To the Physicians of the State of South Carolina. WOLFES CELEBRATED SCHIEDAM AROMA-VV 11C SCHNAPPS—Deeming it unnecessar, to remind any regular member of the Medical profession of the established medical properties of pure 1. olland Gin in many diseases of dropsical tendency, I respect-fully invite your examination to a very superior article, manufactured by myself exclusively, at Schiedam, in Holland, by a process peculiar to my own factory. It is flavored and medicated, not by the common harsh berry, but by the choice botanical variety of the aromatic Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, and thus becomes a concentrated tineture of ex-quisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendent, in ts cordial and medicinal properties, to any Holland

Gin heretofore known.

Amid the influx of inferior distillations with which the market is now flooded, physicians find no little difficulty in procuring a good and pure G.n, which they can prescribe with confidence in its beneficial effects. As an importer of twenty year's standing, in the city of New York, and possessing a matured experience in the manufacture of Holland Gir, especially I beg to submit to your attention my AROMA-TIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, as one which cannot fail to realize your utmost expectations, and I shall be happy to forward you a little of it, free of charges, in answer to a letter intimating your readiness to ac-

It is now scarcely one year since I have prepared and distributed thy Schiedam Gin exclusively for medical purposes; yet within that brief period, I have received numerous letters, both from physicians and patients, testifying to its really extraordinary efficacy in Gravel, Incipient Dropsy, and affections of the Kid-neys and Bladder generally; also in Dyspeptic Mala-dies, when taken in proper quantities as a Diet Drink. and especially at dinner, is found, by uniform experience, to be eminently efficacious in the most obstinate cases, when even the best of the usual remedia have failed to afford more than temporary relief, and I have no doubt that it would yield similar results with precision and certainty in your own professional experience. The Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is put up in strong bottles, pints and quarts, neatly covered and labelled with my name embossed on the bottle; also a fac simile of my signature on the label, and my seal on the cork, with an essay upon its properties.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Im orter, 22 Beaver street New York.

Extracts from the New York Medical Gazette and Journal of Health, edited by D. M. Reese M. D., LLD. 775 Broadway, October 1, 1852: Holland Gin as a Medicine.

In our last number, we accompanied the publication of a circular on this subject, from our fellow citizen, Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., with a brief commentary, expressive of our own views. Since then we have been employing this agent, and thus far with favorable results. But we are in the receipt of several commu-nications on the subject from medical men, which serve to show that Mr. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is very extensively in use, and in the lands of physicians, is proving itself, as a stimulating ciu-retic, to be eminently successful, after other medica tion with this intent had ceen tried in vain. In one of the cases thus reported, abdominal dropsy has been entirely removed by the passage of a calculous of considerable size which is ascribed to the use of only two bottles of this article.

We know not the object of Mr. Wolfe in designa ting his preparation by the singularly uneuphoneous name of "Schnapps," nor of his denominating it in his advertisements the "concentrated Tincture of Juniper," instead of perpetuating its ancient title of Holland Gin. It is true that he admits it to be nothing else than the latter article in its pure state, unadulterated by nox ous drugs; and hence he contradistinguishes it from the Gin of commerce, nearly all of which, as is well known, is manufactured here and elsewhere from inferior whiskey and refuse drugs. The name he has given it, however, may serve the purpose of designating his article as prepared exclusively for medical purposes, and thus commend it to physicians, for whose convenience it is on sale only by reputable druggists and apothecaries. As respects its medicinal and curative effects, we understand him to claim only that it is a pure and reliable article of Holland Gin, and as such, worthy of the confidenc of Physicians, to those diseases for which they are strained by finding it impractible to obtain the article in a pure state. Nor should any preju-dice against alcoholic medicine deprive the afflicted of the benefit of this article, which from time immemorial has held its place among the remedial agencies of the Materia Medica, if it be found worthy of confidence by continued experience.

At all events, those who persist in the employment and toleration of other alcoholic medicines, as tinctures, bitters, &c., and especially those who prescribe Gin under any circumstances, must all unite in giving the preference to a pure article over the manifold adulterations so rife in the market. Mr. Wolfe liberally supplies physicians with a sample bottle for analysis and trial, as set forth in his circular, and stakes the reputation of the remedy upon the innocence, safety and efficiency of his Holland Gin, when used under medical advice, and pledges his own character in business that the article will not disappoint any

From the New York Express, October 26, 1852.

