

The Necessity of Organization.
 Our respected cotemporary, the Kentucky Courier, joins hands with the News in deprecating organization this year. We will add a few words to what we have already written on this subject. If we intend to keep up the Democratic party in this State, we must keep ourselves in accord with its movements. We are now totally disorganized, and have been so since the dissolution of the Union Reform party, last fall. We have not even a committee which could take the initiatory steps to re-organize the party, or with which the national committee could confer, even upon the most vital and important exigency. We suppose that the party organizations are never allowed to expire in other States, for there is always work to be done. Perhaps nowhere is there so much to be done as in South Carolina. Our opponents never slumber nor sleep. Have they more need of vigilant and persevering effort than we? Have they the promise of more and greater rewards than we, to induce their steadfastness? We do not agree that our people are only capable of a sudden and emotional effort in behalf of their liberties—that they are incapable of earnest and sustained labor when a proper patriotic task is laid before them. They are not impulsive and irresponsible. On the contrary, they are stoical, slow to take position, and not readily aroused to action. There must be a good cause to enlist their energies, and it must be long presented with the constant persistency of earnestness and truth, before they lay hold of it; but when they do, you may trust them for an impetuous, determined and self-sacrificing devotion and constancy to the cause. They who took the responsibility of inaugurating the Reform party, last year, are responsible also for the dissolution of the Democratic party of this State. When they dissolved their temporary substitute, they left nothing behind but political anarchy, in the face of a disciplined and triumphant foe. An effort was then made to effect a compact organization, which, by this time, might, we believe, have held in its hand the political destinies of this State; but that failed in obedience to that procrastinating appeal now urged against organization. We have not only to unite our people, but to gain, by this time next year, 10,000 votes, or we are doomed to ruinous defeat. The votes we gain are to be won, not by agitation or public appeals to popular assemblies, but by a concentration of assiduous efforts upon individuals. In our opinion, the most of this work is to be done in the first months of next year, if we propose to gather the autumn fruits. We repeat, let us organize County and precinct clubs of prudent and thoughtful men, and an efficient executive committee, active and energetic, who will quietly and efficiently work out the results of their own counsels. A delay until next year, we fear, will be fatal to our hopes.

It is worthy of consideration, too, that the experience of our Charleston friends cannot be resorted to to deduce a rule of action for the State. Their circumstances are entirely different. They operate upon a different sort of people altogether, and by different means. Their work may, perhaps, be more efficiently done in a week or two than in a longer period. In the rural districts we must operate according to our own experience of the requirements of the work. We commend this subject most earnestly to the consideration of the people. If we had the ear of the thoughtful we feel sure we could impress upon them at least a portion of our deep convictions of the vital necessity of rallying and organizing our forces for the victory which may there be rendered possible. Much, of course, of its value and expediency would depend upon the use made of the organization when effected. It would not be proper here to anticipate what might be the forms and modes of efficient political work, which the party might see fit to prosecute. That in their united wisdom they would find such work ready to hand we have not a shadow of a doubt.

THE CHARLOTTE, COLUMBIA AND AUGUSTA RAILROAD.—We learn that the Pennsylvania Central Railroad has purchased a leading interest in the above road. With the great wealth and influence of the Pennsylvania corporation added to the efficient management and energy of the present directors of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, we expect to see a prosperous state of affairs inaugurated for the latter. We understood, yesterday, that the stock of the road was on the rise, a considerable advance having been made in the ruling prices of some time past.

Special Notices.

INFLUENCE OF TEMPERATURE ON HEALTH.—In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defence against the vicissitudes of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months; and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventives of malarious disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

YELLOW LINE!
FAST FREIGHTS TO AND FROM NORTHERN CITIES,
 Via Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, North Carolina Railroad, Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, and Steamers between Portsmouth and New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore!

THE ABOVE-NAMED RAILROADS, in connection with the Steamer Lines, having united in forming a Fast Through Freight Line, to be known as the YELLOW LINE, will put in operation, on the 4th of September, a FAST THROUGH FREIGHT SCHEDULE between Columbia and Augusta and the above-named Northern cities. The attention of shippers and receivers of freight is called to the following advantages offered by the line:
 It is almost entirely an inland route, by which rates of insurance and risks of delay from bad weather are greatly reduced.
 There is no drayage, and no transfers, except under cover.
 Daily Steamers will run between Portsmouth and Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, and freights will have prompt despatch.
 Rates and classifications the same as by other routes.
 Through bills of lading given and claims promptly adjusted.

HAVE GOODS MARKED "VIA YELLOW LINE."

Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines.
 A FEW reasons why they should have the preference over all others:
 1. Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machine is much simpler than any of the others; requiring less than half the amount of machinery.
 2. As the result of this simplicity, this machine is much less liable than the others to get out of repair.
 3. Another result of this simplicity is greater durability.
 4. Another result is less friction, and, consequently, greater ease and rapidity of motion, with less noise.
 5. And greatest of all, that it uses no Shuttle, and makes the lock stitch.
 6. Another result of this simplicity is that it is the cheapest to buy, and the most durable.
 7. Another result is that it is the most economical, and independent of any other machine that has justly won a reputation and independence against a strong and bitter competition. For more than twenty years has the Wheeler & Wilson not only stood first and foremost, but the most standard of the univalued Sewing Machine of the enlightened civilized world. Buy the machine that has been thus tested and approved, and then you are sure to get the best. For sale on the easiest possible terms.
