

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, June 13, 1846.

Dear Sir.—The President, on last Wednesday, submitted to the Senate the proposition of the British Government, for a boundary on the North West coast. That proposition is understood to be, and I think correctly, the 49th parallel to the Straits of Feuca; the common use of the Straits to the Pacific; Vancouver's Island to the British; and the navigation of the Columbia during the Hudson's Bay Company charter. The Senate have been assiduously considering it, and last evening, by a vote of 38 to 12, advised a treaty with these stipulations. Of course the treaty will be made, and ratified, immediately. So far as I have heard, this boundary will be satisfactory to the people of the United States.

Your obt. servant, ARMISTEAD BURT.

To the Editor.

THE WEBSTER INVESTIGATION.—We have at last, as we take "our hasty plate of soup," the reports of both committees on the subject of the investigation into the conduct of Mr. Webster, and both agree in substantially acquitting him of any corruption or impropriety in the management of the northeastern boundary question, which was near creating a serious difficulty between this country and England a few years ago.

According to the reports and the evidence, we find the surmise, that we made some time ago, substantiated, that some of the men who deceived Tyler, and imposed on his good nature, have been all through at the bottom of this business, and we find that it is so. Mr. Ingersoll has been deceived by the Tyler men. The funniest thing revealed, is the fact that the agent, on whose evidence the charges against Webster rested, that the press in Maine was corrupted, has never paid over the paltry sums to the editors that were supposed to have been corrupted. The whole affair, from beginning to end, was a paltry piece of business, and Mr. Webster comes out of it unscathed. Let all parties now finish "their hasty plate of soup."

N. Y. Herald.

A writer in the Boston Post makes the following predictions:

1st. That the outlines of settlement of the Oregon question will be determined upon within six weeks from that date. (May 25th) 2nd. That the war with Mexico will be concluded, on terms dictated by the United States, within the same period of time as stated above. 3rd. That money will be plenty in ninety days, and that the business of the country, during the next year, will be very large.

THE INGERSOLL AFFAIR.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot informs us that Mr. Ingersoll has been thrown into a range, by the testimony given before the Committee of Investigation, by Mr. Lewis F. Tassistro, who swears that Mr. Ingersoll urged him to write to Mr. Tyler, and advise him to come out against Mr. Webster. Mr. Ingersoll avers that the witness testifies falsely; but Mr. I. has obviously a very bad memory.

The marriage of the Rev. Dr. Judson, the venerable missionary to India, and Miss Emily Chubbuck, (the charming Fanny Forrester of the fashionable magazines,) at Utica, N. Y., on the 2nd inst., is announced.

CHARACTER OF THE ARMY ON THE RIO GRANDE.—The following is an extract from a letter of one of the volunteers from Baton Rouge, written from Barita, May 23rd, and published in the Baton Rouge Advocate:

"I have learned here how we may love our enemies. At Point Isabel, the wounded Mexicans were in the same hospital with our soldiers, the same surgeon, nurse, and all other comforts alike. Thus we do them good. We are now encamped within ten feet of a Mexican fence, which consists of pole and brush, and though our men have to cross it in search of wood, not a stick is touched. Does not this speak much for us as a christian army?"

MEXICAN BOOTY.—The American troops appear to have on their hands some 500 wounded Mexicans to take care of. They were left behind at Matamoras when Arista retreated. One of our correspondents thinks that this leaving their dead to be buried and their wounded to be succored by the American army, may be deemed quite a "Yankee trick" on the part of our "magnanimous" neighbors.

Extensive researches have been made in and about Matamoras for concealed arms and ammunition belonging to the Mexicans, nor have they been made in vain. Several pieces of artillery and an immense quantity of ammunition have been found—the latter principally in a cave. Some artillery has been taken out of the river, and some out of wells; some has been found concealed in the yards of the houses of the priests or in the houses themselves. Among these are several mortars. Several thousand stands of arms, thousands of bushels of corn, and a very large quantity of tobacco and cigars have been recovered. The whole city of Matamoras was undergoing a thorough search.

Waddy Thompson says that there are no navigable streams in Mexico. There is no such thing as a steamboat running a single mile in any river in the whole republic, nor are there 500 miles of all their rivers which are navigable for boats of the smallest size.

The expense to this country, in specie, of the Revolutionary war, was estimated at about $135,000,000. The war of 1812, cost this country between 100 and 150 millions of dollars. The first year of the Mexican war will, according to present calculation, cost from 50 to 100 millions.

IMPORTANT FROM FORT LEAVENWORTH.—The steamer Tobacco Plant arrived at St Louis on the 7th inst. having left Fort Leavenworth on the 5th inst. She brings intelligence that Col. Kearney had despatched two companies of dragoons to intercept a party of Mexican traders, about seventy miles out, who were on their way to Santa Fe with a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

Col. K. had also been informed that a number of Mexican traders were on their way to Missouri from Santa Fe. Gov. Armijo had placed them under the escort of two companies of dragoons.

A collision between Col. Kearney's two advanced companies and the Mexican escort, it was thought would be avoided.

INTERESTING BAPTISM.—The first child baptized in the new Trinity Church, in New York, was baptized with water drawn from the River Jordan. The rite was performed on Sunday last, and the fact being known generally, excited considerable interest. The water was brought from the river in a bottle, in 1830, by Dr. James E. Decay, who was on board the corvette United States, carried out to Constantinople by the late Henry Eckford, and sold there to the Sultan. Dr. Decay, after the transfer of the vessel, passed some months in visiting the more remarkable places in the East, and among other rarities which he collected there, he brought some of this water, having been preserved for so many years as a curiosity, by the gentleman to whom the Doctor presented it, was finally used for this interesting ceremony for his own child.
