Disappointed.

An order has just been issued, prohibiting all parties from bathing in Hampton's Pond, or encroaching upon the grounds. This will disappoint many individuals, who expected to spend the day about there.

Montague.—A. Montague was committed by United States Commissioner Wilkes, for attempting to pass counterfeit United States currency.

Private McEvoy was fined $1 and costs by Justice McCord, for assault and battery on George Washington.

Trial Justice Marshall held over Albert Caspeler in the sum of $100, for malicious injury done to a stable. Trial Justice Thompson issued warrants for the arrest of George Washington and John Volney, charged with stealing a pair of boots, valued at $12; and a peace warrant for Anthony Bradley, who was arrested and had his case continued.

The R. E. R. OSGE AGAIN.—A correspondent of the Sunday Sun writes:

"This March I learned as a fact from one of the Chamberlain men, who was so elated that he was like to burst with the developments. You may rely on what I tell you, if I could, I'd give you the name of my informant, you would have no hesitation. The man is open more sound and intact. There is not even a sign of the place where it was cracked. The lion and the little lambs all repose quietly together.

Peace

The details of the peace negotiations are to be arranged, but the understanding is that Patterson is to be satisfied. Chamberlain is to receive the nomination for Governor. R. B. Elliott will be the Lieutenant-Governor. Dunn is to be Comptroller-General again. The admirers of the saintly and partly Cardozo will rejoice to hear that he is booked for the Treasury. Judge Carpenter will subside, and be Attorney-General. Governor Chamberlain will go to the Senate on the 4th of March, and Elliott will be Governor. Hoge, Wallace, Rainey and Smalls are to be re-elected, although Patterson wants Carpenter instead of Hoge, and the matter is not fully determined. Bowen will represent Charleston, and Ed. Mackey will look elsewhere for a situation. Judge Mackey is to be elected Judge vice Carpenter, promoted, while Stone is booked for the Legislature and to be "Mr. Speaker." The above is all that is definitely fixed as yet, but there is to be another conclave at Columbia, I believe shortly. It was the subject of remark among the clans at a meeting, that this schedule would not suit the News and Courier; but one gentleman settled that by remarking, with a wink, that "money heals the sore." I have just heard that the Union Herald is to be resuscitated, revived and enlarged; that Tom Cayender will be permitted to draw a salary from it, and write occasional editorials. The old Senators whose terms expire will be returned. Woodruff and Jones will be clerks and public printers, if they want it. Only Moses and Whipper are yet unprovided for. It has been stated that Gov. Chamberlain himself had no part in this programme, and the proceedings were to be subject to his approval. What he will do remains to be seen. Grave doubts are entertained of his acquiescence. Marshal Bazaine has published in Spain an account of the part acted by him in the late Franco-Prussian war; special prominence is given to the siege and surrender of Metz, and he endeavors to vindicate his conduct as a commander.
