se and efficiency, who knows experimen-lly, the duties of every member of it. Daughters who neglect this part of edu-tion are entirely without excuse, and their others are still more to blame. The very pology, which is often made for the neglect it, is the greatest condemnation of those ho offer it.

who offer it.

It is said by those who are growing up in ignorance of these things, "any one can learn to keep house when it is necessary. Any one who loves her husband and is devoted to his interests will make herself accomplished in those things after she is married." As well might the young man say, "O, what use is it for me to learn a profession, or make myself acquainted with the details of my business! When I am married, if I love my wife, it will then be time to accomplish Would there be any surer onen of total failure and discomfiture ! That which a woman can learn to do under the tuition of their scanty crops. love, can certainly be learned to much greater advantage under the tuition of a mother.

If its at all so easy to learn, then they certainly are inexcusable who neglect it. It is no degradation to the finest lady to know all the details of domestic affairs. It is honorable and ought to be her pride. A woman, though she may be as beautiful as the morning, as wise as Minerva, and as accomplished as the Graces, ought to know the details of

The Young Men.

THE Wilmington Herald lectures the Whig party under the above caption, in a nsible manner. It strongly condemns the policy of the whigs in preferring greyhaired mediocrity over youthful genius, and as strongly commends the policy of the Democratic party in putting forward their able and energetic young men. The Herald thinks that if its party would imitate the democracy in this particular, they would have better prospects of success. Well, we are glad to see a whig paper speak out openly as the Herald does on this subject. We recollect well of seeing, not very long ago, an article in a leading whig paper, not very far from where we now are, in which the democracy were rather blamed for preferring young stem whilst the great whice party was lauded for its conservatism, evidenced as it was by the fact that its young men had to pass through a long state of probation before they could aspire to anything. Now the view we take of this matter is this: The fact that old fogyism rules the whig party is a necessary sequence of the principles of action by which that party is guided. They set themselves up as specially a conservative party—their mission is to hang back—to be a dead weight upon the progressiveness of the age—to keep firm hold on the coat-tails of democracy in order to keep it from doing something dreadful. How can a party with such principles of action sympathise with the fire and sanguine hopefulness of youth? As well expect oil and water to commingle.— Such ante-deluvean notions as a protective tariff, whereby a few manufacturers are to be enabled to fatten on the industry of the farmer-opposition to free suffrage, involving as it does, the right of self-governmentand others which might be mentioned, could only find a lodgement in a party where old fogyism predominates.—Asheville News.

AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE. -- Mr. James Henry, of Pickens county, Ala., who occupied a seat in the legislature of the last year, has announced himself as a whig candidate for Congress in the IVth district. He is not to be permitted, though, to walk over the track, as we preceive by the following com-munication in the West Alaba...ian : Mr. Editor: I am a candidate for Conno one lives within a circumference to any body else. I shut myself up in a room last week with John Bass (be sure and don't print his name without the A,) and myself as delegates, and held a caucus, in which after three several ballotings, I was unanimously acminated Jim's opponent. John accepts the honor, and will be in the field during the war.' Yours (without gas or bas.) JOHN W. BASS.

NEW YORK .- On the 5th and 6th instant there was a grand convention of Know Nothings in Now York for the purpose of preparing for the coming election. Instead of throwing their strength in favor of either of the candidates already nominated, it seems they have concluded to bring a man of their they have concluded to bring a man of their own into the field, and make an independent run of it. They are reported to have nominated Daniel Ullman, of New York, for Governor, and J. G. Scroggs of Buffalo, for Lieutenant Governor. The New York election promises to be the richest kind of a scrub race, with five regular candidates for Governor in the field, and it will be infinitely amusing to watch the developments and the final result.

No womas, says Burknap is educated who is not equal to the successful management of family. Although it does not require so much to rule a household as it does to govern a state, still it requires talent of the same kind. As he makes the best general who has begun at the lowest post and past up through every grade of office; as he makes the best admiral, who entered the navy in the most inferior station; because they and they alone, are acquainted with the whole compass of a subaltern's duty; so that woman will manage a family with the greatest case and efficiency, who knows experimently; the duties of every member of it. beaux, and hen-pecked-down in general will rejoice to learn that a "love of a bonnet" has just been invented in Paris, exactly suited to the exigency, and—cheap. It goes by the appropriate name of Viadote, and is so constituted that "it can be foulded and packed up into a small case of two and a half inche deep, rendering it perfectly portable. The bonnet can be made in every style, and turned in the very height of fashion, with out imparing its character."

THE long continued drought will result, believed, throughout extensive sections of the country, in the utter extermination of myriads of insects, worms, animalculae, &c. which have hitherto proved highly detri-mental to our value crops.
