The Financial Crisis in the North—How will the Result of the Presidential election Affect it.

The New York Herald has a long article treating on the financial crisis in the North, and speculates as to how it will be affected by the result of the Presidential election. It says:

Many are disposed to place undue importance upon the result of forthcoming election. The argument of the McClellan side is that if Mr. Lincoln should be re-elected the war is likely to be prolonged over a longer period than if the Democratic candidate is triumphant, and this great increase of the public debt, and much further depreciation of the currency will be inevitable. The argument of the opposite side is that if McClellan is elected public confidence in the national credit will be shaken, and politicians of the Democratic party will begin to talk of measures tending to repudiation. But both these arguments are prejudiced, and the future of the national finances depends less upon the success of either candidate than many are disposed to believe. Whatever the result of the contest may be, the present financial policy of the country must be changed if the ultimate disasters which it is inviting are to be averted.

The first duty of Congress is to take into serious consideration this important subject. The public debt is undergoing augmentation at a rate so enormous that further paper money expansion will aggravate the existing evil in rapidly increasing ratio. Yet the policy of paper money inflation is being steadily persevered in and the incubus is daily becoming greater. Our national debt is nearly two thousand millions, and of this $687,096,872 was in the form of currency issues at the end of September, exclusive of more than fifty-three millions of national bank paper. The worst blunders of Mr. Chase have been repeated by his no less incompetent successor, and are likely to be continued till legislation steps in and provides a remedy. Whichever, therefore, may be the dominant party, the future of the finances of this country may be easily foreseen, unless measures are adopted to counteract the currency evil and so improve the value of the paper dollar.

AN AFFECTING INCIDENT.—Upon the authority of a wounded officer in the Valley fight near Winchester, we narrate the following incidents: In the hottest of the fight, and just where the balls fell thickest, the Colonel of the 45th Regiment N. C. T. was seen to kneel over a dying soldier and pray for him. While thus engaged the order of retreat was sounded; rising from prayer and mounting his horse, he dashed off, but had not gone many yards ere the cries of a soldier who fell wounded in the retreat reached him, imploring his comrades not to leave. The gallant and humane Colonel wheeled his horse and facing a storm of shot and shell rode back to the wounded soldier and, being a man of uncommon muscle, leaned from the saddle and gathering the broken legged man by the collar bore him off triumphant.

These are facts, and that officer's name is Winston, from Rockingham county, in this State.—Milton Chronicle.

ANOTHER NOVELTY IN THE PHOTOGRAPHIC ART.—A London photographer has recently introduced a novelty in the mode of taking cartes-de-visite photographs with the signature of the sitters appended. The sitter simply signs his name on a slip of paper, and finds its fac simile, diminished in size, transferred to the portraits when they come home.

CAMDEN DAILY JOURNAL.

MONDAY MORNING NOV. 7.

MRS. GREENHOW was drowned, in consequence of having six hundred pounds sterling in gold tied to her person.

BLANKETS FOR HOOD'S ARMY.—The Augusta Constitutionalist learns that Major L. O. BRIDEWELL, Q. M., has sent the soldiers in the West no less than 35,000 blankets.

BAD FOR RICHMOND.—Richmond, (says the Sentinel) has only a few days of grace left. Gov. YATES, of Illinois, in a public speech, lately declared that he thought he might safely say, from some letters which he had been permitted to read, officially, that Richmond would be in their possession before the 8th of November.

LINCOLN DETERMINED TO SUPPRESS FREE SUFFRAGE. The LINCOLN papers are exceedingly noisy over certain alleged election frauds of which they say the friends of McCLELLAN have been guilty. Several parties have been arrested, and are on trial before, not a court of law, but a military commission, the approved tribunal when Mr. LINCOLN wishes to ensure a verdict. Various arrests have been ordered, and the inevitable JOSEPH HOLT has been directed to take the matter in hand and cook up another grand "sensation," full of "startling disclosures," with any amount of the rhetorical sky-rocketing which HOLT thinks he gets up so nicely.

