Unequaled Flour and Grain Mills THIS Grist Mill has never been equaled, either in its simplicity, portability, compactness, or beau ty of design. The frame work and easing are of cast iron, as also are the hoppers. A easting consisting of a triple-shaped base, with three columns resting uopn it, constitutes the frame-work which supports the casing. The easing is the cylindrical portion, or main body of the Mill, resting upon, and secured to the columns and serves the purpose of inclosing and bolding the stones in their places. The casing is made in two equal parts, and each part is composed of a The edges of the rims are closely fitted together and are secured by three bolts. frame and casing thus connected readily admits the advantage of three babit metal boxes for the support of the spindle. One in the center of the base, and one in the middle of either plate of the casing. This arrangement renders the parts positively indipled to stand the pressure of grinding without yielding in the least degree, and therefore it is that these Mills are known to grind the same quality of flour and meal, whether fed at five or twenty-five bushels per hour.

The spindle being secured firmly and rigidly to the running stone, takes its bearings in the three boxes above named, and sustains the weight of the stone and the pressure of granding, by resting upon a moveable step inserted in the center of the base. The hop per, which holds two bushels of grain, is supported upon the top of the Mill, by three pillars which are screwed into the upper place of the easing. The grain is fed and regulated by an ordinary shee and a slide in the hopper. The stones are driven by a pulley of fifteen inches diameter, and eight inches face, which is placed upon the lower end of the spindle between the columns. The arms of the pulley are constructed in the form of spiral wings, for the purpose of driving a strong blast of air through apertures in the casing in contact with the stones, to keep them cool

One of these entire Milis, including the hopper, with stones two feet and a-half in diameter, and ca of them out from a solid block of burr, weighing is all about 1,300 pounds, and warranted capable of grinding, in the best manner, twenty-five bushels per hour of flour or meal, may be packed in a cask thir ty-four by forty-two inches inside, and this transported in safety to any part of the world.

Farmers will find them adapted to be driven by their horse powers. And although they are large enough to do the greatest amount of work, they will also grind two bushels per hour of fair meal with a one horse power, and more in the same proportion. The demand for a Mill which can be driven by horse pow er, and grind grain to advantage, without getting out of order, has not heretofore been supplied; mills of peck measure dimensions do not seem to be big enough. The objection to this Mill, if any, is not that it does not work well, but that it costs too much, perhaps; but others must decide about that, as there are enough cheaper ones. They have given satisfaction in all cases where they have been tried, and are now used in place of common mill stones, in many of the best establishments throughout the country, with decided advantage, both in the power required and in the quantity and quality of the flour and meal. The first premiums have always been awarded them, over all competition, at all the Fairs where they have been exhibited, viz: two Gold Medal's form the American Institute, in 1849 and 1850, and a Silver Medal from the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanical Association. in 1850; Diploma in 1851, from the Middlesex Me chanics' Association, and a Premium of $10, from the New York State Fair, September, 1852.

Persons desiring a further description, will be furnished with a circular containing all necessary infor-mation on application to W. W. TRYON & Co. agents, at Camden, S. C., who will sell the Mills at the Manufacturers prices. One of the Mills can be seen in operation at the residence of E. Tryon, in Camden. 27

To the Physicians of the State of

WOLFE'S CELEBRATED SUHIEDAM AROMA-TIC SCHNAPPS—Deeming it unprecessar, to emind any regular member of the Medical profession of the established medical properties of pure colland Gin in many diseases of dropsical tendency, I respect fully invite your examination to a very superior article, manufactured by myself exclurively, at Schiedam, in Holland, by a process peculiar to my own factory. It is flavored and medicated, not by the common harsh berry, but by the choice botanical variety of the aromatic Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous ex-tract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, and thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendent, in its cordial and medicinal properties, to any Holland

Gin heretofore known.

A mid the influx of inferior distillations with which the market is now flooded, physicians find no little they can prescribe with confidence in its beneficial effects. As an importer of twenty year's standing, in the city of New Yark, and possessing a matured experience in the manufacture of Holland Gis, especially I beg to submit to your attention my AROMA-TIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, as one which cannot fail to realize your utmost expectations, and I shall be happy to forward you a little of it, free of charges, in answer to a letter intimating your readiness to accept it.

