How an Enterprising Artist Secured Pictures of President and Mrs. Cleveland.

(Special to the New York World.) Washington, February 7.—For the past few days a Cincinnati artist has been here carrying a letter-box under his arm that had every appearance of an infernal machine. On more than one occasion the young man has been taken for a crank. For two days he has been under police espionage and was at last compelled to exhibit the contents of the mysterious box. Instead of its being a dangerous contrivance it proved to be only a simple and harmless detective camera, such as is used by amateur photographers, which he had been carrying around the city for the purpose of using on the prominent public men and their wives. Yesterday he was at the White House with his machine, but was not allowed to take it beyond the vestibule. He was desirous of securing an instantaneous photograph of Mrs. Cleveland at her reception.

This morning the artist stationed him self at the door of Dr. Sunderland's church to await the arrival of the Presidential carriage, recognizing that this would doubtless be his only opportunity of securing a photograph of the President's wife in street costume. It was not long until the carriage arrived at the church door containing the President and Mrs. Cleveland. As the party alighted the artist set the mechanism of the mysterious box in motion and it was performing its work. Mrs. Cleveland saw the artist and the box. In a moment she appreciated the situation. As quick as thought she wreathed her face with smiles, looking at the young man and the box, which he still held half concealed under his arm, bowed politely as if to thank him for his enterprise, and passed into the church. The President also saw the machine and looked dis-pleased. After the sermon had begun the artist seated himself in the church gallery and succeeded in getting three excellent photographs of Mrs. Cleveland and the President as they appeared in

IT SMELLS OF WAR.

Powders-Makers Preparing for the Contemplated Conflict. (From the Philadelphia Record.)

As a straw that shows which way the Wilmington are attaching a great deal of importance to the unusual activity at the Dupont Powder Mills on the Brandywine, a few miles from that city. The mills have never in their history. mills have never in their history been more busy, and the men are worked night and day in some parts of the great establishment, which is turning out black powder such as soldiers use in war by the tons. The powder-makers are told that the orders now on hand cannot be filled fast enough, and these indications of an unprecedented demand for the article have strengthened the current belief that the Duponts are shipping large quantities of explosives to France or Garmany, and that the war in Europe is coming surely in the spring. The office of the Rupauno Chemical Works at Thompson's Point, N. J., is situated now in Wilmington, and it can be stated with positiveness that their mills, at which the most destructive explosives in the world are manufactured, are as busy as the Dupont works.

The mills of the latter company are the most famous in the world, and have most always furnished a large proportion of powder to European nations on the eve of a war. Just before the Franco-Prussian war the mills were run on extra time, as is the case now, and this was taken then, as now, to be a pretty sure harbinger of war. The Duponts are very cautious when the newspaper men are around, and they say to all such inquisitive people that they are not exporting large quantities of powder, but in nearly every instance when their mills have been budgest, and just before an have been busiest, and just before an European struggle, the same reply has been made to the press. They do not deny, however, the unusual activity at the mills, but declare in an indifferent sort of way that the newder is for the sort of way that the powder is for the powder is for the coal regions. If this be true there is promise of an extraordi-nary coal supply and cheap fuel this spring. Knowing people at Wilmington, however, smile when the coal region story is told, and declare that it is a smusty old chestnut.

Guarded for Her Diamonds.

It is astonishing to me how the people who are not in New York society struggle for an entrance. The one aim of their lives seem to be to get within the circle which, whether it is made up of what they are pleased to call aristocracy or not, has the credit of being, and is the goal toward which so many ambitious men and women bend all their energies. I have in mind a lady of whom I wrote some time ago, who has no end of money, is a widow, handsome and not too old to enjoy life. She has been living a number of years in Europe, but she has returned home determined to take social life by storm. She has rented a house in one of the most exclusive parts of town, and she has given choice entertainments to which all the so-called swells were pleased to come. They ate her dinners, pronounced her cooking unexceptionable and went home to laugh at her efforts to be one of them. The charity ball came, and it was given out that she was to open the ball, but she didn't; and not only that—she took no part in the opening march. She was at the ball, however, and wore $250,000 worth of diamonds. To enjoy this luxury she was guarded by four detectives, two from Tiffany's and two furnished by the police force. It seems to me this is taking a great deal of trouble for a little display. I cannot imagine anything more uncomfortable than to be under the eyes of four detectives for an entire evening. I should certainly feel as though I were going to be arreated for something. Why would it not do just as well to wear a little tablet on one's breast bearing the inscription: "I have $250,000 worth of diamonds in Tiffany's safe, but I do not want to take the risk of wearing them."—New York Letter.

