DAILY NEWS. THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 12, 1865.

A New Cotton Press. The following, which we clip from the European Times of the 23d ult., may be of interest to many of our readers:

On the 19th, a public exhibition took place at the engine works of Messrs. Routledge & Ommann, Salford, of Aeschert's patent combined steam and hydraulic cotton press, with revolving boxes. In this new form of cotton press a combination of steam and hydraulic power is brought to bear upon the cotton to be compressed, in a simple but effective manner. The entire apparatus stands in a space 35 feet high, 14 feet long, and 12 feet broad, and consists of a hydraulic press and a usual forcing-box steam engine being placed above it, which gives motion to the whole. A second cotton box is placed in a position adjoining the first box, and is attached thereto with brackets, which revolve round one of the columns of the press and are supported by gun metal balls, thus reducing the friction to a saving point. The two boxes are of cast iron, strongly ribbed, and are placed interiorly to a perfectly true and smooth surface to avoid friction during the operation of pressing. The second box is thus outside the framing of the press, and is being filled with cotton during the process of pressing, and hooping the bale in the other box. As soon as that operation is completed the two boxes are swung round very easily by two men until the second takes the place of the first bale within the press apparatus, the operation being very similar to turning a locomotive on a railway turn-table. The application of the steam and hydraulic power is produced by the action of a steam cylinder, at the head of the press, moving a strong cross-head, to which are attached four hydraulic pumps, two large and two small ones, having the full stroke of the cylinder. The large pumps continue in operation until the cotton is compressed to within a few inches of its final point, after which the small pumps complete the operation of pressing a bale of Egyptian cotton of 400 pounds. The time taken to press and hoop a bale was four minutes, the usual time in hydraulic presses in Egypt being about fifteen minutes.

The advantages claimed for this press are the rapidity of the rise of ram, in consequence of the first few feet of the rise being made by steam only, after which, when greater pressure is required, the hydraulic power comes into force, the total rise only occupying about forty-five seconds, and the time for the fall of the ram is twenty-five seconds. Having two boxes, one is being filled at the time the bale in the other is being pressed and tied; on the completion of one bale the other box is easily moved under the press, in consequence of the boxes revolving on one of the columns of the press; the arrangement, in consequence of the quick rise and fall of the ram, and the construction of the revolving boxes; saving of freight, from the great density to which the cotton is pressed, viz: from 23 to 30 lbs. to the cubic foot, against about 11 lbs., as obtained by the ordinary hydraulic press in Egypt; the saving of the ordinary hydraulic press is estimated at one-fourth, in consequence of the arrangement of the working part of the press and pumps and steam power to work the press being combined in one machine.

CHIEF—WHITE LABOR.—The Macon Telegraph is of opinion that we can depend on white labor alone in rearing the great Southern staple. A large number of able-bodied negroes have gone North, or enlisted in the army, and a majority of the freedmen left us can not be relied on. It estimates the next crop at a million of bales at the outside, and does not see how this much can be made. The Telegraph is yet hopeful, holding that with industry, prudence and economy, the white population, through its own exertion and a proper use of well-disposed freedmen, will be enabled to realize more for its own support, and profit also, than heretofore.

REAL ESTATE IN CHICAGO.—The new assessment list of taxable real estate and personal property in Chicago, now in preparation by the city authorities, will show an increase of about $15,000,000 over last year.

CONSTITUTION WATER.—CONSTITUTION WATER, the only known remedy for Diabetes, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick Dust Deposit, and Mucous or Milky Discharges, Irritation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidney, Catarrh of the Bladder. The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered.

Persons, if conscious of any weakness, should take the CONSTITUTION WATER; whether broken down by excess, weak by nature; or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, reinvigorated and built up. Well may this celebrated remedy be called the MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the constitution itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Try it in these cases, and you will give your praise to CONSTITUTION WATER.

MALES OR FEMALES, are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? "Constitution Water" will relieve you like magic. For sale by all Druggists. Price $1.