It is now scarcely one year since I have prepared and distributed my Schiedam Gis exclusively for medical purposes; yet within that brief period, I have received numerous letters, both from physicians and patients, testifying to its really extraordinary effleacy in Gravel, Incipient Dropsy, and affections of the Kidneys and Bladder generally; also in Dyspeptic Maladies, when taken in proper quantities as a Diet Drink, SEVENTY FIVE CENTS per share, for the last six and especially at dimer, is found, by uniform experience, to be eminently efficacious in the most obstinate cases, when even the lest of the usual remedica have failed to afford more than temporary relief, and I have no doubt that it would yield similar results with precision and certainty in your own professional experience.

The Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is put up in strong bottles, pints and quarts, neatly covered and labelled with my name embossed on the bottle; also a fac simile of my signature on the label, and my seal on the cork, with an essay upon its properties.
UDOLPHO WOLFE,

Extracts from the New York Medical Gazette and Journal of Health, edited by D. M. Reese M. D, Im orter, 22 Beaver street New York.

LLD. 775 Broadway, October 1, 1852: Holland Gin as a Medicine. In our lest number, we accompanied the publication of a circular on this subject, from our fellow citizen, Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., with a brief commentary, expressive of our own views. Since then we have been employing this agent, and thus far with favorable re-sults. But we are in the receipt of several communications on the subject from medical men, which serve to show that Mr. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is very extensively in use, and in the hands of physicians, is proving itself, as a stimulating eiuretic, to be eminently successful, after other medication with this intent had seen tried in vain. In one of the cases thus reported, abdominal dropsy has been entirely removed by the passage of a calculous of considerable size which is ascribed to the use of only two bottles of this article.

We know not the object of Mr. Wolfe in designa-ting his preparation by the singularly uncuphoneous name of "Schnapps," nor of his denominating it in his alvertisements the "concentrated Tineture of Juniper," instead of perpetuating its ancient title of Holland Gin. It is true that he admits it to be nothing else than the latter article in its pure state, unadulterated by noxious drugs; and hence he contradis tinguishes it from the Gin of commerce, nearly all of which, as is well known, is manufactured here and clsewhere from inferior whiskey and refuse drugs. The name he has given it, however, may serve the purpose of designating his article as prepared exclusively for medical purposes, and thus commend it to physicians, for whose convenience it is on sale only by reputable druggists and apothecaries.

As respects its medicinal and curative effects, we understand him to claim only that it is a pure and re liable article of Holland Gin, and as such, worthy of the confidence of Physicians, to those diseases for which they are strained by finding it impractible to obtain the article in a pure state. Nor should any preju-dice against alcoholic medicine deprive the afflicted of the benefit of this article, which from time immemorial has held its place among the remedial agen-cies of the Materia Medica, if it be found worthy of confidence by continued experience. At all events, those who persist in the employment and toleration of other alcoholic medicines, as tinetures, bitters, &c., and especially those who prescribe Gin under any circumstances, must all unite in giving the preference to a pure article over the manifold dulterations so rife in the market. Mr. Wolfe liberally supplies physicians with a sample bottle for analysis and trial, as set forth in his circular, and stakes the reputation of the remedy upon the innocence, safety and efficiency of his Holland Gin, when used under medical advice, and pledges his own character in business that the article will not disappoint any Medical Liquors. In common, I presume, with many others of the vofession, I received, some few months since, a circuar addressed "To Physicians throughout the United States," by Mr. Udolpho Wolfe, the importer of Bea ver street, inviting a medical and chemical examina tion of a new article of Holland Gin, manufactured by bimself, at Schiedam, in Holland, by a peculiar process, and put up for medical use, under the some what Dutch title of "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps." The circular claims for this article an eminently superior degree of purity, aroma, flavor, and medicinal efficacy: and offers, moreover, a gratuitous supply of it to any physician who may feel disposed to test these claims in a scientific and professional manner.