The new $3 silver certificates have been issued. They are—but holds on—if the United States Treasurer wants us to notice his publications he had better send along some sample copies.

MEANEST SCOUNDREL ON EARTH.

Persons differ as to what constitutes the meanest crime of which man can be guilty. Some particular offense or crime strikes a deeper, darker horror to the mind of one person more than another; but there are a few deeds so much more damning than all others, that their mere mention thrills the heart, soul and mind with a cold, shivering, shuddering horror. We copy part of a letter written by Luther Benson some time ago, detailing an offense committed by a demon in human shape that would make a fiend turn pale and hide his head in shame. Here it is:

"A man who had for years been bound in the chains of appetite for strong drink, and who had resorted to every means to burst the bondage, as a last resort, went to an inebriate asylum and remained six months; then feeling he had the mastery of his passion for drink, returned to his home, family and friends. A former chum and bummer proclaimed he would make the man break his pledge, and in order to accomplish his fiendish act, he, for weeks and months, hounded, hunted and tempted this afflicted man, until at last he yielded, and is again fallen. At this time his family are in rags and storving for bread; and he is on the chain gang breaking stone. The man who will per-suade another to break his pledge, or tempt him to his ruin,

OUGHT TO DIE, and when such a traitor dies, and his miserable careass must be disposed of, if only to avoid the stench and loathsome putridity, which it would necessarily engender, take it to some mountain chasm way from the haunts of man, where no foot ever trod before, where the bright beams of God's sunlight never shone, where moonlight and starlight never enthat birds and beasts avoid the place, and hurry from its shadows as though it were the banqueting house of fiends and THE HOME OF THE DAMNED, where the blackness of darkness reigns supreme, and the jutting rocks and ragged crags are enveloped in the dim, tmpenetrable darkness of eternal night, so dense and thick as to hang around them like funeral pyres, where the dark and smoky icicles of eternal despair as they hang pendant from the reeking, alimy cliff are but mute fingers pointing to the fitting place to bury such a bury him face downward, and with the pen of eternal misery and the hand of universal scorn, write udon his back in characters made lurid by his base, cow-ardly and damning crime, "No ressur-rection forever and forever." Then let that shriveled sonl wake up in the flery furnace whose sides are red-hot with creeping flames, and let him, with blis-

him unfit for their companions, and point flaming fingers of scorn at him and with tongues of forked, hissing flame, cry in his ears eternally and forever, "Traitor against God."

INSTEAD OF BEING HANGED.

What Electricians Say of Taking Life by Means of a Battery. (From the New York Star.)

Some New York physicians think that improvements in hanging are urgently needed. They want to make the death penalty easy, pleasant and delightful. Electricity has been proposed by them for capital punishment, and the Legislature yesterday considered a bill to substitute the electric battery for the hangman's rope. man's rope.

An electrician at the Edson building in Pearl street, where electricity is manufactured for illuminating purposes, was yesterday asked how people might be killed with neatness and dispatch by electricity. He said that it was the easiest matter in the world. All a condemned man would have to do at the hour and moment when he was to leave hour and moment when he was to leave the world for brighter climes, would be to take hold of two wires, one connected with a positive battery and the other with a negative battery. Acting thus as a conductor between the two wires the electricity would go through him like a stroke of lightning. He would lie in an infinitesimal fraction of a second. His taking off would be as painless as it was sudden. He would never know what had hit him.

