

THE HEBREW SABBATH.—The Jewish Times, in speaking of the practical disregard of the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath among Hebrews, has the following:

The Jews will not, should not, and dare not give up their Sabbath, hallowed by a history so rich in untold sacrifices in behalf of it; they must not, think of laying the axe on the fundamental pillar of the Jewish religion, the Jewish Sabbath, and they do not do it in theory. Practically disregarding it, and offering it to necessity, they still retain its sacred memory, they still look upon it as the distinguishing feature between Judaism and its kindred religions, just as the Sunday and Friday have been instituted by Christians and Mahometans as a wall between them and Judaism. It is grievous enough that practice has discarded the Sabbath; let us not attempt to undermine it also theoretically. But we must provide opportunities for the masses, that they can devote some fleeting moments to the higher and nobler interests of life; we must create institutions that will bring back to us the erring wanderers; we must open wide the doors of our sanctuaries on days that do not absorb our fellow-men entirely in the pursuit of worldly objects, and offer them there the bread of life. We must present an intrepid front against the nihilists, materialists, pantheists, traders in religion, and kindle anew the fire of religious love and devotion. We must institute on Sunday, at periodical periods, public religious services, in which spiritual elevation and moral enlightenment shall be blended; we must not stand still and wait until the young come to us, but we must call them, invite them, and urge them to come to us on such days and at such times that is convenient to them. We consider this the most sacred duty, devolving upon each and every congregation, whether orthodox or reform; the longer they wait the greater will the evil become, the more hopeless will the disease grow. The cure must be applied quickly, decisively and firmly.

The Chinese of North Adams, Mass., it is stated, after an apprenticeship of four weeks, were able to make a good, marketable shoe, and are now as far advanced, both in workmanship and rapidity of execution, as most of the white shoe-makers who have served an apprenticeship of three years. They are reported to be peaceable, industrious and saving, and not to be inclined to rove about, being apparently quite contented with their situation. Many of the Chinese have adopted the costume worn in the United States, but still shave the head and braid their long tails of hair with the scrupulous exactness of a female. The shop or working-dress of the Chinese is a uniform consisting of a short sack and pantaloons, made of bluish cotton drill, and this garb, with the close shaven head, it is said, would convey the impression that a gang of convicts was employed, did not the cheerful faces indicate a different condition of the workmen.

A plate of glass measuring 100 superficial feet was recently silvered at St. Helen's, Lancashire, England, by a new process, by which the mirror was completed in forty hours, instead of in ten days, which would have been required according to the old methods. This mirror, it is stated, is the largest ever manufactured in Lancashire, and, with one or two exceptions, the largest ever made in England.

A difficulty occurred on the Milledgeville Road, a few miles from Augusta, Ga., between Messrs. Jesse Hendrix and Jefferson Bridwell, when the latter was killed.

A FEW reasons why they should have the preference over all others:
1. Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machine is much simpler than any of the others; requiring less than half the amount of machinery.
2. As the result of this simplicity, this machine is much less liable than the others to get out of repair.
3. Another result of this simplicity is greater durability.
4. Another result is less friction, and, consequently, greater ease and rapidity of motion, with less noise.
5. And greatest of all, that it uses no Shuttle, and makes the lock stitch.
It is the cheapest to buy the best. Buy the machine that has justly, fairly and honorably won a reputation and independence against a strong and bitter competition. For more than twenty years it has the Wheeler & Wilson not only stood first and foremost, but now stands the unrivalled Sewing Machine of the enlightened civilized world. Buy the machine that has been thus tested and proved, and then you are sure to get the best. For sale on the easiest possible terms. CONSUMPTION, ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.

BY J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

MANY a human being has passed away for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. These poor and dear to family and friends are sleeping in dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted

DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT.

And availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicine, they would not have fallen. Dr. Schenck has, in his own case, proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. The fact of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicine is as simple as it is unerring. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first weapons with which the citadel of the body is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here, then, comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. These possess all the blood-searching, alternative properties of calomel; but, unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsibly, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Obliquation is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathings, it prepares for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time, the material is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied, is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or the womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patient must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented, or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter seasons, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house, they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as long as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits, and be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own country in these modest words:

"Many years ago, in the last stages of consumption; confined to bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It cured me, and I could feel them penetrate my whole system, and they soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained strength and have grown to flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., will continue to see patients at the office, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and curable or not, can readily learn whether they are

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions furnished with them: First create appetite. Of retarding health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it ceases, as it will come, let the despatching at once be good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in large quantities of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cts. a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers. JOHN F. HENRY, 8 College Place, New York, Wholesale Agent.

CITIZENS' BANK, Treasurer.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second, or 721 box wheel, will contain a gift, newly printed and sealed up, and the gift as drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100, $1,000, or $100,000.

Gifts will be paid on presentation of tickets drawing such gifts, the second day after drawing. Tickets not coupons drawing gifts can be collected through any business or banking house in Louisville, or by any express company.

All tickets are like greenbacks. No record being kept of purchaser's names, tickets are good only to the holder.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in the United States or Canada, address

CHAS. R. PETERS, Manager, Louisville, Ky., office 120 Main street, Johnson's Block.

N. B.—Buyers will note that there are only 100,000 tickets, instead of 200,000, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that it is $50,000 more distributed. Aug. 6 1mo
