

MISCELLANY

Bear the burden of the present... Let the morrow bear its own... If the morning sky be pleasant...

The Fashions. On this subject, so important to the ladies, we find the following in a late Herald:

DRESSES. Plain silks are always elegant, and stripes and small brocaded patterns very desirable.

The trimmings are diverse, complicated and profuse, sometimes in good taste, but more often in direct opposition to it.

Sashes are very popular, and form a very important item of trimming. Those wide, ungainly belts that no lady could wear with impunity, has disappeared.

Pointed waists are still in fashion, with one or more points at front, back or over the sides.

THE SLEEVE. In view of the many different styles of sleeve that we may select from, it would be well to bear these few words of warning in mind:

Sleeves half-tight to the elbow, and trimmed with an oval tab on the back, or with puffings at the top and bottom of the sleeve, are much worn.

THE SKIRT. The amplitude of the skirt is not in the least diminished, and its length is rather increased.

In the skirt, as in the other portions of the dress, profuse trimming is the rule. It is sometimes carried round the bottom of the skirt, and sometimes carried up each seam.

also in high favor, and where properly used is stylish and distinctive looking.

Crowns have come in again, but not so the caps; these are replaced by a straight, ungraceful band, which seems rather a prolongation of the crown than a cap.

PARDONS.—It is said the President has cleared his desk of all pardon applications, having granted fifteen hundred in the last three days of last week.

The Raleigh Sentinel, of the 30th, says: "The city is quite full of colored persons in attendance upon the colored convention."

The press of Chicago are not very respectful in alluding to their city officials who are now making a tour Eastward.

WE open the season with a large stock of elegant CLOTHING and FURNISHING GOODS in our Ready-made Department.

FENNER, BENNETT & BOWMAN, COM. MERCHANTS, 40 VESEY STREET, NEW YORK.

To the Citizens of South Carolina.

The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impassable barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great sections of our country...

It is scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a business re-union, I should repeat the warning so often given to my friends—to beware of all those spurious and deleterious compounds which, under the specious and false titles of Imported Wines, Brandies, Holland Gin, Liqueurs, &c., have been equally destructive to the health of our citizens as prejudicial to the interests of the legitimate importer.

Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and candid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time nor expense has been spared to accomplish this salutary purpose...

Twenty-five years' business transactions with the largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great Britain have afforded me unsurpassed facilities for supplying our home market with Wines, Liqueurs and Liqueurs of the best and most approved brands in Europe...

The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable Therapeutic, a wholesome, pleasant and perfectly safe beverage in all climates and during all seasons...

I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with safeguards and directions which, with ordinary circumspection, will insure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers.

I would, however, recommend, in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my Depot, 22 Beaver street, New York, or that purchases be made of my accredited agents.

In addition to a large stock of Wines, Brandies, &c., in wood, I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign Wines, embracing vintages of many past years, bottled up before the commencement of the war, which I can especially recommend to all connoisseurs of these rare luxuries.

In conclusion, I would specially call the attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, or calling personally at the Depot, in order to insure the fulfillment of their favors from the present large and well selected assortment.