He might stand on two plates, receive

He might stand on two plates, receive the electric current through his toes and die with his boots on. He might sit in a chair with his feet resting on the plates and die comfortably.

Killing the condemned by electricity is a humane, civilized and scientific way of disposing of them. A man is usually sixteen minutes in dying at the end of a handman's rope, and he negally sufficts a sixteen minutes in dying at the end of a hangman's rope, and he usually suffers a great deal before death comes to relieve him. A one-cell battery would kill all the prisoners who will ever be hanged in the Tombs under the present law. The only people opposed to the use of alcotricity in capital punishment are the hangmen, and they are opposed to it because it would throw them out of work. If the gallows are taken down all the hangmen in the country will strike,

The Tobacco Tax.

The prospects for the repeal of the tobac-co tax at the present session of Congress is anything but cheering, A long corres-pondence between Mesers, Wise, Henderpondence between Mesars. Wise, Henderson and Randall and Speaker Carlisle has been given to the press. Life is too short and our space too valuable to fill it up with this matter exclusively. Briefly the letters of these gentlemen explain why no motion was made to pass the bill under a suspension of the rules last Monday. The Washington Correspondence of the Richmond Whig informs that paper that Speaker Carlisle had said that if he recognized any one to make the motion it would he Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, a Republican, but the Democratic friends of the measure thought that the motion should come from a Democratic price of the second come from a Democratic friends of the measure thought that the motion should come from a Democratic friends of the measure thought that the motion should come from a Demerat. Accordingly, a committee addressed a communication to him, asking him to recognize a Democrat to make the motion, but he then refused to recognize any one for that purpose, - Charlotte Chronicle.

The Cumming Clarion is Mr. S. Terry, was spent Buford, on the Ar Line H case which rivals the ed. Hurst. He, in companion known minister of that phome of a little girl nine who is rather undersized heard of the child's power. a well who is rather undersized heard of the child's power to put them to test. Mr. child lay one hand on the hey had desired saw the child lay one hand on the with it as and move around the root with it as though it were a mere plating. An ordinary child of that age could hardly have moved the table at all. Mr. Terry, who is quite muscular, then took hold of a stout stick, grasping it at each end; the child placed her hands on the stick in the middle, and before he knew it the stick was wrenched out of his grasp. This experiment was tried a second time, Mr. Terry exerting his whole strength to hold it, with thesame result. A door, which fastened with a button, A door, which fastened with a button, was then closed and a person placed outside to push against it. By simply placing her hands on the door the button placing her hands on the door the button gradually moved until the door was unfastened. It is said that when she touches the wall a person placing his ear against the opposite side can hear a clicking sound resembling the noise made by a telegraph instrument. It is stated, and can be proven, that small stones frequently fall in showers around her while she is in the house. No one can tell where they some from No one can tell where they some from. Also, that in whatever part of a r.om she is a popping sound is heard apparently in the wood. Thee are only a few of the feats the child is bole to perform. She has bad health and is not considered bright, but there can be no sort of doubt as to her powers. BISHOP SIMPSON'S TOMB.

The Beautiful Mausoleum Erected by Mrs Simpson in West Laure Hill. (From the Philadelphia Roord)

On the edge of a declining slope in the northwestern part of West Laurel Hill Cemetery stands the grand mausoleum erected to the memory of Bihop Simpson by his widow. It occupies an elevation overlooking a beautiful landscape, tion overlooking a beautiful landscape, through which wends he narrow Schuylkill. The structure composite gothic in style and cruciforn in shape, is 22½ by 18½ feet in dimenson, including the wings at the side, and 24 feet high from its base to the top of the crosses on the main building. It looks like a miniature church. There are five windows and four trefoils of cathedral stained glass giving light to the chamber, which is 19 by 10 feet if the clear. Eight catecombs, four on each side, built of white Italian mards, oxonpy the wings of the structure, while in the centre of the chamber is the scroophagus in which rests the dead body of the in which rests the dead body of the

Upon the end of the tomb is the inorecping flames, and let him, with bilstered lips and parched tongue, cry for one drop of water, and for answer, let there come to his ears the sweet tound of earling rain awake in Thy likeness." Thun follows:

"Matthew Simpson, Bisho; of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Born, June 21, 1811. Died, June 18, 1884."

