REPEAL ASSOCIATION.—The usual weekly meeting of this body took place on Monday. Mr. Sam'l Murray, the defeated candidate for Drogheda, presided. He eulogized the late Mr. O'Connell, and expressed his determination to present a petition against the return of Sir Wm. Somerville. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Reynolds, the Repeal member for Dublin, who declared himself the representative of all classes. Mr. John O'Connell, in the course of his speech, stated that the Repeal cause had done well at the Irish elections; they had five important commercial cities to represent repeal. He declared that he had used all influence to roset Mr. Sheil from Dungarvon; and, alluding to his own return for Limerick and Kilkenny, implored his friends in each place to meet, and decide which of the towns he should sit for. The rent was announced to be £60.

MONUMENT TO O'CONNELL.—There was a meeting in Dublin on Friday, at which the Lord Mayor presided, the purpose of which was to commemorate, by a suitable monument or other testimonial, the services and memory of Mr. O'Connell. A committee was appointed and arrangements made to commence and carry out a scheme; and it was determined to organize simultaneous subscriptions, on the plan and according to the machinery of the collections made for the O'Connell Tribute. The contribution of individuals is limited to £5, but parties wishing to contribute more are invited to do so, either in the names of members of their families or in their own, as second, third, &c. subscriptions. A considerable amount was contributed at the meeting, and vigorous steps are being taken to prepare for the general national contribution. It is expected that the amount realized will be from £40,000 to £50,000. The nature of the testimonials is not decided.

FRANCE.
There has lately been discovered near Sceaux, in the Loiret, a large stone jar of rude workmanship, containing 600 Roman coins. The jar is about 16 in height and 8 inches in diameter. It was found in a species of chamber, about two yards square, the walls of which were coated with a cement of extraordinary polish. It was at the same time enclosed in a niche which had only one opening of sufficient size to admit a man's hand to drop in the coin. It is believed to have been the secret treasure of some economical Galli-Roman.

The Monitor Industrial states that the losses by railway speculations on the Paris Bourse, between the month of October, 1845, and the end of July, 1847, amounted to the enormous sum of 488,000,000f.

RUSSIA.
The Cholera is making such ravages in the Russian army in the Caucasus that nearly a third of the soldiers are said to be sick in the hospitals, and some regiments quartered in the lowlands have lost from fifty to a hundred men in a single day.

The Circassians are said to have cut off the ears of a Russian General whom they had taken prisoner, and to have sent them a present to Count Woronzow, the Russian Commander-in-Chief.

RUMORED COUP D'ETAT AT ST. PETERSBURG.—A letter from Warsaw, in the Cologne Gazette of the 6th says: "Something extraordinary in its preparation at St. Petersburg—perhaps it is a coup d'etat. Although the foreign journals make us laugh when they talk of the abdication of an illustrious personage, it is certain that all the Russian diplomatists abroad, of the highest rank, are ordered to come to St. Petersburg in the course of the next month,—and this certainly merits some attention. A Vice-Royalty for the Grand Duke Michael or Constantine is much talked of, but this is mere rumor. The best informed persons hold out that it is in contemplation to incorporate Poland with Russia, and this appears to be highly probable. In fact, the pure Russian party, which hates the very name of Poland, and has at its head the Minister Taschkou, has now the direction of affairs. The German party has no longer any influence."

HENRY CLAY.

We have time and again battled against Henry Clay, whose political course in associating with the younger Adams, and his aberrations from the Republican ranks, caused us to separate from such a distinguished American. While his fame is identified with his country and the struggles of opposing parties the fame of his soldier son is that of the warrior son of a patriot sire.

Mr. Clay our readers are aware, has been on a visit to Cape May. On Friday last he was addressed by Nicholas Dean, Esq., as Chairman of a Delegation from New York of 1000 in number, inviting him in behalf of the citizens of New York, irrespective of party, to the commercial metropolis.

