

Friday Morning, May 28, 1875.

The Judiciary of the Future. For some time past we have noticed in several of our exchanges, in the accounts given of the proceedings of Court in their several localities, the significant statement that the docket was cleared, or the learned Judge announced that he meant to clear the docket, or that his Honor displayed equal zeal and ability in the discharge of his laborious duties, or that the session was protracted and encroached upon the hours of rest, &c.

Too Much Massachusetts. The Philadelphia Times makes complaint of the centennial commission for giving an undue share of the honorary positions in the great centennial exhibition to Massachusetts.

The States of Guerrero and Michoacan, in Mexico, seem to be cursed with a set of bandits far worse than those of Tamulipas on the Texas borders.

The Cotton Worm.—A theory has been recently advanced in regard to the cotton worm, that it is an immigrant from more Southern latitudes.

FOUNDATION OF ROME.—While we are celebrating centennials in this country, "eternal Rome," on the 21st of April, had a commemoration in honor of the foundation of that city.

Madame Christine Nilsson-Rouznand has set a curious fashion, by which she leaves an audience its choice of a denouement.

THE NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.—The annual meeting of the National Board of Trade will take place in Philadelphia, June 15, and will be attended by some of the most influential merchants and ablest financiers in the country.

Miss Anna Dickinson has temporarily ceased lecturing on the social evil and has gone solidly into politics of the Radical order.

A Washington letter, alluding to the action of several Republican County Conventions, in Ohio, in pronouncing emphatically against the third term scheme, says: "That the Ohio Convention will take this action is looked upon now as very certain."

NOT AFRAID OF DEATH.—At 6 o'clock, yesterday evening, Ouachita, the wounded Cheyenne chief at the barracks, seemed to be in a sinking condition.

Here are two straws which have some significance as showing the financial condition of the country. The one comes from thrifty, economical Connecticut, and the other from quite-the-reverse Chicago.

The Dunkers held their annual convention at Covington, Ohio, last week. Half the States in the Union were represented, and 50,000 people were in attendance.

An inquisitive colored citizen made himself rather unpleasant to the Vice-President in Little Rock the other day.

It is intimated that the Pennsylvania Republican Convention which meets this week will give General Grant a very strong hint to retire.

While riding in a stage coach from Kinderhook to Albany, N. Y., many years since, John Van Buren, who was smoking, asked a stranger in the stage if smoking was agreeable to him.

One of the most recent of the sickening St. Louis sensations is that which tells of the putrefying body of a small-pox patient in the bottom of a well, from which a number of families had been getting water for some time.

A certain Western editor, who was presented with a box of collars in pay for an advertisement, is waiting in daily expectation that some one will present him with a shirt.

A country editor bought his ink by the jug-full, because he could get it cheaper, but his wife went to fill the inkstand one morning, and found it wasn't ink, by a jug-full.

There were 30 deaths in Charleston for the week ending the 22d—whites 13; colored 17.

FIRE AT JAMISON'S.—The large dwelling house and store of Mr. Kennedy, at Jamison's Turnout, South Carolina Railroad, was destroyed by fire on the 26th.

The people of New York State are being bled pretty badly in the construction of the new capitol building at Albany.

The great men among the colored element of Chester County are disappearing from the stage of life with amazing rapidity.

Says the Chicago Inter-Ocean on the terrible anxiety of the Republicans to fold the South to their embrace: "The North has been looking over the brink with hand outstretched, and it might have truthfully added, 'with a bayonet in it,' as far as the Administration party is concerned."

The dwelling and out-houses of Mr. John W. Ammonds, of Marion, with all their contents, were entirely destroyed by fire on Monday morning last.

Buildings aggregating in value more than $500,000 are now in course of erection in Atlanta, Ga.

Queen Victoria's last drawing-room reception, at Buckingham Palace, witnessed an extraordinary assemblage of the nobility in gorgeous array.

There is not a single railroad track crossing the mountains from Dalton, Ga., to Charlottesville, Va., a distance of over 400 miles.

Carruth, of Vineland, is getting well, with a bullet in his brain. Anthony, of Leavenworth, another perforated editor, is also talking the doctors.

The grasshopper panic in the West is dwindling somewhat under more encouraging prospects.