The small boy learning the alphabet is scription: "I shall be satisfied when I awake in Thy likeness." Thun follows:

"Matthew Simpson, Bisho; of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Born, June 21, 1811. Died, June 18, 1884."

The lot upon which the massoleum is erected is circular in shape, linety feet is more in demand than the base ball in the most of the tomb is the inscription: "I shall be satisfied when I awake in Thy likeness." Thun follows:

"Matthew Simpson, Bisho; of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Born, June 21, 1811. Died, June 18, 1884."

This is the season when the cider pitcher is more in demand than the base ball pitcher.

coping. The prevailing whole structure is its sip

THE SOUTH'S THE MENTS,

Some of the Leading Con Last Wee Organized

The Tradesman's we new enterprises in the the remarkable develoen in progress for in all sections of the i report of shows that t that has onths past on the in-Among the leading esman are the week reported by the following:

Kentucky & Arkar
of Louisville, Ky., o
Peacock Coal, In Company, of Birm
$200,000. Company, 500,000. provement la., with

Cotton Press at Cotton factory at a Electric light wo Ala., and Dallas, Te Three furniture fa C. elbyville, e at Win-and one ith $500,ston, N. C., one at R at Louisville, Ky., th 000 capital.

Gold mine at Mary Unmberland Iron a of Henderson, Ky. 8,000,000 capital.

Black Band Iron an pany, at Troy, Ala., d Com 000 capi

Four marble comp Four marble companies in Cannessee and Georgia.

Nine railroad companies; two in Tennessee, one in North Carolins, one in Florida, two in Texas, one in Arkansas, one in South Carolins, one in Louisiana.

The Tradesman also reports that cotton mills at Chattanooga, Waco, Texas, High Point, N. C., and Charlotte, N. C., will be considerably enlarged.

A large number of smaller industries are also reported.

Near Willow Creek, Cal., a few days ago, a Mexican was riding along on his horse with the reins tied to his wrist and playing a harmonica, when the horse got frightened at the noise and commenced bucking, throwing him off, and as he was unable to unfasten the reins from his wrist, he was dragged to death.

Deputy Sheriff Caton, of Malisonville, Ky., assisted by Mr. Cobb, of Sebnee, while attempting to levy on the property of a man named McElroy, in Webster county, for unpaid taxes, was at acked by McElroy with an axe. Cobb received probably a fatal wound, when Canton shot and killed McElroy.

killed McElroy.

Jack Harvey, an eccentric character of Pittsburg, Pa, died Friday, after living a miserly life for over fifty, years. He left $40,000 in an old tin earl which he had buried in the yard back of the shanty. shanty.

An exchange speaks of a man will teeth who can crack a walnut, nothing. There is a policeman in who has a set of false teeth are crack a cocoanut.

crack a cocoanut.

A spendthrift says that he for covering his house with mortal keep the rain out in wet weather. Some one says, Poets are This is incorrect. Editors are

BRIC-A-BRAC

There was a man of Arkansas Who had a most savage old father in las, With a shoe No. 8 He shot him over the g 8, And rade bone dust of his lower jas.

Death rates-Funeral expenses. The point of death-The bayonet. Light weight-A pound of candles. Literary Notes-Author's promises to

The planist's promise to play is, of course note of hand.

The coward reckons himself cautious, the miser frugal.

The original Boone companion was Daniel's trusty rifle.

It is perfectly natural for "the sad sea waves" to look blue. "A chance acquaintance"-The bunco steerer You set my teeth on edge—as the saw remarked to the file.

A rousing demonstration—Getting growing boy out of bed.

"There is a frost" is the latest English of being "left out in the cold."

When the cold begins to strengthen then the coal bills begin to lengthen.

When a man gets to be a leader of working men he is able to quit work. The dime museum woman who writes with her toes must make a great many foot History repeats itself. A man named Cain killed another man in Colorado recently. England is importing bells from Balti-nore foundries. Those Baltimore bells almore foundries. The ways were popular.

