

The Final Scenes in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A final effort to confirm Blanchard Postmaster of New Orleans failed by a decided majority.

PASSAGE OF THE KUKLUX BILL. The Senate adopted the kuklux conference report—36 to 13—Messrs. Robertson and Hill voting nay.

The Senate adopted a resolution to adjourn sine die at 2 o'clock. In stating the concessions in the kuklux bill, Mr. Sherman said not a man would be convicted for a dollar of damage obtained under it.

The only virtue left in the bill was the employment of United States forces when necessary. Mr. Thurman in opposing the juror test-oath clause in the bill, said the election of jurors would depend upon the judge and the district attorney.

ITS ADOPTION BY THE HOUSE. The House adopted the conference kuklux bill—93 to 74—a strict party vote.

It also concurred in the resolution to adjourn at 2 o'clock to-day.

[SECOND DISPATCH.] Both Houses adjourned at 2 o'clock and a proclamation has been issued calling an extra session of the Senate to adjourn at 10 o'clock.

In the House Butler made a "personal explanation," defending himself from various charges, and attacking Senator Davis, of Kentucky, and Mr. Farnsworth, of Illinois.

Mr. Farnsworth replied, closing his speech with the remark that he could convict the gentleman from Massachusetts of embezzlement and perjury before any court in the country.

Mr. Beck, of Kentucky, replied in behalf of Senator Davis, impeaching the truthfulness and personal courage of Butler.

THE ALTERATIONS IN THE KUKLUX BILL AS PASSED.

The following is the substitute that was adopted for Sherman's amendment, and which is in the bill as passed:

"That any person or persons having knowledge that any wrongs conspired to be done and mentioned in the second section of this act are about to be committed, and having the power to prevent or aid in preventing the same, who shall neglect or refuse to do so, and such wrong or refusal shall be liable to the person injured, or his legal representative, for all damages caused by any such wrongful act, which such first-named person or persons by reasonable diligence could have prevented; and such damages may be recovered in an action on the case in the proper circuit court of the United States; and any number of persons guilty of such wrongful neglect or refusal may be joined as defendants in such action provided that such action shall be commenced within one year after such cause of action shall have accrued. And if the death of any person shall be caused by any such wrongful act and neglect, the legal representative of such deceased person shall have such action therefor, and may recover, not exceeding $5,000, damages therein for the benefit of the widow of such deceased person, if any there be, or, if no widow, then for the benefit of the next of kin of such deceased person."

The deficiency appropriation bill, passed to-day, enables the Census Bureau to settle with the census marshals, including 50 per cent. in excess.

MR. BECK'S ANSWER TO BUTLER. Mr. Beck got leave to reply to Butler in defence of the Senator of Kentucky, who had been so foully denounced by him. That Senator and that member had had a controversy on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. Butler (interrupting): Oh, no; I had no controversy with him. Mr. Beck: The Senator denounced the member, on the floor of the Senate, as a "d-d scoundrel," and I would characterize that as a controversy. [Laughter.] They had a quarrel on the floor of the Senate. It ought to have ended there, and would have ended there, but for the fact that the member from Massachusetts saw fit to come on the floor of the House and use language grossly offensive to the Senator from Kentucky, and it was after that that the Senator had pronounced the speech which had been quoted by the member from Massachusetts. If he had a personal explanation to make he should have made it at once, but he had waited till last Tuesday, the day that Congress was to adjourn, and then asked leave to make it, having sent printed lists of it to Boston and to the New York Herald, knowing that the Senator would have left the city before he could have seen it in print. Therefore I objected because it had been held up so long, and not because I did not want to give the gentlemen a chance of repitiation.

Mr. Butler (interrupting): The reason given by the gentleman was that he would not let me speak so long as the indictment against his State was continued.

