CHINESE INDIFFERENCE TO DEATH—The Chinese are almost indifferent to the phenomenon of dissolution, and frequently compass their own end when life becomes wearisome. A wife sometimes elects to follow her husband on the starlit road of death; and parents will destroy their offspring in time of famine and great distress, rather than allow them to suffer. Still more remarkable is the custom of selling their lives in order that they may purchase the superior advantage of obsequies, which are considered to insure the body in safety for the future resurrection. A wealthy man condemned to death will arrange with his jailer to buy him a substitute for a certain sum of money, to be spent upon the poor wretch's interment and preservation of his body. Should he have parents, so much is annually paid to them in compensation for their son's life; Chinamen invariably help to support their parents; filial respect and devotion is the great Chinese virtue and religious precept, in which they rarely fail.

Regarding death as inevitable, he makes the best of a bad bargain, and cunningly and comically gets paid for dying. The wholesale destruction of life in this country is greatly the result of indifference. Hence, the massacre of Europeans, so terrible to us, seems to them a matter of little moment, and they cannot comprehend why we should make a fuss about it. They regard our indignant protestation very much as we might treat our irate neighbor whose dog we had shot. "Well, well, be pacified; if it was such a favorite, I am sorry, but it is only a dog, and there are plenty more. How much do you want to be paid for it?" "You English think so much of a life," argues the Chinese; "have you not plenty of people at home?" Death in China is awarded as the punishment for most trivial offences, and frequently for none at all, except being in somebody's way.

A story was told me as fact, that during the visit of one of the royal princes, a theft was committed of a chain or watch belonging to the royal guest. The unfortunate attendant was caught with the property upon him, and without further ceremony his head was chopped off. The mandarin in attendance immediately announced the tidings to the prince as a delicate attention, showing how devoted he was in his service. To his astonishment, the prince expressed his great regret that the man's head had been taken off. "Your Highness," cried the obsequious mandarin, bowing to the ground, "it shall immediately be put on again!" so little did he understand that the regret was for the life taken, and not the severed head. In times of insurrection or famine the mowing down of human life is like corn-stalks at harvest time, appalling to European ideas. "I must confess to a nervous shuddering when I stood upon the execution ground at Canton—a narrow lane or potter's field—where so many hundreds had been butchered per diem during the weeks together, the executioner requiring the aid of two smiths to sharpen his swords, for many of the writhed victims were not allowed to be destroyed at one fell swoop, but sentenced to be "hacked to pieces" by twenty to fifty blows. I was informed by a European who had traveled much and seen most of the frightful side of life, that witnessing Chinese executions was more than his iron nerves could stand; and in some of the details which he was narrating I was obliged to beg him to desist. And yet he says there was nothing solemn about it, and the spectators looked on amused. It was the horrible and grotesque combined.

A white man, named W. C. Moreau, while sitting with his family, in Sandersville, Ga., a few nights ago, was fired upon and instantly killed, by a negro.

TO PLANTERS.

OFFICE OF J. N. ROSSON,
AGENT FOR SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO,
CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 1, 1874.

In view of the near approach of another PLANTING SEASON, I take this method of calling your attention to some facts concerning the use of SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO, which I think you will find both interesting and valuable. Being among the first who introduced Guano into this State, I can confidently refer to my planting friends, that in the series of years I have sold their manures, I have always given a pure article. Purchasers will find it to their interest to give me a call before buying, as from the facilities I have, and my long experience in the business, I am enabled to fill all orders promptly and at the lowest price.

SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO.
It is now an admitted fact, established and confirmed by many years' experience in the use of SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO, that an ordinary application to Cotton and Corn increases the yield to double the production of the same soil unfertilized. This statement is in no wise exaggerated; on the contrary, the results more frequently exceed than fall short of the above increase. The use of an agency which thus increases the products of hired labor, can not be over-estimated. It is an agency which makes two bales of cotton and two barrels of corn grow where one grow before. It is an agency which makes the labor of one man equal to the labor of two. It is an agency which makes one acre under cultivation equal to two acres. It is an agency which it will be found by fair calculation, pays the consumer, with cotton at present or even lower prices, three to five dollars back for every one dollar invested in Guano within a period of eight months' time. The above statements are not mere assertions, but are verified by more than nine years' experience, and are testified to by thousands of farmers and planters throughout the Middle and Southern States. If it be true, as stated, that the crop is double by the use of this Guano, let us see what the cost of extra expense is when applied to cotton, putting the price of cotton at 15 cents per pound. Planters often say they have made 100 per cent, because the Guano has doubled the crop. That is a mistake; it is much more than a profit of 100 per cent. on the money invested.

Let us calculate the profit. To arrive at the per cent. of profit on an investment, the net cost must be divided into the net gain. Now, if an acre of ground will produce 150 pounds of cotton from SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO, and will produce 300 pounds by the use of 200 pounds SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO, then the increase from the use of the Guano is 150 pounds lint cotton, the cost of which is the money value of 200 pounds Guano. Hence, if we deduct the cost of the Guano from the value of 150 pounds cotton produced by it, we have the net gain from its use; then, if we divide the cost of the 200 pounds Guano into the net gain, we get the exact per cent. of profit.

Thus:
150 pounds cotton, net gain from use of 200 pounds Guano, at 15 cents per pound.....$22.50
Deduct cost of 200 pounds Guano (cash price) $48.00 per ton..... 4.80
Net profit $4.80, net cost, into $17.70. Now divide $4.80, net profit, which is 388 per cent. In other words, for every dollar thus invested, $4.88 is received in return, one of which is the original investment, and $3.68 are clear profit, thus being 368 per cent. for one, which is 368 per cent. Is not this a fair and correct showing? If not, where is the error? Now, if it be true to one-half the above extent, SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO is an agency of the highest value to agriculture, and we commend it to you in season. I also invite your attention to Pacific Guano Company's

Compound Acid Phosphate of Lime.

MOSES STEALS A RED HOT POKER

THIS wonderfully witty style of advertising is about played out.
We wish to say a few quiet words about CIGARS, but really don't consider it necessary to intersperse the stupid legend through our subject matter, and so prefer to give the witty part in a lump to commence with.
By-the-by, have you ever played poker? We propose to see our opponents in the Cigar business, and by showing a full hand of "Four Aces"—a new brand of fine Cigars—have a serene certainty of earning the stakes. Seriously, our stock of Cigars is unrivaled either in lowness of price or excellence in quality, from the celebrated two for five cents (highly recommended to beginners) to the purest Cabanas, embracing mid-way many delightfully fragrant weeds, at from five to fifteen cents each. A trial will insure us your custom.
P. S. No doubtful-looking male or female Indian allowed to loaf either outside or inside our doors. This custom is pagan and reprehensible. GEO. SYMMERS,