"Waist makes wants," said the young husband, when his wife asked him to buy her a $15 pair of corsets. Cunning iz a weak imitashun of wizdom and iz liable at enny time to merge into fraud, says Josh Billings. A Georgia lady boasts of having raised onions measuring fifteen inches in diameter. She does not require to keep a dog. Egypt is one thousand miles long and six miles wide. Must look something like Sarah Bernhardt. "That is not the way to raise a child," said the humanitarian to a parent arrested for lifting his boy by the ear. "Papa's Home To night" is the latest song. The o and n or the necessary. The o and n of the last word of the

The banana skin, though crushed to earth, has the power to take somebody

They used to say, "Crazy as a bed bug," but the revised version hath it, "Crazy as a bed quilt." A new front has been put in Bachman & oumans' office, which gives the office a brighter appearance. As a general rule the man who makes extemporaneous speeches can give you the manuscript if you want to print it. "Man proposes, but—." Upon thinking it over, we don't believed he proposes as often as the girls would like him to.

A man may talk and talk and not be a bore if he talks to you about your good points. There is no particular harm in riding a hobby if you don't take up the whole road with it. A father may succeed in cutting off his son without a cent, but he can't cut off the lawyers. A Philadelphia clergyman demands: "What's in the Bible?" to which we promptly reply: "Autumn leaves."

Teacher—"If you were president of a county fair and wanted a gate tender, what would you do?" Pupil—"Boil it."

The affections of a man who is proved to be false are valued at over $8,000. How valuable are the affections of a true man?

It is said that women dress extravagantly Have Your Repairing to worry other women. A man who dresses Texas, extravagantly generally worries his tailor. It is said that Mark Twain has been more successful in transforming the cents of hu-mor into dollars than any man in the country.

When you inquire anxiously after the health of the furance in the morning, it is not exactly comforting to be told that it is "well enough to be out."

If a man's obstuary notices could only be published while he is running for office instead of after death the result of many an election might be different.

We hear of a women in the up country so stingy that the only things she is known to give away are "shoos" to her neighbors' chickens.

It appears to be an established truth that an ounce of keep-your-mouth-shut is better than a pound of explanation after you have

An American with a homely wife never realizes how much worse he might have done until he sees an English professional.

Were the strength of a man in propor-tion to that of the beetle, he could play with weights equal to ten times the weight of a horse.

Generally the party who sings "I would not live alway" the loudest, is the one who gets between the feather beds during a thunder storm.

A book agent was atruck by lightning last Tuesday night, and on the spot where he stood it looked as if a brass cannon had been melted.

"I shall fight it out on this lyin' if it takes all summer," remarked the political stump apeaker, as he sent to headquarters for more "doctored facts."

The large amount spent in advertising by soap makers leads one to believe that the old proverh should be changed so as to read "There is nothing like lather."

Without consulting any fashion authority, the statement may be hazarded that last season's kid gloves will be "worn" next fall.

An American lady married to an Italian prince a year ago has already left him. Some American girls are too proud to travel around with a tambourine all day, An old lady, having seven marriageable daughters, fed them exclusively on a fish diet, because it is rich in phosphorus, the essential thing in making matches.

A Chicago clergyman asks: "Can a man be a Christian and at the same time a suc cessful business man?" He can if he ades largely.

A writer says that "kind words are never lost." How is it when your wife puts them in a letter and gives them to you to

A paper tells its readers: "Don't harp on past troubles." We suppose they can fiddle, play the accordeon and jewsharp on them as they like. Some one wants to know what the work of a great man is. Well, we don't know, unless it is to have his picture in an imported soap advertisement.

"Hullo, Mike!" I hear yer on a strike."
"So I am. I struck for fewer hours."
"Did you succeed?" "Indeed I did. I'm not working at all now."

A base ball umpire was killed by light ning, a few days ago, and it took half a day to convince the kicking nine that it wasn't one of his own decisions that caused his death.