Mr. Beck: If I had had an opportunity to reply to that indictment, I would have done it in a way that I hope would have been worthy of the State. When the gentleman was trying to get leave to-day, I asked him whether he would assail the Senator from Kentucky, and he replied that he would not do so. That statement Democrat after Democrat voted to give him the privilege. I did not believe what he said, and therefore voted against it. [Laughter.]

When the member rises and announces that the Senator from Kentucky has been guilty of falsehood I deny it. I roll it back, and say that the character of that Senator is as good as that of any man upon earth. He never did willfully tell a lie, and no man ever before accused him of it. When the member said that the Senator was shielded by his age, and that he did not seek the proper redress, I have only to say that while my Senator is neither a bully nor a blackguard the member can get any redress from him that he seeks out-side of this hall or anywhere else. [Laughter.] I do not believe that it lies in the mouth of the member from Massachusetts to talk about my Senator being shielded by his age or not seeking proper redress. I have witnessed scenes with that member which satisfied me that he would not seek the redress to which he alludes. [Laughter.] He does not forget that I have, in the presence of fifteen members of the House, seen the member from Illinois (Farnsworth) put his fist in the face of the member from Massachusetts, and denounce him in every way that one man could denounce another until had today to the other members of the committee standing by that I did not think there was any white man that would take it without a fight, and the decent negroes in my State would fight over it. [Uproarious laughter.] Mr. Farnsworth (decisively): It was on account of his extreme age, perhaps.

Mr. Butler (pointing to Farnsworth): He is not a white man.

Mr. Edridge. Now is the proper time to call in the chaplain. [Continued laughter.]

Mr. Cox: The coroner should be also sent for.

THE ADDRESS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMEN TO THE PEOPLE.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—"The Address of the Democratic Congressmen to the People of the Country," signed by 14 Senators and 95 members, is issued. It concludes:

"Every thing that malicious ingenuity could suggest has been done to irritate the people of the middle and southern States by gross and exaggerated charges of disorder and violence, which had their origin in the mischievous minds of political managers in the Senate and House of Representatives, and to which we regret to say the Executive has given his aid, and thus helped to influence the popular feeling. In all this course of hostile legislation and harsh re-ment no word of conciliation, of kind encouragement or fraternal fellowship has ever been spoken by the President or by Congress to the people of the southern States. They have been addressed only in the language of proscription. We earnestly entreat our fellow-citizens in all parts of the Union to spare no effort to maintain peace and order, to carefully protect the rights of every citizen, to preserve kindly relations among all men and to discountenance and discourage any violation of the rights of any portion of the people secured under the Constitution or any of its amendments."

In conclusion, we earnestly beg of you not to aid the present attempts of Radical partisans to stir up strife in the land, to renew the issues of war, or to obstruct the return of peace and prosperity to the southern States, because it is thus that they seek to divert the attention of the country from the corruption and extravagance in their administration of public affairs, and the dangerous and profligate attempt they are making towards the creation of a centralized military government.

ROSDALIS. THE GREAT AMERICAN HEALTH RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrophula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosdalis; send for our Rosdalis Guide to Health Book or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says: I take pleasure in recommending your Rosdalis as a very powerful alternative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine.

The other is a case of scrophula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosdalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alternative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosdalis in cases of Scrophula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleanser of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Mufreesboro, Tenn., says: I have used seven bottles of Rosdalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrophulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Boehl, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate complaint over my whole body a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosdalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosdalis is sold by all druggists. Laboratory, 61 Exchange Place, Baltimore. Drs. CLEMENTS & CO., may 10-ly Proprietors.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys is derived from its efficacy, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrophulous discharges, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrophulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrophulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrophulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and untoward foe, insidiously undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Ailments, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its fatal forms, either on the surface of the body, in the liver, or it shows its presence by nodules on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. In such cases, the system is generally and permanently diseased, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the scrophulous poison, should be careful to use this Sarsaparilla at length, care, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: St. Anthony's Fire, Boils, Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworms, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrophulous disease. Also in the treatment of all diseases, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Flit, Epilepsy, Neuritis, and all the other Scrophulous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.
