Both crops are clear of grass and weeds, showing clearly that the planters have not been idle. If there is anything to be regretted in regard to the sioners and managers of elections; to repeal cotton crop, it is that too much has been planted, in comparison with the amount of guaranteed railroad bonds; to repeal the act cereals, while the cotton crop has been highly manured with expensive commercial fertilizers. Should the price of the staple be low next fall, which is probable, in view of the European war, with a short supply of breadstuffs in the cotton States, the result may prove quite disastrous to our people.

A fracas occurred near this place, on last Saturday night, between Robert Stewart, collatter wounded the former in the leg with a about an hour in debating motions in opposi wound. Trial Justice Wm.