The "Georgia wonders" are getting so numerous that before long it is hoped that every family will be able to engage one for its own use. They would be convenient on house cleaning or moving days.

When you return from an adventurous to tell more than has happened to you.

You may get a ten-pound fish on a six-pound rod, and then how are you going to

MORE ABOUT THE MATTHEWS CASE. A Colored Man Leads in the Opposition-Charges of Bribery.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 8.—The remainder of the documents bearing upon the nomination of Mr. James C. Matthews, of Albany, N. Y., to be Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia, were made public to-day in conformity with the re-moval of the injunction of secrecy by the Senate in secret session yesterday. The greater part of the petitions and memoran da received from persons outside of Wash ington appear to have been originated by Mr. Wm. H. Johnson, colored, of Albany, Mr. Wm. H. Johnson, colored, of Albany, N. Y., whose name leads those attached to the petitions and whose signature alone is attached to a number of long letters, ac-cusing Matthews of attempts at bribing him, intimidation of colored voters and o uttering threats of removal of colored men from employment at the State capital un less they voted the Democratic ticket. John son further asserts that in past years Mat thews was, with him, an earnest Republi can worker, but changed his politics from corrupt motives. Among the protesting documents is an editorial from the Troy Telegram, characterizing Matthews as the worst kind of offensive partisan; report of the executive committee of the Columbia Democratic club defining its position upon home rule; and a letter from J. Owen Moore, of Washingtondale, Orange county, N. Y., declaring that "Matthews is a scound rel and is only using his black skin as stock in trade in politics."

The Bingham Case Again,

It is now said that Walter Bingham has left the asylum where he has been in hiding, and that he has made his way to Alamance county through Virginia. The Durham Recorder declares that he has been at his home since the murder, and it says that, besides, he has actually visited the scene of his crime. This is a strange declaration—one of the most remarkable made about the whole affair. An officer of the law said to a correspondent that if ever Bligham were brought to trial (and never otherwise) facts would be brought to light which would give a character to the murder as to make it more horrible than even the most sensational imagination could conceive.

-A fresh illustration of the power of music to charm was given in a Rutland house the other evening. A young man was playing the guitar late at night and was surprised at the visit of a good-sized pat. The animal seemed to enjoy the music and slowly came nearer the performer, until within a few feet of him. After listening a few minutes the rat quietly disappeared.

When a cat sings she doesn't do it on purpose, but simply to amews herself. Don't fail to keep a diary. Keep it Where you will find a complete stock of

MAGUN AND BUGGY SAOLS' O. V. METTS, Proprietor,

The undersigned takes pleasure in announcing to the public that he has taken charge of the WAGON AND BUGGY SHOPS of M. A. Metts, where, with competent as-sistants, he is prepared to do all kinds of work in his line on short notice and at reasonable terms.

Repairing Done on short notice and in workmauship

Horseshoeing.

Careful attention given to horseshoeng.
The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

With over twenty-five years experience in the business to which I call your attention, and with experenced assistants, I feel soufident of giving entire satisfaction to all who favor me with their patronage.
O. V. METTS,

C. MAYHEW

South Carolina Railway Company

OMMENCING SUNDAY, MAY 1886, at 6.35 A. M., Passenger Trains run as follows, "Eastern Time," TO AND FROM CHARLESTON.

Depart Charleston 11 00 pm 900

Depart Charleston 12 00 pm 900

Depart Charleston /20 am 510

Due Columbia 10 35 am 10 00

TO AND FROM CAMDEN.

Depart Columbia 6 30 a m 5 05 p m 6 27
Due Camden 12 37 p m 7 42 p m 7 42
West (DALLY EXCEPT SUNDAY.)
Depart Camden 4 45 a m 7 45 a m 8 15
Due Columbia 10 25 a m 10 35 a m 10 00

Depart Columbia 630 a m 52 pm Due Augusta 11 35 a m 10 25 pm Depart Augusta 645 a m 10 00 pm Depart Augusta 645 a m 10 00 pm

CONNECTIONS

Made at Columbia with Columbia and Greenville Railroad by train arriving at 10.35 A. M. and departing at 5.27 P. M. At Columbia Junction with C., C. & A. Railroad by same train to and from All All Columbia Columbia (1998).

