M ESSRS. HERRING & CO.:—GENTLEMEN:
Intrough the destruction of the American Museum has proved a scrious less to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage, that "H's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known Safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The Safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest or the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day, has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediato use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.

Truly yours,
