Correspondence of the Camden Journal. Washington, Jan. 4, 1853.

In accordance with the usual custom, the pri- James Click, on account, $2 vate houses of this City were thrown open on New Year's day for the reception of strangers and friends. Each one feels at liberty on these Samuel McDowall, (Illinois) 1st March, 1853 "tasting" every man's liquor is rather a danger-ous experiment, if one can judge from the effects L. Whitaker, produced, for towards the close of the day, I saw N. Hotchkiss, several who looked as though they were trying Capt B. McCoy, to walk in as zig-zag a manner as possible. W. E. Hughes,

Although the City is not thronged, yet it is very gay, and every afternoon the Avenue is crowded with the "fair sex" who promenade "up one side and down the other," to show the "sterner sex" the latest styles. There is a strange Hon. T. J. Withers, " amalgamation going on between the sexes, as regards dressing—the gentlemen wearing shawls and guiters—the ladies, double breasted coats, Col. W. A. Gen. Scott is in the city, and the "old hero of a thousand battles" looks as though he had never sustained a presidential defeat. The title of Lieutenant General, which will be conferred upon him, together with the two thousand par aunum extra pay, will serve in a great measure to heal his wounds. A man may be counted honorable, high minded, noble, &c., when he has not a stiver in the world, but let him have he dimes and he is sure to be sought after.

The President elect has determined not to come to Washington antil the middle or last of next month. He does this in order to escape the embraces of his "dear" friends who are ex tremely auxious to inform him that he owes his election, in a great measure, to their strenuous exertions, and as they are still very feeble, from the effects of their labors, are desirous of being fed on Government pap, for the next four years, which is certainly a most excellent panacea.

The question has been asked me since my arrival here, "who will be Mr. Woodward's successor?" I am not able to see into futurity, but diseases generally, yield to their influence at once; and I am inclined to think that the loss our Conto to thank Heaven that a sovereign balan has been pro gressional District will sustain by the withdrawal of Mr. Woodward, will not be easily filled. I am no "puffer" for this gentleman, neither do I intend any disparagement to any of the gentlemen announced as candidates, yet, Mr. Woodward has been a faithful and trusty servant, and we feel secure in his hands, and I am loath to see him give up his charge. He will carry with him, in his retirement, the fondest and best wishes of the entire people of South Carolina, and of many good and great men of the other States, CATO.

THE LIVERPOOL MARKETS .- Cotton was steady and closed quiet. The sales of the week comprised 37,000 bales, of which speculators took 6,600 bales, and exporters 1,300 bales. Fair Orleans was quoted at 6 1-8d., other qualties remain unchanged.

Trade in Manchester is steady, the advices from India having been favorable. The Havre Cotton market is unchanged, and the sales of the week comprised 4,000 bales. GREAT BRITAIN .- A test vote had been taken in the House of Commons, which resulted in the defeat of the ministry by 19, and the Earl of Derby had gone to tender his resignation to the Queen. It is supposed that the new ministry will be a coalition, composed of Whigs, Peelites, Moderates and Radicals. The Marquis of Lansdowne has been named as Premier, and Lord John Russell as Leader in the House of Commons. Great floods have occurred in England.

FRANCE.—The Pope will crown Louis Napoleon. Prince Napoleon, son of Jerome, has been appointed King of Algeria.

Spain is on the even of a revolution. TURKEY,--Great consternation prevails in Constantinople in consequence of the refusal of the Bank to receive the State paper, and the reported success of the rebels in Albania.

Judge Nash has been appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of North Carolina, to fill the vacancy oscasioned by the late resignaion of the Hon. Thomas Ruffin.