19:5 A. M. and departing at 5:27 P. M. At Columbia Junction with C., C. & A. Railroad by same train to and from all points on both roads.

Passengers take supper at Branchville. At Charles on with steamers for New York, and with steamer for Jacksonville and points on St. John's River Toe-days and Saturdays, with Charleston and Savannah Railroad to and from Savannah and points in Florida daily.

At Augusta with Georgia and Central Railroads to and from all points West and South. At Blackville to and from points on Barnwell Railroad. Through dekets can be purchased to all points South and West by applying to

D. McQUEEN Agent, Columbia, S. C. JOHN B. PECK, General Manager, D. C. ALLEN, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agt.

HOTEL WINDSOR. King Street,

4 Doors South of Academy of Music, CHARLESTON, SO. CA.

DeKalb House J. N. Nicholson, Prop'r. CAMBEN, S. C. proughout.

Tables best the Charleston and Camen markets afford. Em"Hacks me et all trains kemodeled and Newly Furnished. Latham House, CAMDEN, S. C. Transient Board Per Day

Ample accommodations. Table supplied with the best the market affords. Every attention paid to the comfort of guests. Connected with the House is a first class BAR, which is orderly kept.

Hack to and from the depot. Fare 25 cents each way.
Feed and Livery Stable on premises. B LATHAM, Proprietor.

LOOK OUT FOR THE

J WELED MORTAR.

WHEN YOU COME TO TOWN

The beautiful sign will direct you to

The Oldest Drug Store. (Established in 1847.)

Fresh and Pure Medicines, At lowest prices for First Class Goods. Special attention is given to the filling o Physicians' Prescriptions at all hours. SEEDS! SEEDS! SEEDS!

A Full Variety of Buist's Garden Seeds, For Spring Planting. Onion Sets and Early Garden and Field Corn. At

Dr. F. L ZEMP'S.

Henry Steltz. Importer and Wholesale dealer in Foreign & Domestic Fruit.

Apples, Oranges, Bananas, Cocoanuts, Lemons, Pineapples, Potatoes, Onions, Cabbages. S. E. Cor. Meeting and Market Streets, HARLESTON, 8.

J. MILTON MAYHEW

C. MAYHEW & SON Columbia, S. C. MARBLE WORKS

American and Italian Marble Work. 49_GRANITE QUARRIES AT WARDS, S. C.

100 MANTELS, MONUMENTS, TABLETS & IRON RAILING furnished at lowestpri) POLISHED GRANITE WORK, either foreign or native, to order. Correspondence solicited, and satisfaction and promptness guaranteed.

George R. Lombard & Co. FOUNDRY MACHINE AND BOILER WORKS, AUGUSTA. - - GEORGIA

BUILDERS OF Engines and Boilers, faw Mills, Grist Mills, and all n Machinery of the latest improved styles. Shafting, Hangers, Pulleys, G n nal Boxes. We have a large assortment of Patterns, Sugar Rollers and Gin G DEALERS IN Engine and Mill Supplies, Circular Saws, Files, Gummers Globe Check and Safety Valves, Whistles, Gauges, Steam Pipe and Fittings metal from 10 to 40 cents. Belting, Lacing Rubber, Hemp, Seapstone and Packing, Oil and Oil Cups, Wrenches, Emory Wheels, etc.

AGENTS FOR Eclipse Double Turbine Wheel, Korting's Universal Injectors, the best made. Bradford Mill Oo's. Portable Mills, Nordyke & Marmon Co's. Plantation Corn and Feed Mills, Atlas Engine Works and Eric City Iron Works, Portable and Stationary Engines. Kunkle's Pop Safety Valves. Cloud trees Mill Rocks.

Iron and Brass Castings, and all kinds of Repairs promptly done. We cast days and are working about one hundred hands.

and are working about one hundred hands,