

Miss Lucy Stone, of Boston, last evening delivered the first of her lectures in this city on Woman's Rights, at Metropolitan Hall. She contended that God had endowed woman with as large a capacity for knowledge as the opposite sex; and that it was His intention that woman should engage in every kind of employment for which she had the intellect. Every species of trade or profession should therefore be open to her—lawyer, Judge, daguerrotypist, minister, merchant, &c. She concluded her remarks by pointing out that if the fair sex would patronize their sisters engaged in these various vocations, that the result would be the elevation of womanhood in the scale of society, and increased happiness and prosperity throughout the world. — N. Y. Herald, 26th ult.

Vandalism.
The Vandals were a nation of ferocious barbarians of northern Europe, who invaded Rome in the fifth century, and distinguished themselves by wantonly destroying the beautiful works of taste and skill with which that city was adorned. From them we derived our word vandalism, which signifies the wanton destruction or mutilation of monuments of art, literature, &c.

We are not yet fully civilized; in most parts of the country, there is still to be found a remnant of the race of vandals, whose barbaric manners have improved but little since Rome has sacked. In some places, you will find the village school-house, within and without, marked scratched and cut in every possible way, looking as though the children for three or four generations had been striving hard to see who should deface it most. These young vandals, when they grow up try their hand on noble game, and will find their marks written or carved on every public edifice they visit. In the cupola of the State House in Boston, for instance, the names of thousands of these semi-barbarians may be seen. The same class of people seem bent on exterminating ornamental trees from our streets, and monuments, vases, statues, and public grounds. Even the hallowed ground of Mount Vernon is not safe from their ruthless hands.

Now all this is unquestionably an evidence of rude and barbaric manners. I am glad to know that there are some places where the people are improving in this respect. There are towns where the young are taught to respect public property and to admire and cherish works of taste and beauty. The school house, in such places, is free from all defacing marks, each scholar being anxious to preserve it from the assaults of knife and pencil. The graves of the dead are never desecrated by rude hands. The trees, which, with a kind regard to coming generations, have been set out in the public highways, are in no danger of being mutilated, girdled, or uprooted. Works of art are equally secure from abuse. How different is the aspect of such a town from one where this taste for the beautiful has not been cultivated! As the stranger passes through its streets and witnesses the marks of refinement and taste on every hand, it seems to him that he is among a new and superior race. I would commend the culture of this spirit to the reader. Avoid all barbarous assaults upon public and private property, and cherish a spirit of veneration for works of beauty and art.

AN EXTRAORDINARY ASSAULT CASE.
The Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia is engaged in trying the validity of the will of William Johnson, colored, deceased. It appears that Johnson many years ago, was a slave in Virginia, but fled to Philadelphia, where his freedom was purchased by Mayor Gilpin, through the efforts of a colored woman named Harvey, to whom he was subsequently married. Mrs. Harvey, who had several children when she married Johnson, but none by him, died in 1847, and in about a year after, it is alleged, he married Catherine Flynn, a white woman from Scotland, with whom he lived until a few days of his death, and had three children by her. A day or so before he died, he left the house of his white wife, and married his colored housekeeper, Nancy Douce, who was his step daughter by his first wife, and had four children at the time. To these children, who are acknowledged as his in his will, he left the great bulk of his valuable property, while to the children of the white woman he left $50 per annum until they were 21 years of age, when a certain amount is to be divided among them. The white wife now alleges, it is said, that the colored one, by improper means, induced Johnson to alter his will in favor of her children. Another singularity attending the case is that one of the female witnesses for the white wife is an English white woman, of great beauty and youth, who has a mulatto husband and children.

VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.
The office of Vice President has been previously vacant on the following occasions, viz: Twice by the death of the Vice Presidents, viz: George Clinton, April, 1812; his term expiring March 3, 1813. Elbridge Gerry, November, 1814; his term expiring March 3, 1816. Once by the resignation of John C. Calhoun, December 28, 1832; his term expiring March 3, 1833. Twice by the death of Presidents Harrison and Taylor, and the consequent accession of Vice Presidents Tyler and Fillmore to the Presidency—the former in April, 1841; the latter in July, 1850, leaving the Vice Presidency vacant for the remainder of their respective terms, and the President of the Senate with the right of succession to the Presidency. The powers and duties of the Vice President and the President of the Senate pro tem, are precisely the same, except that the latter votes as a Senator, and has the casting vote. Mr. Aitchison, the present President of the Senate pro tem, has only two years to serve as United States Senator.

