From the Charleston Mercary. Agricultural Science.

In my communication of vesterday, I con fixed my remarks to the inadequate provision, or rather the absence of all provision, in our system of education, for imparing lastruction in agriculture to our youth who are gradbate l at College. If the educated men are not so taught, it is hardly necessary to say that our less cultivated class is in no better condition -- that the men whose peculiar business it is to supervise the agricultural operations of the State never learn the first principles of agriculture.

These men, the Overseers of the country. constitute a very important part of our people. The prosperity of the State, its safety indeed is to a large extent in their hands. During overseers. Is it not of the highest importance fit of the public. to the State to elevate that character? Should enlightened system of instruction. But above himself, and be governed by the result. . all is it necessary for those who are to superintend the farming of the country. Ignorance in their case is prejudicial not to the individual only, but to the hundreds whom he directs, to the parties by whom he is employed, to the resources of the State itself.

It is common enough to hear men speak disparagoingly of overseers. Certainly there are many of them to whom serious objections may be made; but, considering them as a class, the oily wonder is that they discharge their duties as faithfully as they do, in the absence of every particle of instruction in any one of the important offices they necessarily fill.

But if they are deficient and incapable, will the complaint or derision of the employer provide a remedy? Employed they must be. What then remains for the planter but to urge the application of the proper means for rendering them more intelligent and useful? These means are adequate instruction i. his business. There, as elsewhere knowledge is power. And this, like every other branch or department of knowledge, must be acquired, and does not come by nature.

And yet, to judge from the course pursued by our people, in reference to agricultural improvements, one might fairly conclude that our conviction is quite the reverse. We seem to think that a planter acquires, with his plantation, sufficient knowledge of the mode by which it may be efficiently managed, without an effort to learn it. The consequence is that he is unable, in a proper manner, to conduct the simplest farming operation. He is unable to cut a ditch intelligently, or with a certainty that he is about to accomplish the and proposed. He knows nothing about ascertaining the level of the land over which his work is about to be carried. It is quite possible that after a great deal of labor is thrown away, he ascertains that the proposed outlet of his ditch is higher than the beginning. It is all guesswork. His only preparation for his life's occu pation is learning to construct Horace to deliver a declamation, and acquire sufficient familiarity with the gods, goddesses and heroes of ancient times. The preparation of the overseer is equally left to nature. He has seen or handled a shovel plough on a sand hill or pinewood farm or patch of corn and potatoes. He can write an intelligible letter. With this amount of preparatory training, he takes charge of the health and comfort of a hundred slaves, and conducts the complicated concerns of a large plantation. The proprietor knows nothing practically or theoretically, the overseer is no better prepared for the business. Is it all sur-prising that the agriculture of the country is in so deplorable state! Can we wonder that within 10 miles of the large city of Charleston, the Queen City of the South, as some are pleased to call her, land of excellent quality bears a nominal value, that large bodies of it lie uncultivated that plantations of great fertility, atter having been cleared with great labor and cultivated after our imperfect modes stand unoccupied and abandoned? And yet this, as lamentable as it is, excites no surprise and commands no attention. It is the natural results of our ignorance in our business.

I have made an imperfect statement of the evil under which we labor. The more it is examined, the more apparent and intolera ble will it prove to be. A proper consideration of it must rest in some attempt on the part of the State to apply an adequate remedy. I earnestly request, Messrs. Editors, that you will press this consideration of the evil, and call for the adequate remedy. You cannot give your labors to a subject more vitally important to the welfare of South Carolina,

