Union Meeting in Richmond.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The New York Herald's Richmond correspondence contains an account of a great Union meeting held in that city on Tuesday. Resolutions expressing indignation at the suspicions of Northern people, that former secessionists were not sincere in taking the oath of allegiance, professing the warmest attachment to the National Government, acquiescing in the result of the war, including the abolition of slavery, and pledging confidence and the greatest respect for President Johnson and Governor Pierpont.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—The steamer Golden City has arrived from Panama. She brings news from Honolulu up to July 29. Two cargoes of coolies had arrived for plantations.

KNOXVILLE, August 29.—A colored guard arrested a private of the Ninth Tennessee Cavalry here yesterday afternoon, for being intoxicated. The prisoner's companion desired the guard to release the prisoner, which being resented by the latter, an altercation ensued, which resulted in the white soldier being run through by the guard's bayonet and killed. A number of soldiers, both white and black, gathered about the place, and fears were entertained of a riot between the soldiery. The disorder was fortunately quelled without farther bloodshed.

FORT LARAMIE, August 25.—The Indians are all moving North with great rapidity.

SELMA, August 26.—Another large fire to-day. Over one hundred bales cotton destroyed in Pettibone's warehouse. Thought to be the work of an incendiary.

The Imperial feasts in Mexico, says correspondent, have been many and gorgeous. The diamonds worn were of an almost fabulous price. The Mexican ladies are celebrated for their jewels. It is nothing uncommon for a lady to own $20,000 worth of diamonds and pearls, and nowhere—not even in the courts of Europe—are such magnificent ones seen. The famous black pearls from Lower California are almost as expensive as diamonds and as beautiful as opals. The Empress tries to wear the Mexican mantilla, which it requires Spanish blood to carry well, and is said to carry it as gracefully as an Indian would a bonnet.

The German Punch, edited in Berlin, publishes a coat of arms, drawn for President Johnson. It consists of an open pair of scissors; between the lower part is a tailor's goose, and between the upper part a thimble, surrounded by balls of thread, instead of cannon balls, and in the place of flags and flag-staffs, the scissors are surrounded with yard-sticks, on which are hanging coats and pantaloons. The whole rests on a platform decorated with American drapery, and a shield, bearing the motto—"I shall mend the torn Union."

INDIAN DEPEDATIONS.—A mounted force is to be sent to chastise the Indians who recently destroyed the United States telegraph.

The Indian War.

MORE ATROCITIES—ATTACKS UPON GOVERNMENT AND EMIGRANT TRAINS—MASSACRES.

Mr. Armstrong, of the Overland Park Station, and F. S. Murphy, of the Seven Mile Ranch, give us particulars of Indian outrages that occurred between Big Laramie and Rock-Creek, last Friday.

A simultaneous attack was made all along the road between the two points named. At one point, the Indians attacked a single emigrant wagon, coming up and professing peaceable intentions, telling the old man who was driving not to be alarmed, as they would not hurt him. When they arrived near enough, a single arrow was shot through his body, killing him instantly. His wife and two children were killed, the body of the wife being shockingly mutilated—our informants say, "literally disjointed, her head scalped, and skull stove in." They then captured three females who were in the wagon, aged respectively about eleven, eighteen and twenty-five years. Starting from the spot, they had gone about two miles, when the youngest girl, who continued to make an outcry, had seven arrows shot into her, and was left to die.

The wounded girl was found and taken to Laramie, where she received surgical attention, and is now doing well, with a prospect of recovery. She is spoken of as being quite intelligent, and says that the first arrow that wounded her was fired by a white man. Perry Abbott's train was attacked three miles this side of Rock Creek, and had lively fighting for five miles, when the Indians retired. The train sustained no injury, and the men think they killed four of the attacking party. A Government train was attacked at Seven Mile Ranch, between Cooper's Creek and Little Laramie. The party with the train succeeded in keeping their assailants off, and sustained no injury. Half way between the Ranch and Little Laramie another train was attacked—particulars not known. One incident of the day deserves especial mention. The Indians, after killing Sergt. Cooley, captured his horse and tied the leading reins of two of their ponies to him. The horse broke away from his captors and led the two ponies with him. A boy soldier, whose horse had been taken away from him by a cowardly white man, who wanted to get out of danger, caught the horse and fought his way safely in with his prize. Twelve white persons were killed, one wounded, and two captured, in all the attacks made during the day. Gen. Conner, with a force of 4,000 men, left Fort Laramie, on the 27th, for Powder River.

[Denver News, August 10.]