Medical Liquors. In common, I presume, with many others of the profession, I received, some few months since, a circuhar addressed "To Physicians throughout the United States," by Mr. Udolpho Wolfe, the importer of Bea ver street, inviting a medical and chemical examina-tion of a new article of Holland Gin, manufactured by himself, at Schiedam, in Holland, by a peculiar process, and put up for medical use, under thu some-what Dutch title of "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps." The circular claims for this article an eminently su perior degree of purity, aroma, flavor, and medicinal efficacy : and offers, moreover, a gratuitous supply of it to any physician who may feel disposed to test these claims in a scientific and professional manner. Being familiar with three facts i, relation to the use of Holland Gin, as a medicine, namely: first, that when pure, it absolutely invaluable and not to be exchanged for any other remedy known to the profession, in many complaints, both acute and chronic secondly, that amid the multitude of ill-made or adul-Will offer to FAMILIES and PLANTERS visiting Charleston this Spring the CHOICEST STOCK of pure Holland Gin is scarcely to be obtained at any rice; and thirdly, that the radical impurities of any inferior or spurious Gin consist, first, of the hydra ed oxide of Amyl, a poisonous oil, or more commonly known as Potato Spirit, Fousel Oil, or Amilic Alcohol and secondly, of the heavier of the two essential oils of Juniper, instead of the lighter-which impurities usually result from the mercenary system of an excessive distillation of the materials employed—I re solved to accept of Mr. Udolpho Wolfe's challenge, and put his "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps" to the test of rigid analysis. And I was induced to do this (notwithstanding the proprietor's long standing and reputed respectability as an importer) because the purity of Gin, above that of every other spiritness liquor employ-(notwithstanding the proprietor's long sanding and reputed respectability as an importer) because the purity of Gin, above that of every other spirituous liquor employed in medical practice, is of the most vital consequence to the community, inarmuch as it is subject to two distinct causes of pernicious impurity, namely; the inferior oil of Juniper, as well as the Fousd oil; I found moreover, the "Aromatic Schwapps" strongly recommended by a physician and writer of no less influence than D. M. Reese, of the Ne x York Medical Gazette, and by many of the most entinent members of the profession, who I had no reason to suppose had obtained any other than empiracal evidence of its pharms centical purity and value. I therefore resolved to inform medical men at least, for the sake of the public at large, of the results of my investigation; whether they proved favorable or otherwise to the character of tharitele and to the interest of the proprietor.

Those results are as follows: Searching first for the oil of Juniper by distillation, I obtained an oil, from two quarts of the liquid, whose specific gravity was 0.832 and whose boiling point was 313 degrees, nor did successive re-distillation yield an oil of greater gravity, or of any other kind whatever. The same quantity of common Holland Gin, so called, yielded an excessive amount, by re-distillation, of oil weighing 0.871 with the boiling point 42 degrees; the lighter oil having previously passed over. This was conclusive as to the super, ority of Mr. Wolfe's Gin in relation to the oil of Juniper, upon which the arcoma, flavor, and dimetic and other medicinal properties of every kind of Gin essentially depend.

As to the Fousel oil, with which all inferior spirituous liquors are more or less impregnated, and which renders them poisonous in the exact ratio in which they are imbibled—which causes such liquors to intoxicate when others them poisonous in the exact ratio in which they are imbibled—which causes such liquors of provides of petition of the provides of petit as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of inedical patronage. It is indebted for its superfority, doubt not, to sound and select materials, and to that peculiarly moderate method of distillation which leaves the heavier and less volatile essential cils to hof the barley and the berry, behind in the still. This, also, is sufficient to account for the refined around of this above other gins, but in regard to the special qualities of the Italian Juniper berry, of which the manufacturer speaks in his circular berry, of which the manufacturer speaks in his circular that the pure oil of both polarizes to the left, and yields, with hydrochloric acid, a liquid campher. This acid heing in the stomach as a principal component of the gastric jure, probably creates this material from the cil, and renders it the valuable diffusive cimulant for which it was formerly and will, probably, again be renowned.

I consequently regard Mr Wolfe's "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps" as a valuable accession to our pluripaceutic agents; to say nothing of its comparative innochousness to those who use distilled liquors as a beverage. To persons travelling in the Southwest, where the best water frequently produces distressing and sometimes even daragerous effects upon persons unaccustomed to them, tshould in his it would be a good precautionary provision, as a counteractive or preventive of those effects, when mised in moderate quantities. At all events, it is the purest positible article of Hol'and Gin, heretofore anobtainable, and as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

THE subscriber begs respectfully to inform his nu-merous friends and the public generally, that he has taken a lease of this delightful resort, which he will open for the reception of visitors between the 22d inst. and the 1st July next.

The subscriber is now engaged in procuring new furniture, de., of the most elegant description, and is determined to spare no expense to render this Establishment one of the most agreeable and desirable Summer Residences in the United States. The Moultric House can accommodate two hundred guests, and is most pleasantly situated, fronting and within a few yards of the ocean, the invigorating breezes from which prove equally beneficial to the seeker for health or pleasure.

Of amusements there will be no deficiency, 4 Billiard Tables, and 3 Bowling Saloons being on the premises, in addition to which Horses and Carriages can be procured at any moment in the immediate vi-einity of the House, thus enabling visitors to avail themselves of the delightful rides and drives that the magnificent Beach affords. Boats also, for the conve-nience of Fishing Parties can always be obtained.

The Table will be supplied with every delicacy that the markets of New-York, Havana, Key West and Charleston can furnish, and the Bar will contain none but the choicest Liquors.

The Subscriber's long experience in the business justifies him in saying, in conclusion, that nothing will be left undone on his part, for the comfort and gratification of his visitors, and his chief care has been to procure assistants and servants who can be depended
