

WRITTEN FOR THE ABBEVILLE BANNER.
IMITATION OF TWILIGHT DEWS.

To Miss A. C. H., of Washington, Ga.
When fairy forms are floating by
In beauty's bright array,
My faithful thoughts to Georgia fly—
And one that's far away;
And then too 'midst the festive throng
When lingering at even,
Ah! dost thou lend ear thought to him,
Whose near to thee is air's.
There's not a chord of feeling deep
Within this soul of mine,
That vibrates 'neath the thrilling touch
Of any hand but thine,
And oft me thinks I see that face
So like an angel's smiling—
And oft I hear that scrapp voice
Long lonely hours beguiling.
When all is hush'd, and nature sleeps
In soothing slenderness,
My spirit wanders to the past
In twilight-dreams of bliss,
Then memory's wild Eolian strings,
To spirit-music give
Scend echoing back thy DEAR—DEAR NAME
To angel-harps in Heaven.

WRITTEN FOR THE ABBEVILLE BANNER.
Lines to Her who will understand them.

"Forget thee!" ah, when drooping flowers
Forget their life-recalling dew,
Or dews the glittering diamond-showers
That Sol's resplendent beams diffuse,
Then may this heart forget the dew,
Who is its flower—its dew—its sun!
Forget thee, dearest! when the soul
Forgets the dreams of "days gone by,"
Or hope forget to tinge with gold
The shadowy future's darkening sky,
Then these perchance I may forget,
My first—last dream—my "fond hope" yet.

When sailors on the storm-lash'd waves
Forget their homes in smiling lands,
Or travellers in Africa's clime
Oases mid the burning sands,
Then thou green spot of memory,
May sink in dark oblivion's sea.

Not till the prison'd bird forgets
The blooming earth and azure sky,
The fragrant grove and balmy air
Through which it once so lov'd to fly,
Can I forget the bliss divine
My soul has revel'd in, with thine.

Not till the rosy East forgets
The Day god that dispel's her night,
The west the halo round her flung
In glory from his parting light,
Can this lone heart forget the smile
That made it fair as Eden's isle.

From the Hon. Morris Longstreth's Address.
ROTATION OF CROPS.

There is living in Northampton county Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Lehigh a very aged man, whose success in falling upon a system of rotation, by which he could obtain the greatest possible yield of wheat, in a given term of years, he caused it to be generally adopted in that fertile region. It is called Sheimer's system, after the discoverer Jacob Sheimer, whom I had the curiosity to visit at his most substantial homestead some years ago, and from whom I obtained the following account.
When a young man with a large family of children growing up around him for support, he plainly perceived that under the rude practice then existing, he would not be able to support them. He had thought over his difficulties while following his plough, and at length he determined upon his plan which followed up without faltering, has conducted him in the decline of life to ease and affluence.
When I saw him he had resigned the active duties of his farm to his son, who was following in his footsteps; after having himself practised it for thirty-five years, with a constant improvement in the quality of his land; which indeed had the unmistakable stamp of fertility upon it.
The farm of one hundred acres which was divided as nearly as possible into eight fields of 12 1/2 acres; each of which was carried through an eight years rotation.
Commencing with a fallow field, he
1st year. Manured and limed; ploughed three times, in May, June, and August. harrowed and seeded one bushel and three pecks per acre of wheat, which was ploughed under.
2d. Clover seed sown on wheat in het spring, 6 quarts to the acre, which was sowed after harvest.
3d. Pastured clover in the spring, one bushel per acre, cut in June, and ploughed under second crop, and seeded again with wheat.
4th. Wheat—same as No. 2.
5th. Pastured early in the season, ploughed under second crop in August, and sowed wheat.
6th. Wheat again, and rye sowed on stubble.
7th. Sowed clover seed in the spring on rye.
8th. Ploughed under the clover sod and planted corn; and next season recommended.

It will be observed that there were every year three fields in wheat, one with rye, one with corn, two with clover, and one fallow. The produce had one season reached as high as 1,400 bushels of wheat, 600 bushels of corn, and 400 bushels of rye.

Cotton Press.

We offer to the citizens of Abbeville and the adjoining Districts, our improved SWINGING FULCRE PRESS. The invention was not the result of mere chance, but of long experience and mathematical calculation. As to power, it is equal, if not superior, to anything now in use. It requires less timber, easier framed, and put up in less time, and with less danger than a screw; and the Press will last as long as any timber protected from the weather or above ground. From the number of these Presses which are now in use from North Carolina to Mexico, we feel no hesitancy in saying that they will supersede the Screw; and there are ten of our Presses up to one of any other, and we feel justified in saying fifty to one. The average duration of Screws in this District is not more than four and a half or five years, and as there is not less than five hundred Screws, see what is paid out in one year.
For single or individual rights, $15.00.
We offer the District rights for sale on very low terms, which we consider a greater speculation than there is in the country.
Persons wishing information respecting the Press, will find me for two weeks to come at the residence of Mr. James Cobb. I will build one more Press in this District for $50, every thing found to hand.

Dr. Spencer's Vegetable Pills,

And Tonic and Restorative Bitters.
As a proof of the popularity of these medicines, we subjoin the following:
A. Campbell, Sumpter District, 'So, Ca., writes, ordering fresh supplies, and states that Judge Richardson, and others of that District, have made use of them for dyspepsia, liver complaint, jaundice and general debility, with great success.
John T. Ervin, of Darlington, S. C., that he is all out of the Bitters, and orders a fresh supply—that wherever used they are approved of, and their popularity fast increasing.
Thomas Fletcher, Telfair co., Ga., writes, he is all out, in less than two months after taking the agency, and orders a new and large supply.
Wm. B. Beazley, Barnwell, District, S. C., G. D Collins, Anson co., N. C., M A Santos, Norfolk, Va., and large numbers of others, write for fresh supplies, informing us of the rapid sales and increasing popularity of these Pills and Bitters.
As proof the efficacy of these Medicines, read the following:
Nathan G. Cully, Johnson co., N. C., was cured of a case of the measles, followed by a long protracted attack of chills and fever, by the use of one box of pills and one bottle of bitters.
Stewart Beggs, Druggist, of Augusta, was cured of a long protracted case of the Piles, by the use of two bottles of bitters.
Mr. —, one of the Judges of Jefferson co., Ga., was cured of dyspepsia and Piles, by use of two bottles of bitters taken in connection with the Pills.
Col Sherwood, Tallahassee, Fla., was cured of dyspepsia and liver complaint in four weeks after commencing the use of the pills and bitters.
And these are only a few isolated cases among the many which are daily coming to our knowledge. To the afflicted we say, make trial of Spencers pills and bitters before giving up your case as incurable. Many have been cured—many others may be.

The above Medicines, Fresh and Genuine, are for sale by Wardlaw & Dendy, and at the Post Office.
For certificates of recommendation and other information concerning the above Medicines, see future advertisements, also pamphlets which may be obtained of the Agents,