I will not presume to sappose that I can point out the fit mode of removing this monstrous grievance and deficiency in our State economy. With a view only to invite attention, and the loope of drawing more competent minds to the 2,000 Rio Hondo, hope of drawing more competent minds to the consideration of the subject, I will merely suggest what seems to me the proper beginning of a better condition of affairs. Let the Legisnature establish a Professorship of Agriculture in the South Carolina College, and attach to the institution an experimental farm. In this farm, every farming process may be earried on in conformity with the most scientific practice of Europe. This would produce the good effect not only of imparting instruction to the Student, but would at once elevate the pursuit in public estimation and relieve the com lar the Goods and Chattles, Rights and Credits of munity from the mistortune that afflicts us, of Elizabeth Warren, late of the District aforesaid, deyoung men crowding into professions, and liv. ceasel: ing idly and uselessly in these supposed positions of honor. In addition to the Professor. tions of honor. In addition to the Professor, ed to be and appear before me at our next Ordingship, it may be a lyisable to establish in due ry's Court for the said District, to be holden at Camtime three Agricu tural Schools and Farms, den Court House on the 21st day of Ootober inst., one of each in the upper, central, and the lew not be granted. e part of the State. Competent teachers for tuese would be furnished by the College Professorship. In these schools young men of all glases may find a legnate instruction. But they would be particularly important in preparing for the business of the farm or plantation. those who may be disposed to devote themselves to the occupation of the Overseer. It is easy, I think, to see how rapidly and effectually this would improve the characters and capabilities of that a eful and ladispensable class of mer, and how much it would clevate and advance the condition and welfare of the whole State. But gentlemen, I leave the subject to yourselves and your abler correspon pondents, content and rejoiced if I should succoed in fixing attention effectually on the necessity of investigating matter carefully, and applying some sufficient and lasting remedy. HARRISON'S PATENT

THE TENED TO SERVICE AND ADDRESS OF THE PARTY OF THE PART

SELE-COOLING GRIST MILL,

OF which this is neorroet out. The exclusive right of which, for the United States and Territories, now belongs to the New Haven Manufacturing Company, New Haven Annufacturing Company, New Haven Annufacturing Company have adopted it as a portion of their business, knowing this bill to be the best partable Mill for all kinds of grain which has been in use by over 100 per cent.

These Mills are celebrated above all other mills, first, for their superior construction—they are built in the best workmanlike manner, from this best French burr-stone, 50 inches in diameter, and all sangly enea ed in a fine cast-fron frame, and so arranged that one man can set one of these Mills up infless than two hours, ready to use; and when thus put up, all the repairs they would require for five years, would be but a trifle; second, they are so constructed, that when set so as to make the finest flour, the stones with or without feed will not come in contact; hence, they leave no grit in the meal, and no power is used except for crushing the grain. Third, these Mills are self-cooling, by a blast of cold air driven through an aperture in the casing, and around the stones; hence, they can be run 21 hours without stouping, and without heating.

Tourth, these Mills will grind 250 bushels of corn into fine meal in 10 hours, and that too with 14 horse-power; and will grind 120 bushels of wheat into fine flour in ten hours thue, and with one-half the power required by the common mill. Price §200. Packing $6.

Circulars, withdustructions for using, with certificates from the best and most reliable sources in relation to this Mill, can be had by addressing as above, post paid.

TRICOPHEROUS.

OR Medicated Compound, for preserving, fastening, softening and promoting the growth of the hair, cleansing the head, and curing diseases of the skin, and external cuts, bruises, &c. The common consent of all who have used Barry's Tricopherous, whether for the improvement and invigoration of the hair, or for eruptions, cuts, bruises, &c., places it at the head of all preparations intended for like purposes. This is no ill considered assertion. Figures and facts bear it out. The sales average a millions of bottles a year: the receipts, in cash, $100,000. This year the business will exceed that amount. The number of orders which daily arrive at the depot and manufactory, 137 Broadway, New York, addressed to Professor Barry, enclosing cash, and requiring immediate attention, would scarcely be believed. The wholesale demand is from 2,000 to 3.000 bottles a day, probabl, exceeding that of all the other hair preparations conjoined. The popularity of the article everywhere, and the liberal terms to deavers, combine to increase its sales with great rapidity; and improvements in its composition, made at considerable expense, adds to its reputation as well as its intrinsic value.
