To the Physicians of the State of South Carolina. WOLFE'S CELEBRATED SCHIEDAM AROMA-11C SCHNAPPS—Deeming it unnecessar, to remind any regular member of the Medical profession I'the established medical properties of pure nothand Gin in many diseases of dropsical tendency, I respect fully invite your examination to a very superior artiele, manufactured by myself exclusively, at Schiedum, in Holland, by a process peculiar to my own factory. It is flavored and medicated, not by the common harsh berry, but by the choice botanical variety of the aromatic Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritness solvent, and thus becomes a concentrated inclure of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendent, in ts cordial and medicinal properties, to any Holland

Gin heretofore known.

Amid the influx of inferior distillations with which the market is now flooded, physicians find no little difficulty in procuring a good and pure Gm. which they can prescribe with confidence in its beneficial ffects. As an importer of twenty year's standing, in the city of New York, and possessing a matured experience in the manufacture of Holland Gix, especially I beg to submit to your attention my AROMA-TIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, as one which cannot fail to realize your utmost expectations, and I shall be happy to forward you a little of it, free of charges, in answer to a letter intimating your readiness to accept it.

It is now scarcely one year since I have prepared and distributed my Schieban Gix exclusively for medical purposes; yet within that brief period, I have received numerous letters, both from physicians and patients, testifying to its really extraordinary efficacy in Gravel, Incipient Dropsy, and affections of the Kid neys and Bladder generally; also in Dyspeptic Mala-dies, when taken in proper quantities as a 1-let Drink; and especially at dinner, is found, by uniform experience, to be eminently efficacious in the most obsti nate cases, when even the best of the usual remedi have failed to afford more than temporary relief, and I have no doubt that it would yield similar results with precision and certainty in your own professional

The Aromatic Schiedam Schnappe is put up in strong bottles, pints and quarts, neatly covered and labelled with my name embossed on the bottle; also a fac simile of my signature on the label, and my seal on the cork, with an essay upon its properties. UDOLPHO WOLFE, Im orter, 22 Benver street New York.

Extracts from the New York Medical Gazette and Journal of Health, edited by D. M. Reese .M. D., LLD. 775 Broadway, October 1, 1852: Holland Gin as a Medicine. In our lest number, we accompanied the publication of a circular on this subject, from our fellow citizen, Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., with a brief commentary, expressive of our own views. Since then we have been employing this agent, and thus far with hyorable results. But we are in the receipt of several commu nications on the subject from medical men, which serve to show that Mr. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is very extensively in use, and in the bands of physicians, is proving itself, as a stimulating ciu-rctic, to be eminently successful, after other medica ion with this intent had ceen tried in vain. In one of the cases thus reported, abdominal dropsy has been entirely removed by the passage of a calculous of considerable size which is ascribed to the use of only two bottles of this article.

We know not the object of Mr. Wolfe in designating his preparation by the singularly uneuphoneous name of "Schnapps," nor of his depominating it in his advertisements the "concentrated Tineture of Juiper," instead of perpetuating its ancient title of Holland Gin. It is true that he admits it to be nothing else than the latter article in its pure state, unadul-terated by noxious drugs; and hence he contradisinguishes it from the Gin of commerce, nearly all of which, as is well known, is manufactured here and elsewhere from inferior whiskey and refuse drugs. The name he has given it, however, may serve the purpose of designating his article as prepared exclu-sively for medical purposes, and thus commend it to physicians, for whose convenience it is on sale only by reputable druggists and apothecaries.

As respects its medicinal and curative effects, we understand him to claim only that it is a pure and reliable article of Holland Gin, and as such, worthy of the confidenc of Physicians, to those diseases for which they are strained by finding it impractible to obtain the article in a pure state. Nor should any preju-dice against alcoholic medicine deprive the afflicted of the benefit of this article, which from time immemorial has held its place among the remedial agen-cies of the Materia Medica, if it be found worthy of confidence by continued experience.

