THE WISH.

Oh! may it be at eve's Still hour when I die!
When through the rustling leaves.
Is borne no sigh.
With pomp O, let me not Be to the sad grave borne!

Still let the wild bird sing,
And still the sweet-briar wave,
With each returning spring, Around my grave.

(FOR THE BANNER.)

MAN'S LIFE.

Like the meteors flash,
As onward they dash Swift thro' the sky,
And e're we can see,
What they may be,
In darkness die;
Such is man's life,
With sorrow most rife,
His race is soon run;
And scarce e're we know,
His place here below,
His goal too is won.
O'er man in his grave,
Earth's storms may rave, They disturb not his sleep;
But cold as the stone,
That tells he is gone,
His silence is endless and deep.
Since life then is so brief,
And filled up with grief,
Why should we stay;
And linger on here,
Year after year,
When Heaven invites us away?

Oh! let us then live,
That each may give,
Of his stewardship here;
An account to secure,
A seat with the pure,
In Heaven's own sphere.

SANTA FE.—This having become a place of interest in the public eye, since Gen. Kearney's expedition to it, we extract from Mr. Gregg's "Commerce of the Prairies" a description of the town and its neighborhood.

"Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico, is the only town of any importance in the province. We sometimes find it written Santa Fe de San Francisco, (Holy Faith of St. Francis,) the latter being the patron or tutelary saint.
Like most of the towns in this section of country, it occupies the site of an ancient Pueblo or Indian village, whose race has been extinct for a great many years. Its situation is 12 or 15 miles east of the Rio del Norte, at the Western base of a snow clad mountain, upon a beautiful stream of small mill power size, which ripples down in icy cascades, and joins the river some 20 miles to the south-westward. The population of the city itself but little exceeds three thousand; yet, including several surrounding villages which are embraced in its corporate jurisdiction, it amounts to near six thousand souls.

"The town is very irregular laid out, and most of the streets are little better than common high-ways, traversing scattered settlements, which are interspersed with corn fields nearly sufficient to supply the inhabitants with grain. The only attempt at anything like architectural compactness and precision consists in four tiers of buildings, whose fronts are shaded with a fringe of portales or corridors of the rudest possible description. They stand around the public square; and comprise the Governor's house, the custom house, the barracks, the Casa Consistorial of the Alcalde, the military chapel, besides several private residences, as well as most of the shops of the American traders.

"The population of New Mexico is almost exclusively confined to towns and villages, the suburbs of which are generally farms. Even most of the individual ranchos and haciendas have grown into villages—a result almost indispensable for protection against the marauding savages of the surrounding wilderness."

DR. HULL'S

Vegetable Fever and Auce and anti-Fever PILLS.
Among all the advertised remedies of the day for ague and Fever, or Chill and Fever, none seem to meet with such rapidity of sale and give so much general satisfaction, as Dr Hull's celebrated Pills. Where-ever they have been introduced, all tonics in whatever shape, all mixtures and Pills and preparations of every character, designed for this disease, have been discarded, and Dr. Hull's Auce Pills have been received as the only permanent cure.
They stop the Chills and Fever the first day, and do not sicken the stomach or operate on the bowels. Young children and persons of all ages, sexes, and conditions may use these Pills, not only with safety, but with the certainty of success.

Reader, please notice the following testimony from your own friends and neighbors:
"Abbeville District, April 9, 1846.
This is to certify that I have sold several dozen boxes of Dr Hull's Vegetable Fever and Auce Pills within the last three years, and have used several boxes in my own family, and I have never known them fail curing the Chills and Fever in a single instance. I would recommend all those persons subject to Chills and Fever to use Dr. Hull's Pills.
[signed] JOHN KELLER.

Mr Lewis Covin, of Abbeville District, says he has known the Chills and Fever of twelve months' standing completely cured by taking only half a box of Hull's Auce and Fever Pills.
Mr B Gassoway, of Anderson District, writes, in the fall of 1844, "I was severely attacked with the Chills and Fevers, which continued on me until February, 1845. I tried several remedies, and was for sometime under the treatment of a Physician, but received no lasting benefit from his prescriptions; my disease continued to increase in the frequency and severity of its attacks. I at last had recourse to Dr Hull's Vegetable Fever and Auce Pills, and in using only one box was perman-tly cured, and have remained in good health ever since. I think they are a superior remedy in Chills and Fevers, and would cheerfully recommend them to all persons subject to this complaint."

We might give scores of references and certificates, but we refer the reader to our agents, where they may obtain a pamphlet (gratis) giving a full description of the medicine and its manner of use.
Price, $1 per box.

Dr. Hull's Cough Lozenges.
Every family in the United States should keep a supply of Dr Hull's Cough Lozenges in the house, not only as a preventive medicine against the consumptive tendencies of the climate, but as an effectual remedy in all cases of Coughs and Colds.
Cedar Grove, Abbeville Dis Ap'l 19, '46 The Travelling Agent of Drs Hull and Spencer left us about eighteen months since what he thought a supply of Dr Hull's Cough Lozenges. Since then we have sold them all out and could have sold as many more if we had been supplied.
We have made use of them ourselves and in and in our families, and consider them an excellent medicine for the relief of Coughs, Colds, and all pulmonary complaints.