Miss R. C. Levy, who made her debut in Charleston a few years ago as an amateur, made her appearance in Washington, on the 21th, in the character of "Pauline," as a finished actress.

An underground railway has been opened in Constantinople. It communicates with different sections of the city, and trains are run every five minutes.

CITY MATTERS.—If you are asked to lend your PHRENOL, suggest to the would-be borrower that he had better subscribe.

Attend Perry & Slawson's clearance sales of cigars.

We find self-made men very often, but self-unmade ones a good deal oftener.

A runaway horse created an excitement in Plain street, last night. He demolished two or three bridges.

Some new patterns beautiful dress goods opened yesterday, at Mr. J. H. Kinard's.

Two or three foreign-looking individuals made the day hideous, yesterday, by producing discordant sounds from two so-called Irish bag-pipes.

A colored man made a raid on Mr. Visanski's store, last night; but Mrs. V. raised an alarm and the would-be burglar made off.

Saratoga trunks, suitable for a trip to Glenn Springs, Baden-Baden or Pekin, beside smaller trunks, valises, &c., just arrived at J. H. Kinard's dry goods house.

By a notice in another column, it will be seen that the well known hostelry, the Charleston Hotel, is to be kept open during the summer, and guests will be accommodated at reduced rates.

Dr. Kopper, of the St. Petersburg observatory, last year, predicted a cold summer in 1875, based upon his observations of the sun spots.

You can enjoy an ice cream at Mr. McKenzie's, and then make the "old folks at home" glad, through the medium of his patent air-excluding paper-prepared ice cream boxes.

It is reported that Judge John E. Bacon, of this city, will sail for England soon, for the purpose of prosecuting the claim of the Jennings family to the vast estate which it seems should of right be theirs.

A man came out of the tax office the other day, and exhibiting an empty pocket book to his friend, gloomily observed: "Bill, where's the alter of our country? I want to find it."

An inquiry was made at Dr. Miot's, yesterday, by a fifteenth amendment, for a bottle of bombazine, to remove grease. Benzine was the article needed.

Dr. Jackson had an applicant or two for "toddies." The words thermometer and barometer were being painted on the post in front of the store; but the dinner hour having arrived, the painter left off at "barom."

Women require more sleep than men, and farmers less than those engaged in other occupations. Editors, reporters, printers and telegraph operators require no sleep at all.

THE SCHUTZEN PRO-NIC.—The Schutzen-Verein Club celebrated their first anniversary, at the platz, yesterday, by a pic-nic, dancing and shooting at targets, and other festivities.

A WHOLESOME STIMULANT, THAT IS ABSOLUTELY PURE.—Physicians throughout the world agree as to the necessity for diffusive stimulants in medical practice, but complain, and with good reason, of the impossibility of obtaining them pure. The difficulty here presented would be a serious one indeed, if the class of agents was limited to the adulterated liquors and wines of trade. It vanishes, however, when the absolute purity and extraordinary restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters are taken into consideration. As a stimulant the article is absolutely free from everything objectionable; but this is only one of its recommendations. If it were nothing more than an excitant its effects would be fleeting. It might refresh and revive the system for a few minutes, but could produce no permanent benefit. The stimulating elements of the Bitters is a means, not an end. The tonic, antibilious, depurative and aperient vegetable juices combined in the preparation are the agents that impart vigor and regularity to the weakened and disordered organization, the spirituous principle being chiefly useful in diffusing their influence through the system and otherwise facilitating their operation. Alcohol, even in its purest form, is not so much a medicine as a motive power, by which the specifics of the vegetable kingdom may be brought to bear upon the debilitated and disordered organs that require renovating and regulating; and it is in this way that the pure essence of rye incorporated in Hostetter's Bitters increases the efficiency of the purely medical ingredients. This truly wonderful, the variety and ingenuity of the conveniences for the desk and office—pens of varied patterns, inkstands possessing unnumbered advantages, letter files, each one the best, envelopes of size and qualities infinite. It is almost bewildering to enter the large Broad street store of Walker, Evans & Cogswell, in Charleston, and see the number of these attractions. Here you find the largest stationery stock South of Baltimore, and you only have two troubles—first, sufficient cash; and, second, the difficulty in deciding among the many things offered, each equally suitable to your wants.