It is believed by many that the whole thing is a trick gotten up by LINCOLN as an excuse for seizing the ballot-boxes and intimidating or suppressing opposition. However, to-morrow will decide whether despotism of the ballot-box shall rule.

AN ALLIGATOR EATS A MAN.—A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal, writing from Onslow County, says:

On the 4th ult., I found in a creek, known as "Hadnot's Creek," the body of a man cut off at his lower ribs, all below that being gone. I got all the people together that I could, took it up and had it buried. It had been in the water some time, as it smelled very offensive. No information could be ascertained as to where it came from.

This morning, while talking with Mr. E. W. Pelletier, I heard an alligator catch one of my hogs; I caught my gun and ran to the scene of action, and found the alligator with a large hog of mine in the creek. I shot and killed him. On getting him out, I found him to be one of the largest I had ever seen; he was also uncommonly full. We cut him up and found in his stomach the foot and leg and the lower part of the trunk of a man. These parts doubtless belonged to the same body of which the upper parts have already been found. Where the man came from, or who he was, I have no means of ascertaining. It is believed that he was a deserter from our side or from the enemy's, and was caught by the alligator while trying to swim the creek.

We also found the hoofs and leg bones of a cow, doubtless the remains of a cow which lately disappeared from my pasture.

CHARCOAL FOR SWINE.—It is perhaps not generally known that one of the best articles that can be given to swine, while in preparation for the tub is common charcoal. The nutritive properties are so great, that they have subsisted upon it without other food for weeks together. Geese confined so as to deprive them of motion, and fattened on three grains of corn per day and as much coal as they can devour, have become fat in eight days. The hogs eat voraciously after a little time, and are never sick while they have a good supply. It should always be kept in the sty, and be fed to the inmates regularly, like all other food.

The King of Oude possesses a fortune of five million dollars. He has not stirred out of his palace for ten years, and spends his time in collecting beautiful birds for his aviary, and beautiful birds of another sort for his harem. He is a lazy rascal, a great glutton, and a prince.

An agent at Paris of the Sultan has been arrested for advertising for "Pearls," said pearls being young women intended for the harem.—More than a hundred photographs were found upon the criminal.

REPORTS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Entered according to the Act of Congress in the year 1863, by J. S. THOMAS, in the Clerk's office of the District Court of the Confederate States for the Northern District of Georgia.

FROM PETERSBURG.

PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—Gen. Gracie captured the Yankee picket line last night. A number of Yankee prisoners were captured. Yankee batteries opened and kept up heavy firing all night. All quiet to-day.

FROM THE WEST.

MOBILE, Nov. 5.—Special Despatch to the Advertiser from Senatobia. The Memphis papers of the 2d says nothing about Price. The Chicago Times of the 29th pronounces the despatches claiming a victory over Price, hogues, gotten up for electioneering purposes, and says the Shenandoah Valley is laid in the shade by Missouri telegrams. Nothing important from other points. Guerilla operations continued active on the Mississippi.

FROM EUROPE.

PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—European advices to the 23d has been received. Bazaars in Liverpool in aid of Southern prisoners proved a great success. Receipts in four days amounted to one thousand pounds. About nine thousand pounds additional was received from subscriptions. Strikes among the colliers at South Staffordshire was becoming alarming. Serious collisions with the police had taken place.—Palmerston has completed his eightieth year. Great depression in commercial circles. No improvement. Failures daily announced.—The Emperor and Empress of Russia passed through Marsates on the 21st, en route for Nice. It is considered certain that an interview took place between Napoleon and Alexander. Bunch, ex-consul at Charleston, has been gazetted as consul at Cuba.

MORE SUCCESSSES OF FORREST AND HIS HORSE MARINES.