The correspondent of the Philadelphia North American writes (Aug. 25) as follows:

"Mr. Clay, who had listened with much attention to the glowing language and impassioned tones of Mr. Dean, after a silence of a few moments, arose to reply—"

"I should then be very glad, had any word that was to fall from those eloquent lips should be to me. He commenced by alluding to the presence of other committees, and similar allusions to the one from New York, and then proceeded to the same point as Mr. Dean, and then continued—"

"I have just been delivered has had the effect almost to induce me to adopt the language which was used on a more solemn occasion. 'Thou almost persuaded me' to go to New York. But in all that uprightness of my nature which I have ever endeavored to practise, I must tell you the object and motives which have brought me to the shores of the Atlantic. I returned to my residence after passing the winter at New Orleans, on the 23d or 24th of March last, and a day or two afterward melancholy intelligence came to me. I have been nervous ever since, and was induced to take this journey, for I could not look upon the partner of my sorrows without experiencing deeper anguish."

[Mr. Clay was here completely overcome by his feelings, covered his face with his hands and was silent several minutes. At length with an effort he recovered himself and resumed.]

"Every thing about Ashland was associated with the memory of the lost one; the very trees which his hands assisted me to plant, served to remind me of his loss. Had the stroke come alone, I could have borne it, with His assistance, and sustained by the kindness of my friends and fellow citizens with meekness and resignation. But of eleven children four only remain. Of six lovely and affectionate daughters not one is left. Finding myself in the attire of sadness, I thought I would fly to the mountain top, and descend to the ocean wave, and by meeting with the sympathy of friends obtain some relief to the sadness which encompasses me. I came for private purposes, and from private motives alone. I have not desired those public manifestations, but have rather desired to escape from them. My friend and travelling companion Dr. Mercer, will tell you, that in Virginia, in every section of the State of my birth, I have been implored to remain, if only for a few hours, to exchange congratulations with my friends, but I invariably refused and only remained in each place sufficiently long to exchange one vehicle for another. You may imagine I made a visit to Philadelphia. When I arrived in Baltimore, I learnt that the most direct route to this place was by the Delaware. I had no public object in view in taking that route, and yet indifferent I am not nor cannot be to anything which connects me with the honor, welfare and glory of my country.

Gentlemen of the committee of New York: I have truly and sincerely disclosed the purpose of the journey, but I cannot but deeply feel this manifestation of your respect and regard. It is received with thankfulness, and excites the warmest feelings of my heart, that I a private and humble citizen without an army, without a navy, without even a constable's staff, should have been met at every step by a progress with the kindest manifestations of feelings—feelings of which a President, a Monarch or an Emperor might well be proud.

Special Notice.
All persons indebted to me, are required to settle, on or before the first of November next. J. W. CRAWFORD, Cold Spring, Pendleton, Aug 18 25 4w

The Daily National Whig,
Is published in the city of Washington, every day at three o'clock, P. M., Sundays excepted, and served to subscribers in the City, at the Navy Yard, in Georgetown, in Alexandria, and in Baltimore, the same evening, at 6 1/2 cents a week, payable to the sole agent of the Whig, G. L. Gilchrist, Esq., or his order. It is also mailed to any part of the United States for $4 per annum, or $2 for 6 months, payable in advance.

The National Whig is what its name indicates. It speaks the sentiments of the Whig party of the Union on every question of public policy. It advocates the election to the Presidency of Zachary Taylor, subject to the decision of a Whig National Convention. It makes war to the knife upon all the measures and acts of the Administration deemed to be adverse to the interests of the country, and exposes without fear or favor the corruptions of the party in power. Its columns are open to every man in the country, for the discussion of political or any other questions.

In addition to politics, a large space in the National Whig will be devoted to publications upon Agriculture, Mechanics, and other useful arts, Science in general, Law, Medicine, Statistics, &c. Choice specimens of American and Foreign Literature will also be given, including Reviews, &c. A weekly list of the Patents issued by the Patent Office will likewise be published—the whole forming a complete family newspaper.

The Weekly National Whig, one of the largest newspapers in the United States, is made up from the columns of the Daily National Whig, and is published every Saturday for the low price of $2 per annum, payable in advance. A double sheet of eight pages will be given whenever the press of matter shall justify it.

The Memoirs of General Taylor, written expressly for the National Whig, are in course of publication. They commenced with the second number, a large number of copies of which have been printed, to supply calls for back numbers.