At all events, those who persist in the employment and toleration of other alcoholic medicines, as tinetures, bitters, &c., and especially those who prescribe Gin under any circumstances, must all unite in giving the preference to a pure article over the manifold adulterations so rife in the market. Mr. Wolfe liberally supplies physicians with a sample bottle for anniysis and trial, as set forth in his circular, and stakes sidence of E. Tryon, in Camden. the reputation of the remedy upon the innocence, safety and efficiency of his Holland Gin, when used under medical advice, and pledges his own character in business that the article will not disappoint any who use it.

From the New York Express, October 26, 1852. Medical Liquors.

In common, I presume, with many others of the profession, I received, some few months since, a circular addressed "To Physicians throughout the United States," by Mr. Udolpho Wolfe, the importer of Beaver street, inviting a medical and chemical examinaion of a new article of Holland Gin, manufactured by himself, at Schiedam, in Holland, by a peculiar process, and put up for medical use, under the somehat Dutch title of "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps. The circular claims for this article an eminently su perior degree of purity, aroma, flavor, and medicinal efficacy : and offers, moreover, a gratuitous supply of t to any physician who may feel disposed to test these daims in a scientific and professional manner.

Being familiar with three facts in relation to the use of Holland Gin, as a medicine, namely : first, that when pure, it absolutely invaluable and not to be exchanged for nov other remedy known to the profession, in many complaints, both acute and chronic; secondly, that amid the multitude of ill-made or adulerated liquors with which this country abounds, a pure Holland Gin is scarcely to be obtained at any price; and thirdly, that the radical impurities of any nterior or spurious Gin consist, first, of the hydra ed oxide of Amyl, a poisonous oil, or more commonly known as Potato Spirit, Fousel Oil, or Antilic Alcohol and secondly, of the heavier of the two essential oils of Juniper, instead of the lighter—which impurities usually result from the mercenary system of an excessive di-tillation of the materials employed—1 re-solved to accept of Mr. Udolpho Wolfe's challenge, and put his "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps" to the test of rigid analysis. And I was induced to do this (notwithstanding the proprietor's long standing and reputed respectability as an importer) because the purity of Gin, above that of every other spirituous liquor emcloyed in medical practice, is of the most vital consequence to the community, has much as it is subject to two distinct causes of pernicious impurity, namely; the inferior oil of Juniver, as web as the Fonsel oil; I found moreover, the Juniver, as wetens the Fousel oil; I found moreover, the "Aromatic Schnapps" strongly recommended by a physician and writer of no less influence than D. M. Reese, of the Ne v York Medical Gazette, and by many of the most eminent members of the profession, who I had no reason to suppose had obtained any other than empiracial evidence of its pharms central purity and value. I therefore resolved to inform medical men at least, for the sake of the public at large, of the results of my investigation; whether they may all favorable or otherwise to the character of er they proved favorable or otherwise to the character of tharticle and to the interest of the proprietor. Those results are as follows: Searching first for the oil of Juniper by distillation. I obtained an oil, from two of Jumper by distillation. I obtained an oil, from two quarts of the liquid, whose specific gravity was 0.832 and whose boiling point was 313 degrees, nor did successive re-distillation yield an oil of greater gravity, or of any other kind whatever. The same quantity of common Holland Gin, so called, yielded an excessive amount, by re-distillation, of oil weighing 0.871 with the boiling point 42 degrees; the lighter oil having previously passed over. This was conclusive as to the super ority of Mr. Wo'fe's Gin in relation to the oil of Juniper, upon which the aroma, flavor, and directle and other medicinal properties of over kind of Gin este super ority depend.

every kind of Gin essentially depend.