"A LITTLE TIGHT."—We remonstrated with a young man of fine promise about indulging in the social glass. He replied, "I do not drink enough to hurt me; when I find myself going into excess, I will quit right off." We told him that we were not ignorant of the fact that he had been drunk. In a laughing way he responded, "Oh, well I have been a little tight two or three times but that is nothing." Day by day we saw the demon winding thread after thread of the cruel bond of appetite about him, and he still thought there was no danger. At length he was waked up to the unwelcome truth that he was a confirmed drunkard. We appealed again to our young and beloved friend, and he declared that he could not restrain himself, that he had no power to resist the tempter. That friend is now in the grave of a drunkard. Oh, young man, just forming habits of life, we beseech you pause and reflect before you quaff the first glass of the damning poison. Dash it down!—Ohio Organ.

Every man is in danger of becoming a drunkard who is in the habit of drinking ardent spirits. 1st. When he is warm. 2d. When he is cold. 3rd. When he is dry. 4th. When he is dull. 5th. When he is lively. 6th. When he travels. 7th. When he stays at home. 8th. When he is alone. 9th. When he is in company. 10th. When he is idle. 11th. When he is at work. 12th. When he is idle. 13th. Before meals. 14th. After meals. 15th. When he goes to bed. 16th. On holidays. 17th. On public occasions. 18th. On any day. 19th. On any day. 20th. On any occasion.

We seek happiness by heaping on our puny selves all we can, each one building, according to the joint force of his intellect and selfishness, a reversed pyramid, under which the smaller rises, the lower he is crushed on the small spot his small self can fill.

The best evidence that can be adduced in favor of the efficacy of Hooftland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. G. M. Jackson is the unnumbered testimonials from all parts of the Union; and although there may be many compounds prepared and represented as being worthy of a liberal patronage, yet we feel constrained to remark, that the vast number of testimonials with which the worthy doctor has been honored, by persons of the highest character and respectability, who found it necessary to have recourse to his preparation, is testimony sufficiently conclusive, that a more effectual remedy for the almost immediate relief of those afflicted with that dreful malady, dyspepsia, has never been discovered.

POISONING.
Thousands of parents who use a Vermifuge composed of Castor Oil, Calomel, &c., are not aware, that while they appear to benefit the patient, they are actually laying the foundations for a series of diseases, such as salivation, loss of sight, weakness of limbs, &c.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Hohenack's Medicines, to which we ask the attention of all directly interested in their own as well as their children's health. In Liver Complaints, all disorders arising from the bilious type, should make use of the only genuine medicine, Hohenack's Liver Pills. "BE NOT DECEIVED," but ask for Hohenack's Worm Syrup and Liver Pills, and observe that each has the signature of the Proprietor, J. N. HOHENACK, as none else are genuine.

ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER.
IMPORTANT TO DYSPEPTICS.
DR. J. S. THOUGHTON'S PEPsin, THE TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID, OR GASTRIC JUICE, prepared from RENNET or the FOURTH STOMACH OF THE OX, after directions of BARON LIEBIG, the great Physiologist and Chemist, by J. S. THOUGHTON, M. D., Philadelphia. This is a wonderful remedy for INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSTIPATION and DEBILITY, curing after Nature's own method, by Nature's own Agent, the GASTRIC JUICE. Pamphlets, containing Scientific evidence of its value, furnished by agents gratis. See notice among the medical advertisements.

TO THE SICK.
For the effectual rooting out from the system of a disease brought on by indigestion, biliousness and impurity of the blood, it is a widely and well known fact that WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are the great PALMERS. Throughout the entire South, these Pills have long been held in the highest repute, both by private individuals and by the Medical Faculty of our country. Southern fevers and Southern diseases generally, yield to their influence at once; and the unfortunate victim to "sorely ills and woes" is made to thank Heaven that a charitable balm has been provided.

Let each try them for himself and if the medicine fails to satisfy, the experiment shall cost him nothing. THOS. J. WORKMAN, Agent for Camden, S. C., and all by Druggists and Merchants throughout the country. June 28—ly.
