especially Strasburg, 200 millions. Total, 4,930 millions of francs.

TO PHYSICIANS.

Preparation of Compound Extract Buchu. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBBERS, JUNIPER BERRIES. Mode of Preparation.—Buchu, in various quantities, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Buchu extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use. Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits a fragrance; the action of a fume destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation, upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopoea, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation.

With a feeling of confidence, I am, very respectfully, H. T. HELMBOLD, Chemist and Druggist, of 16 Years' Experience.

ROSADALIS.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HEALTH RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you most valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says: "I take pleasure in commending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alternative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of second syphilis, in which the patient professed himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula which your Rosadalis is made of, and find it excellent compound of alternative ingredients."

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleanser of the Blood, I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro, Tenn., says: "I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and an entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sores."

Benjamin Bechtel, of Lima, Ohio, writes, "I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption upon my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure."

Rosadalis is sold by all druggists. Laboratory, 61 Exchange Place, Baltimore, Md. CLEMENS, Proprietor, may 19-1y

Gentle—I have before me your esteemed letter of the 14th inst., containing various documents relative to your "German Bitters." After a careful examination I must confess that your Bitters is really what you represent them to be, an old German recipe of Dr. Mitchell, of Berlin, Prussia. It will no doubt be excellent for dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, and is a good preventive of cholera and fever. I find it to be the most delightful and pleasant stomachic.

I remain, yours truly, (Signed) A. F. WITHERS, KIRKLAND & MILES, GA, March 22, 1870. Messrs. Jacob Lippman & Bro., Druggists Savannah, Ga.

Gentle—I have introduced your Great German Bitters here to my customers and friends, and find better sales for it than any I have ever kept before. Those who have tried it approve of it very highly, and I do not hesitate in saying that it is far superior in value to any other Bitters now in use. Yours, respectfully, (Signed) W.