As to the Fousel on, with which all inferior spirituous liquors are more or less impregnated, and which renders liquors are more or less impregnated, and which renders them poisonous in the exact ratio in which they are imbibed—which causes such liquors to intoxicate when others do n t, and creates that morbid, insatiable appetite for under indulgence, with all its deplorable consequences, of which the friends of temperance and philanthropy so justly complain, instead of that satiety and fastidiousness of taste, for which the drinkers of pure liquors are distinguished—of this fetid, aerid astlomatical Fousel oil, I found no trace in Mr. Wolfe's medicinal Gin, although I repeatedly tested various quantities of it with the chloride of calcium, by the usual process, which so readily detects of calcium, by the usual process, which so readily detects and obtains it in the ordinary spirituous liquors. Accordingly, I feel bound to say that I regard this Gin as being in every respect proremits only ourse, is deserving, of medical patronage. It is indicated for its superiority. I doubt not to sound autherbest indicatink, and to that peculiarly moderate method of distillation which leaves the heavier and less volatile essential ais both of the barley and the barry, belimin the stid. I have no the indicating the stid of the halfon in the stid. I have no them if a the amount acturer speaks in his circular, but in regard to the special qualities of the halfon Juniper berry, of which the manufacturer speaks in his circular, I have no chemical knowledge, nor wherein its lighter of deffers from that of the amounts countries. I find that the page oit of both polarizes to the fet and visitis, with hydrocritoric acid, a liquid complete. Asis, acid using in the stomach as a principal component of the gaster plus, probably chains this material from the cit, and ten-or is the without existing material from the cit, and ten-or is the without existing in the reasoned.

Tenosequently regard Mr. Wolfe's "Schiedam Aromatic Schrapps" as a villumble recession to give planmateutic agents: to say malling if its comparative innochomerical to those whouse distilled liquous as a beverage. Edward Harrison's Unequaled Flour and Grain Mills.

Tills Grist Mill has never been equaled, either in its simplicity, portability, compactness, or beauty of design. The frame work and casing are of cast on, as also are the hoppers. A casting consisting of triple-shaped base, with three columns resting untain it, constitutes the frame-work which emplored the casing. - The casing is the cylindrical portion, or main body of the Mill, resting upon, and secured to the columns, and serves the purpose of inclosing and holding the stones in their places. The casing is made is two equal parts, and each part is composed of a plate and rim. The edges of the rims are clearly fit ted together and are secured by three bobs. The frame and tasing thus connected readily admits the advantage of three babit metal boxes for the support of the spindle. One in the center of the lase, and mean the middle of either plate of the casing. This arrangement renders the parts neculially adapted to stand the pressure of grinding without vielding in the least degree, and therefore it is that these Mile are known to grind the same quality of flour and meal, whether fed at five or twenty-five burbels per hour. The spindle being scoured firmly and rigidly to the running stone, takes its bearings in the three boxes above named, and sustains the weight of the stone and the pressure of grinding, by resting upon a more able step inserted in the center of the base. The base per, which holds two bushels of grain, is all planted upon the top of the Mill, by three pillars which are serewed into the upper pl te of the casing. The grani is fed and regulated by an ordinary shee and a side in the hopper. The stones are driven by a pilley of fifteen inches diameter, and eight inches fare, while is placed upon the lower end of the spindle between the columns. The arms of the pulley are constructed in the form of spiral wings, or the purpose of driving a strong blast of air through apertures in the casing in contact with the stones to keep them edd!

with stones two feet and a half in diameter, and sach One of these entire Mills, including the h with stones two feet and a half in diameter, and sach of them ent from a solid block, of bury, weighing is all about 1,300 pounds, and warranted capable of grinding, in the best manner, twenty-five bushels per hour of flour or meal, may be packed in a case that ty-four by forty-two inches theids, and the transported in safety to any part of, the world.

Farmers will find them adapted to be driven by their horse powers. And although they are large enough to do the greatest amount of work, they will also grind two bushels-per hour of fair nead, with a one horse power, and more in the same proportion. The horse power, and more in the same proportion. The demand for a Mill which can be driven by horse pow er, and grind grain to advantage, without getting out of order, has not heretofere been supplied; mills of peck measure dimensions do not seem to be big enough. The objection to this Mill, if any, is not that it does not work well; but that it costs too much, perhaps; but others must decide about that, as there are enough others must decide about that, as there are enough cheaper ones. They have given satisfaction in all cases where they have been tried, and are now used. cases where they have been tried, and are now used, in place of common mill stones, in many of the usel, establishments throughout the country, with decided advantage, both in the power required and in the quantity and quality of the flour and meal.