A modern Leander has turned up. A little fellow, aged fifteen, a few days since, escaped from Randall's Island, by swimming across the East River to New York. He was followed by an officer, and traced to the Albany boat lying in the Hudson River. But catching sight of the officer, he jumped overboard and swam around a pier to the Troy boat. Here he was caught and given in charge of the officer, from whom he immediately slipped away and jumped overboard again, swimming back to the Albany boat. This time the boat was moving out of the slip on her way to Albany. He caught fast to one of the stanchions under the guard in front of the paddle, and there remained for twelve hours, all night, and until the boat reached Albany. Before he secured his perch, however, he was struck once by one of the paddles and had his head laid open. The telegraph notified the officials at Albany, who were on the lookout for the little water dog when the steamer arrived. He saw them in a boat coming for him, and hopped off from his perch into the water, and there baffled their efforts by diving and swimming under water for two hours before capture. He was returned to Randall's Island. If he was only as good at lifting as he is at swimming, what a serviceable "grappler" for the Atlantic cable he would make.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Herald says that President Johnson has decided that pardon carries with it immediate restoration of all property, except slaves; that the Freedman's Bureau must give up at once all property of the non-accepted classes who have taken the oath, and also of the excluded as soon as pardoned, even when the property is already in court; but in the latter case the cost must be paid. This decision was given to Col. Short, of Louisiana, on the 14th ult.

The exports of petroleum from January 1st to July 14th of the present year, were 13,338,217 gallons; for the same time last year, 5,444,094 gallons. So much taken from the whale oil trade, which the whales will not regret.

A NEW FAITH.—A new religion had its birth in New York city, on the 31st of July. It was sired by a Scotchman by the name of Davidson, and, of course, damned by fanaticism, and damned by the papers and the public generally. Davidson claims to be a brother of Christ. If so, he must be the Wandering Jew. We have never heard of him by that name before, as that notable wanderer has borne many cognomens which smack of Jewish origin, such as Joseph, Ahashuens and Caftaphilus, but Davidson is too common to savor of Israelitish origin. Again, if he is a brother of the Saviour, he has remained a long time in these "low grounds of sorrow," without making known his genealogy.

Davidson is assisted by a man named Noyes Wheeler, who claims to have been sent by the Angel Gabriel to be a leader of the new sect, and will be immediately immersed by a "high priestess, daughter of Zion and handmaiden of the Lord," the Angel Gabriel being present, and aiding and abetting.

This "brother of Christ" seems to give no proof of his identity by miracle or otherwise, as he considers it useless where faith is wanting, and where faith exists it is unnecessary. On the whole, he ousts Mormonism completely. We wonder if Boston is not jealous of New York being the birth-place of the bantling.

A PROPOSED OVERGROUND RAILWAY IN NEW YORK.—The New York Post says:

We hear that Mr. Richard Montgomery will shortly put up a stretch of his proposed overground railroad, on Broadway, half a dozen blocks in length, that citizens may see what he intends. This line will be built upon iron posts, and will run over the pavement, on a level with the second stories of the better class of buildings. The inventor claims that it is cheap, safe, speedy, and that it will not encumber Broadway even while it is building.

The Post also states that it is the intention of the inventor to move the train by "practical application of atmospheric pressure," and quotes, in this connexion, an extract from an article in an English journal on this subject. The Post, in conclusion, says:

The application of some motive power as this, would remove the only tenable objection to Mr. Montgomery's plan—the unpleasantness to men and women, walking in Broadway, of having a locomotive rushing over their heads.

ALTERING THE TEXT.—An anecdote is told of the Bishop of Exeter, England. The scene is a church in Troquay; the Bishop is present, but not officiating, and he sits with the congregation. The officiating clergyman ventures to soften to ears polite the phrase "eat and drink their own damnation." He reads it "condemnation." A voice is heard energetically exclaiming, "damnation!" The whole church is startled. But it is not a profane epithet they hear; it is the voice of the Bishop in rebuke of the officiating minister.

The recognition of Italy by Spain has caused great surprise among the Catholic nations of Europe. Until after the Consistory, little will be known of the appreciation taken by the Holy See of the present situation, which is, of course, greatly aggravated by the defection, it would be unjust to say of Spain, but of the Spanish Queen and Cabinet. The Episcopate, however, is making a noble stand; and the letter of the Archbishop of Burgos to her most Catholic Majesty ends with little less than a threat of excommunication.

A SHOOTING AFFAIR.—A negro woman was brought down on Saturday, from about twenty-six miles in the country, severely wounded. It appears from a statement made by her father, that the deed was committed by her husband, who, without cause or provocation, fired his gun at her at a short distance, and put a full load of shot into her back. She was brought down in quest of medical attendance. [Charleston News.]

The Richmond Bulletin says: "It has pleased God to bless the Southern States with the most abundant and wonderful corn crop ever known, and we are, therefore, saved from all danger of famine and suffering for want of food. No contingency of drought, hail or storm can now injure that great Southern crop for man or beast."

The merchants of Beaufort and Newberp, N. C., are sending large quantities of goods into North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and South-eastern Virginia, and bringing back cotton and tobacco. The railroads are running night and day.

Major-General Curtis, having been notified that a large amount of cotton belonging to the late Confederate Government was in Virginia, near the Tennessee line, sent a small force to capture the cotton. The force was repelled by bushwhackers and guerrillas. Col. Force has been sent to accomplish the capture with an adequate number of troops.

Jeff. Davis is reported to have told an officer that he never heard of Wirz before his arrest. Mr. Davis says his health is good, except a carbuncle on his leg, and a slight touch of erysipelas.