Being familiar with three facts in relation to the use of Holland Gin, as a medicine, namely: first, that when pure, it absolutely invaluable and not to be exchanged for any other remedy known to the prolession, in many complaints, both acute and chronic secondly, that amid the multitude of ill-made or adulterated liquors with which this country abounds, a pure Holland Gin is scarcely to be obtained at any price; and thirdly, that the radical impurities of any inferior or spurious Gin consist, first, of the hydra'ed oxide of Amyl, a poisonous oil, or more commonly known as Potato Spirit, Fousel Oil, or Amilic Alcohol; and secondly, of the heavier of the two essential oils of Juniper, instead of the lighter—which impurities usually result from the mercenary system of an excessive distillation of the materials employed-1 re solved to accept of Mr. Udolpho Wolfe's challenge, and put his "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps" to the test of rigid analysis. And I was induced to do this (not withstanding the proprietor's long standing and reputed respectability as an importer) because the purity of Gin, above that of every other spirituous liquor employ-ed in medical practice, is of the most vital consequence to ed in medical practice, is of the most vital consequence to the community, inasmuch as it is subject to two distinct causes of permicious impurity, namely; the inferior oil of Juniper, as well as the Foned oil; I found moreover, the "Aromatic Schnapes" strongly recommended by a physi-cian and writer of no less influence than D. M. Reese, of the Ne v York Medical Gazette, and by many of the most eminent members of the profession, who I had no reason to suppose had obtained any other than empiracial evidence of its pharme centical purity and value. I therefore re-solved to inform medical men at least, for the sake of the public at large, of the results of my investigation; whether of its parameterinear pany can solved to inform realization and it least, for the sake of the public at large, of the results of my investigation; whether they proved favorable or otherwise to the character of the rice is and in the interest of the proprietor. Those results are as follows: Searching first for the oil of Jumper by distillation, I obtained an oil, from two quarts of the liquid, whose specific gravity was 0.52 and whose boiling point was 313 degrees, nor did successive realistillation yield in oil of greater gravity, or of any other kind whatever. The same quantity of common Hodeard Gu, so called, yielded an excessive amount, by realistillation, of oil weighing 0.571 with the boiling point 42 degrees; the lighter oil having previously passed over. This was conclusive as to the supertority of Mr. Wolfe's This was conclusive as to the superiority of Mr. Wolfe's Gia in relation to the oil of Jamper, upon which the aro-

Gio in relation to the oil of Jamper, upon which the aroma, flavor, and dimetic and other medicinal properties of ever kind of Gio essentially depend.

As to the Fousel ort, with which all inferior spirituous liquous are more or less impregnated, and which renders them poisonem in the exact ratio in which they are imbibled—which causes such liquors to intoxicate when others do n 1, and creates that morbid, insatiable appetite for undue inabilgence, with all its deplorable consequences, of which the friends of temperature and philauthropy so justly complain, instead of man satiety and fastidiousness of taste, for which the drinkers of pure liquous are disof taste, for which the drinkers of pure liquors are dis tinguished of this felid, acral asthmatical Fousel oil, I form! no trace in Mr. Wolfe's medicinal Gin, although TECOMES IS A. M. CORRESEGUE.

OTTON GIN MAKER. Rutledge Street, one and obtains it in the ordinary spiritness liquors. Accordingly, I feel bound to say that I regard this Gin as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving us nonigarrevery respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of wedged patrolage. It is incelled for its superiority, I doubt not, to sound and select materials, and to that perularly moderate method of distriction which haves the heavier and less volatile essential one both of the barley and the berry, behind in the still. List also, is sufficient to account for the refined around of this above other gins, but in regard to the spacial condition of the lands being. to account for the refined arem of this above other gins, but in regard to the special qualities of the Italian Juniper berry, of which the manufacturer speaks in this circular. I have no chemical knowledge, nor wherein its lighter oit differs from that of the Juniperis communis. I find that the pure oil of both polarizes to the left, and yields, with hydrochloric acid, a liquid camphor. This acid, being in the stomach as a principal component of the gastric fuice, probably creates this material from the oil, and renders it the valuable diffusive stimulant for which it was formerly and will probably again by renowned.

and will probably, again be renowned.

I consequently regard Mr Wolfe's "Schiedem Aromatic
Schoolies" as a valuable accession to our pharmaceutic gents: to say nothing of its comparative innocuousness to those who use distilled liquors as a beverage. To perto those who use distilled liquors as a beverage. To persons travelling in the Southwest, where the best water frequently produces distressing and sometimes even dangerous effects upon persons unaccustomed to them. I should think it would be a good precautionary provision, as a counteractive or preventive of those effects, when mixed in moderate quantities. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and as well as the product of the production of the product of the person of the product of the person of the product of the person of t such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.
