

necessary; for, our readers will do that for themselves. We must be pardoned, however, for making one allusion. We know a Young Lady of first rate respectability—of first rate talents—of first rate accomplishments, and of first rate amiability:—of first rate every thing, in fact, except in the mere matter of beauty—and she is pretty enough. Well, what is her conduct—How does she use all this gold—all these rich gifts?—Why, she is the life of every company she is in:—she gives charm and beauty to every party she attends—she will converse with you—sing for you—play for you—dance for you—and all this she does well, and handsomely, and, at the same time; so as not to excite either your envy, or ill-will, but, on the contrary, your respect and esteem—not to say more; and besides this, there is not one of her female acquaintances but loves her. This is an "earth treading star."—This is a LADY for you.

HER MAJESTY'S CLOAK.—The form of the Cloak is copied from that of a Greek tunic. The outside is composed of the richest white satin brocade, and it is lined with plain white satin. Its length extends to about half way down the skirt of the dress, and it is widened at the lower part by two slits about a quarter of a yard in length. These slits or openings are confined, but not closed by lacings of gold cord, fastened by pendant gold tassels. The most striking novelty in this beautiful cloak, is a border consisting of a row of Indian pine leaves of the size of those usually introduced in shawl borders. These pine leaves are cut out, and the interstices are filled up with tasseled open work in gold. The cloak is edged all round with white gold passementerie of a very tasteful design. The sleeves are slit and laced with gold cord and tassels, like the openings at the bottom of the cloak.

SIR WALTER SCOTT.—Died of dysentery, at the Cape of Good Hope, on his way home from Madras, Lieut. Col. Sir Walter Scott, Bart. of Abbotsford, eldest son and last surviving child of the author of Waverley. Sir Walter was born in 1801, and was a Lieut. Colonel in the 15th Hussars. The baronetcy is extinct, but the Abbotsford property passes to Walter Scott Lockhart a cornet in the 16th Lancers, the only son of the editor of the Quarterly Review, and the only grandson of the author of Waverley.

The Duke of Argyll expired on the 26th of April in his 70th year.

Sir David Gould, G. C. B. senior Admiral of the Red and Vice Admiral of the United Kingdom, died on the 22d April aged 89.

POWER OF COLD WATER.—The Water Cure Establishment of Priessnitz at Grafenberg, was visited during the last year by 1,922 patients. Of these 555 were Germans, (246 Austrians, 236 Prussians, 75 Hamburgers,) 165 Russians and Poles, 127 Englishmen, 63 Hungarians, 27 Danes, 21 American, and 63 inhabitants of other countries. There were also present 14 physicians, part of them as patients and part of them as student of the Cure. Hydropathy is revolutionizing the Science of Medicine, and turning Dr. Sangrado with his "warm water and bleeding," out of doors. Dr. Shew has introduced Priessnitz's system largely and successfully into this country.

A military enthusiasm has broken out in Switzerland. A band of 800 young and vigorous men, among whom are some of the most distinguished officers in the Swiss forces, have offered their services to the American Consul at that place. They will enlist for the Mexican war, whether it lasts for five or fifteen years and then settle in California as a military colony, like those which England and Russia have in various regions. Many have wives and children and are members of very respectable Swiss families.

NEW APPLICATION OF VAPOR OF ETHER.—Dr. Cazenova, head surgeon of the lunatic asylum at Pau, has tried the use of vapor of ether on a mad girl. This poor creature had been unable to obtain sleep for five months. She was made to inhale ether, and her agitation soon ceased. After five inhalations, she fell into a complete state of insensibility, which lasted twenty-five minutes, and at the end of that time the torpor ceased, and no symptoms of disorder remained.

The British colonies throughout the world occupy an area of 2,119,708 square miles, with a total population of 107,708,323.—Their exports and imports amount to £55,533,500 sterling, and they possess 7,714,585 tons of shipping.

Recent statistical accounts show that while the population of England has doubled, the consumption there of French Wines has decreased 1,500,000 gallons. It is ascertained that the annual consumption of Wine per head in France is 36 gallons, and that in England it is but one-fourth of a gallon!

THE ESSEX RING.—This ring, to which an historical and romantic record is attached as the token, (the sight of which recalling her tenderest feelings, was to act with talismanic power on the Queen, and insure her assent to any request it accompanied,) is a diamond-loom in the "Warner" family, and the possession of Col. Edward Warner, representative of the elder branch. This is formed of a single diamond, cut in the shape of a heart, and bears an additional interest, as having been the gift of the unfortunate Mary, Queen of Scotland, to Lord Darnley, in 1551, when she sent it to her royal rival, together with the following lines, written by Buchanan:

"This gem behold, the emblem of my heart,
From which my cousin's image n'er shall part.
Clear in its lustre, spotless does it shine,
As clear, as spotless, as this heart of mine;
What through the stone, a greater hardness wears,
Superior firmness still the figure bears."

The fact of lady Nottingham's treacherous concealment of the ring, confided to her by the condemned Essex with his pleading for life from his offended sovereign, it is too well known to require repetition, as well as that the Queen's anguish at Lady Nottingham's death bed confession led to her own immediate dissolution. This ring then fell into the possession of King James I, who gave it to Capt. Warner, together with other marks of distinction; in remuneration of his extensive discoveries in the West Indies, by which three of our most valuable colonies were added to the British dominions. In 1689; Capt. Warner was knighted by King Charles I, a dignity at that period highly considered. This royal patent and documentary proofs of the foregoing facts are to be found in the Royal College of Arms, and in the possession of the representative of the family.

