

MISCELLANY

Reflections.

An old man sat by the cottage fire,
And he watched his children play;
And a tear stole down his cheek,
But he wiped it not away.
For his thoughts had wandered back again
To the scene of other years,
And his spirit had found a glad relief
In the falling of his tears.
Again he played on the dear old hearth,
And he heard a mother's voice,
And the gentle tone fell on his ears,
And they made his heart rejoice;
Again he joined the blind man's buff,
And the game of hide and seek,
And heard his little sister's voice,
So gentle, soft and meek.
Then in the shade, by the woodland dell,
Or sat with his picture-book,
Or wandered to seek some wild bird's nest
That hung o'er the rippling brook,
Till tired and weary of boyhood's play,
He turned to his home again,
By the rustic stile and the broken bridge,
And the shadowy old green lane.
And thus the old man sat and mused,
While the tears fell down his cheek,
But a happier hour it was to him
Than the old man's tongue could speak,
Yet he knew 'twas but a pleasant dream
That too soon had passed o'er—
Till his eyes were dim and his locks were grey,
And he could be young no more.

How to MARRY A BELLE.—In Canada a rich old widower is said to have practised an ingenious scheme to gain the hand of the belle of the village. He hired an old gipsy to tell the young lady's fortune, and instructed her to state that a wealthy old widower (giving a description of his personal appearance and dress) would pay her a visit and offer himself, and that she would accept, and be left a wealthy young widow before the close of the year. Her next husband would be a young man she liked at present. The gipsy did her duty, the old man presented himself, and the marriage followed. He is likely to live many years, and the village belle may be a grandmother before she becomes a widow.

Human existence hangs upon trifles. What would beauty be without soap! We often hear of "fashionable marriages," but never of fashionable deaths.

THOS. FENNER, H. BENNETT, D. W. BOWMAN.
M. T. A. TOBIN, who was for a length of time connected with the old firm of Hotchkiss, Fenner & Bennett, has an interest in the present firm, and will devote his attention principally to the State of South Carolina. His address will be Clinton, Laurens District. Oct 3 1mo

To the Citizens of South Carolina.
The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impassable barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great sections of our country, having at length happily cleared away all obstacles to a removal of those relations which formerly bound us together in a fraternal union, I take the earliest opportunity afforded me by this auspicious event, to greet my Southern friends, and to solicit from them a renewal of that extensive business connection which for a quarter of a century has been uninterrupted, save by the great public calamity to which I have adverted.

It is scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a business re-union, I should repeat the warning so often given to my friends—to beware of all those spurious and deleterious compounds which, under the specious and false titles of Imported Wines, Brandy, Holland Gin, Liquors, &c., have been equally destructive to the health of our citizens as prejudicial to the interests of the legitimate importer.

Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and candid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time or expense has been spared to accomplish this salutary purpose, and to place before my friends and the public generally, at the lowest possible market price, and in such quantities as might suit their convenience, a truly genuine imported article.

Twenty-five years' business transactions with the largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great Britain have afforded me unsurpassed facilities for supplying our home market with Wines, Liquors and Liqueurs of the best and most approved brands in Europe, in addition to my own distillery in Holland for the manufacture of the "Schiedam Schnapps."

The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable Therapeutic, a wholesome, pleasant and perfectly safe beverage in all climates and during all seasons, quickly excited the cupidity of the home manufacturers and vendors of a spurious article under the same name.

I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with safeguards and directions which, with ordinary circumspection, will insure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers.

I would, however, recommend in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my Depot, 22 Beaver street, New York, or that purchases be made of my accredited agents.

In addition to a large stock of Wines, Brandy, &c., in wood, I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign Wines, embracing vintages of many past years, bottled up before the commencement of the war, which I can especially recommend to all connoisseurs of these rare luxuries.

In conclusion, I would specially call the attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, or calling personally at the Depot, in order to insure the fulfillment of their favors from the present large and well selected assortment.
