

MISCELLANY

PROJECTED PALATIAL HOTEL IN NEW YORK.—The great Central Park Hotel, to be erected by Hiram Cranston, of New York, at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Fifty-ninth street, will no doubt eclipse anything of the kind in this or any other country. The ground will be broken next Spring, and it is supposed that two or three years will be required for its completion. A number of capitalists are interested in it, and whatever taste can devise and money can purchase will be lavished upon the new house. It is to be half as large again and thrice as elegant as the Fifth Avenue; is to be built of white marble, and to contain over five hundred rooms, all of which are to be furnished in a style of magnificence hitherto unknown even in this extravagant country.

A number of modern improvements are to be introduced, among them private breakfast and dining rooms, suites of apartments for families, where they can live with entire privacy; baths of the Oriental and Roman sort, where luxury is to be exhausted in designs and appliances. In addition to this, the guests are to be favored with hot-houses, fountains and a delightful garden in the centre of the hotel, which if half that is promised be carried out, will be splendid and elegant at the same time, and be a miracle of luxury and art. Of course it will be a good investment. If it were ten times as large and expensive as it will prove, it would put gold in the purses of its builders and proprietors, and augment the passion of the traveling public for reckless expenditure.

REMARKABLE CASE OF TRANCE.—On Tuesday night, Mr. Crowder, a young gentleman residing on High street, died, to all appearances. The corpse was laid out, and the grief and lamentation was such as is usual in such cases. His brother was to have been married last night, but all preparation for the happy event was stopped by this sad and solemn one. On yesterday morning, the supposed dead man got up and dressed himself, and is now enjoying as much vitality as could be expected of a corpse. The marriage came off last night, and we suppose "the resurrected" attended.

Burning of the Museum.

LETTER FROM MR. BARNUM. NEW YORK, July 14, 1865. MESSRS. HERRING & CO.—GENTLEMEN: Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage, that "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity. The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire. After twenty-four hours of trial, it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safe. Yours truly, P. T. BARNUM.

Murray street, New York. FARREL, HERRING & CO., Philadelphia. Oct 26 2mo HERRING & CO., Chicago.

To the Citizens of South Carolina.

The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impassable barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great sections of our country, having at length happily cleared away all obstacles to a removal of those relations which formerly bound us together in a fraternal union, I take the earliest opportunity afforded me by this auspicious event, to greet my Southern friends, and to solicit from them a renewal of that extensive business connection which for a quarter of a century has been uninterrupted, save by the great public calamity to which I have adverted.

It is scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a business re-union, I should repeat the warning so often given to my friends—to beware of all those spurious and deleterious compounds which, under the specious and false titles of Imported Wines, Brandy, Holland Gin, Liquors, &c., have been equally destructive to the health of our citizens as prejudicial to the interests of the legitimate importer.

Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and candid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time nor expense has been spared to accomplish this salutary purpose, and to place before my friends and the public generally, at the lowest possible market price, and in such quantities as might suit their convenience, a truly genuine imported article.

Twenty-five years' business transactions with the largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great Britain have afforded me unsurpassed facilities for supplying our home market with Wines, Liquors and Liqueurs of the best and most approved brands in Europe, in addition to my own distillery in Holland for the manufacture of the "Schiedam Schnapps."

The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable Therapeutic, a wholesome, pleasant and perfectly safe beverage in all climates and during all seasons, quickly excited the cupidity of the home manufacturers and vendors of a spurious article under the same name.

I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with safeguards and directions which, with ordinary circumspection, will insure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers.

I would, however, recommend, in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my Depot, 23 Beaver street, New York, or that purchases be made of my accredited agents.

In addition to a large stock of Wines, Brandy, &c., in wood, I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign Wines, embracing vintages of many past years, bottled up before the commencement of the war, which I can especially recommend to all connoisseurs of these rare luxuries.

In conclusion, I would specially call the attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, or calling personally at the Depot, in order to insure the fulfillment of their favors from the present large and well selected assortment. UDOLPHO WOLFE, Oct 3 1mo 22 Beaver st., New York.