ASTHMA.—There is no complaint more harassing than Asthma. The Newark Daily Advertiser, a reliable paper, pledges himself to cure this distressing disease with the following simple remedy: "Take 1-2 oz. sulphur, 1 oz. cream-tartar, 1 oz. senna, 1-2oz. annis-seed, pulverize, and thoroughly mix the same, and take one tea spoonful in about two table spoonfuls of molasses on going to bed, or at such time through the day as may best suit the patient: the dose once a day may be increased or diminished a little, as may best suit the state of the bowels of the individual.

EMINENTLY PRAISEWORTHY.—Gen. Dromgoole, who recently was re-elected to Congress from Virginia a short time since and died a few days after, bequeathed his entire estate, with the exception of a few trifling legacies, to the widow and children of a man who had fallen by his hand in a duel.

NORTH POLAR EXPEDITION.—The plan of an overland expedition to the North Pole, under the direction of Dr. Sir John Richardson of Haslar Hospital, has been submitted by him to the Government and approved of, and directions have been issued to commence providing the necessary supplies of stores and provisions for a party.

Obituary.

DIED, at her residence in Abbeville District on Tuesday morning the 18th ult. of Cholera Morbus, Mrs. MARY CAROLINE BRADLEY, wife of William K. Bradley, in the 26th year of her age.

She has left an affectionate Husband and two small children, to mourn their loss. Her death was sudden and to her friends unexpected, she was at church on Sabbath apparently in good health, and in less than forty-eight hours was called by an all-wise Providence to the world of spirits.

She was for something more than 10 years a constant member of the Associate reformed church at Cedar Springs and Longcane. She has been called in the prime of life to pass through the dark and narrow valley, and although from the severity of her disease, she was unable in her last moments to speak and tell to those around her how a Christian can die, yet from her past life, her friends have far better evidence of her eternal happiness, than can possibly be derived from a death bed scene or any expression of those upon the verge of eternity.

She was an humble and sincere Christian, a faithful and devoted wife, a tender and affectionate mother, and an indulgent mistress.

She was beloved and esteemed by all who knew her, and her untimely end is severely felt and lamented, by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. But we sorrow not as those who have no hope, but believe that our loss has been her unspeakable gain, and that she is now amongst those who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb, and that she now joins in everlasting ascriptions of praise to him that loved us and gave himself for us.

DIED on Thursday the 20th ultimo at his residence in Abbeville District S. C., two miles North of Loundsville, THEODORE G. BAKER in the 26th year of his age, second son of Joseph and Lany Baker leaving his Family, Parents, and many Friends to mourn his death. His confinement was short and his sufferings great. But he considered them sent upon him in mercy by his Heavenly Father and endured them with patience and fortitude and light when compared with the Heavenly glory for which they were designed to prepare him. He is now released and faith would rejoice that he has exchanged the chamber of sufferings for the mansion of Eternal Joy and the communion of the blessed society above. Oh that his parents and family whose welfare concerned him so much, may imitate his faith and piety, and share with him the blessedness of Heaven. Communicated

UNITED STATES ARMY.

RECRUITING SERVICE.

WANTED for the United States Army, able bodied men, between the ages of 18 and 35 years, being above 5 feet 3 inches high, of good character, and of respectable standing among their fellow-citizens. None need apply to enter the service, but those who are determined to serve honestly and faithfully, the period of their enlistment, viz: "during the war" with Mexico.

This table shows the amount of pay which enlisted soldiers, according to their respective grades, are entitled to receive for their services.

	Pay of Artillery and Infantry Soldiers, and of Dragoons and Riflemen, when serving on foot.		Pay of Dragoons and Riflemen when mounted.
	Pay per month	Pay per month
	Dolls.	Dolls.
To the Sergeant Major, Quartermaster Sergeant, Chief Musician and Chief Bugler—each	17		17
First Sergeant of a Company	16		16
Ordnance Sergeants	18
Other Sergeants each	13		13
Corporals	9		10
Buglers	8		9
Musicians	8
Farriers and Blacksmiths	11		11
Artificers	11
Privates	7		8

A bounty of twelve dollars will be paid to each recruit enlisted for the Artillery or Infantry arm. By the 9th section of the act, each non-commissioned officer, musician, or private now in service or who may hereafter be enlisted during the present war with Mexico, and who shall receive an honorable discharge either by expiration of his term of enlistment, or for disability incurred in the course of his service, will be entitled to a warrant for ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY ACRES OF LAND, which he will be at liberty to locate in one body, upon any of the public lands that may be subject to private entry; or, he may, at his option, when honorably discharged, receive treasury scrip to the amount of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS, bearing six per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and redeemable at the pleasure of the Government.

Besides the monthly pay, as above stated, one ration per day is allowed every soldier, which is amply sufficient for his subsistence—also, a large supply of comfortable and genteel clothing. Good quarters and fuel are at all times furnished; and every attention will be paid to making those men who may enlist, and are determined to serve their country in good faith, comfortable and contented with their situation. The best medical attendance is always provided for the sick soldier; and no deduction of pay is made during the period he is unable to perform his duty. Should the soldier be disabled in the line of his duty, the laws provide a pension for him.

By the above it is seen that the pay and allowances are respectable, and that, with prudence and economy, the monthly pay of the soldier may be laid up, as every thing requisite for his comfort and convenience is furnished by the Government, including his sugar and coffee.

The sum of Two Dollars will be paid to any CITIZEN, non-commissioned officer, or soldier, who shall bring to the rendezvous an able bodied recruit, who shall be regularly enlisted. The citizen should present his recruit to the Lieutenant or Captain, and not to the Recruiting Sergeants.