PARIS, TEXAS, October 31.—Gen. Forrest has blocked the Tennessee River, and all communication between Johnsonville and Paducah has been cut off. The railroad to Nashville is now in such a condition as to be of no use to the enemy.

Forrest's batteries were engaged all day yesterday. Two Yankee gunboats and four transports were captured or destroyed. One of the gunboats and two of the transports are now being used by Forrest, and will prove of great advantage to us, in the prosecution of important movements now on foot. One Yankee gunboat and three transports are still up the river, and will, it is thought, be captured.

NORTHERN NEWS.

RICHMOND, Nov. 4.—The Baltimore American has a telegram from Louisville. It mentions a rumor that Hood, with thirty thousand men, crossed the Tennessee river, moving northward on the 1st. Particulars unknown. The railroad and telegraph lines are working to Atlanta. A telegram from Nashville says: Since the repulse at Decatur, Hood has moved further west, along the south side of the Tennessee river. It is believed he crossed some infantry near Bainbridge. No particulars.—Thomas is prepared for any movement Hood may make. Sherman is determined to hold Atlanta at all hazards. Forrest, with cavalry is threatening Johnsonville, where there are large quantities of Government Stores. New York Agents have been conveyed before a military commission, on charge of election frauds, and have been sentenced to imprisonment for life. The Nashville Union of the 28th says

Sherman had not moved beyond Gainville at last accounts. Gold opened in N. Y. on the 2d at 240 and closed at 245.

RICHMOND, Nov. 5.—The Baltimore American of the 3d has been received. It says the Rebel Steamer Tallahassee captured the Liverpool, off Black Island. Nothing has been received from Hood or Sherman. Parties from Canada attempted to surprise the garrison at Castine Main, but were driven off by the garrison. Seward has informed the Mayor of Buffalo that information had been received late, that it was the design of the rebels in Canada to invade Buffalo on the day of election, urging that efforts be used by all to discourage all disorder on the day of election and requests sheriff's and other officers appointed, to keep the peace—to use their exertions to this end—to take care that every voter shall have a fair ballot, and see that no force shall be used to influence voting; requesting that no forces shall be allowed to attend in the vicinity of the polls to intimidate voters. A general meeting will be held on Monday, for prayer, that Almighty God may direct the people of the land in the exercise of the elective franchise, and restrain their passions, that they may be delivered from violence and blood shed, by a continuance of their liberty.

RICHMOND, Nov. 6.—New York papers of the 4th has been received. Much excitement prevails at Ogdansburg, New York, regarding expected rebel raids from Canada. Business suspended on the 3d, and citizens preparing for defence. Large numbers of armed men, supposed to be rebels, are on islands in St. Lawrence river, above and below Ogdansburg. A suspicious steamer, having on board about forty men, passed along the river close to the American shore in the afternoon, reported the Tallahassee entered Delaware breakwater on the 3d, and destroyed several vessels at anchor there, they afterwards landed at Lewis, Delaware, and robbed the people of a large amount of property. Five vessels are now in pursuit of the Tallahassee.

Affairs in Shenandoah Valley remain quiet. Nothing from Grant or Sherman. Dix has issued orders instructing provost marshals to use all necessary precaution to prevent rebel deserters from voting on Tuesday, but no military force must be stationed near places of voting. Butler has arrived at New York, with instructions to report to Dix for duty.

IMPOSSIBLE.—We make the following tract from the Augusta Constitutionist of September 1863. Although over one year we regard it as still seasonable, having none of its virtue:

Talk about re-construction of the Union why the things is utterly impossible, impracticable and absurd. The union cannot be stored or reconstructed, because the very nature of the contest, the magnitude of it, continuance and the cost of it, wholly and ever preclude the idea. It is sheer nonsense talk of the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was. It is beyond the power of ever again to make the Union what it was and its Constitution is a dead letter, trampled under foot, a hissing and a scorn among its worshippers. There is no retreat for us if we were so base as to wash it. We can turn back if we would, and we ought not could.
