

Is Friday an Unlucky Day?

From time immemorial Friday has been frowned upon as a day of ill omen. And though this prejudice is less prevalent now than it has been of yore, when superstition had general sway, yet there are many even in this matter-of-fact age of ours who would hesitate on a day so inauspicious to begin an undertaking of momentous import.

On Friday, August 31, 1492, Christopher Columbus sailed on his great voyage of discovery.

On Friday, October 12, 1492, he first discovered land.

On Friday, January 4th, 1493, he sailed on his return to Spain, which if he had not reached in safety the happy result would never have been known which led to the settlement of this vast continent.

On Friday, March 15th, 1493, he arrived at Palas in safety.

On Friday, November 22d, 1493, he arrived at Hispaniola in his second voyage to America.

On Friday, June 13th, 1494, he, though unknown to himself, discovered the continent of America.

On Friday, March 5th, 1496, Henry VII. of England gave to John Cabot his commission which led to the discovery of North America. This is the first American State paper in England.

On Friday, September 7th, 1555, Melendez found St. Augustine, the oldest settlement in the United States by more than forty years.

On Friday, November 10th, 1620, the May Flower with the pilgrims made the harbor of Provincetown; and on the same day they signed that august compact, the forerunner of our present glorious Constitution.

On Friday, December 22d, the Pilgrims made their final landing at Plymouth Rock.

On Friday, February 22d, George Washington, the father of American freedom was born.

On Friday, June 17th, Bunker Hill was seized and fortified.

On Friday, October 7th, 1777, the surrender of Saratoga was made, which had such power and influence in inducing France to declare for our cause.

On Friday, September 22, 1780, the treason of Arnold was laid bare, which saved us from destruction.

On Friday, October 19th, 1781, the surrender at Yorktown, the crowning glory of American arms, occurred.

On Friday, July 5th, 1776, the motion was made by John Adams, seconded by Richard Henry Lee, that the United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free and independent.

Thus by numerous examples, we see that, however it may be with other nations, Americans need never dread to begin on Friday any undertaking, however momentous it may be; therefore we shall continue to publish the Woonsocket Patriot on Friday.

The Vicissitudes of Life.

One man sucks an Orange and gets choked by a bit, another swallows a penknife and lives; one runs a thorn in his hand and no skill can save him, another has a shaft of a gig completely driven through his body and recovers; one is overturned on a smooth common, and breaks his neck, another is tossed out of a gig over Brighton Cliff, and survives; one walks out of a windy day and meets his death by a brickbat, another is blown up in the air, like Lord Hatton in Guernsey Castle, and comes down uninjured. The escape of this noble man was, indeed, a miracle.

CO-OPERATION OF THE WIFE.—No man ever prospered in the world without the co-operation of his wife. If she unites in mutual endeavors, or rewards his labors with a smile, with what confidence will he resort to his merchandise or his farm, fly over lands, sail upon seas, meet difficulty and encounter danger, if he knows that he is not spending his strength in vain, but that his labor will be rewarded by the sweets of home. Solitude and disappointment enter the history of every man's life, and he is but half provided for his voyage who finds not an associate for happy hours, while for his months of darkness and distress no sympathizing partner is prepared.

"CERTIFICATE."—A Model of its kind.—Dear Doctor: I will be 175 years old next October. For 94 years I have been an invalid, unable to move except when stirred with a lever; but a year ago last Thursday I heard of the Granular Syrup. I bought a bottle, smelled of the cork, and found myself a new man. I can now run twelve and a half miles an hour, and throw nineteen double summer-sets without stopping.

A little of your Alimontostum Salve applied to a wooden leg, reduced a corned foot in nineteen minutes, and is now covering the limb with a fresh cuticle of white gum-pine bark.

To-Day. Enjoy the blessings of this day, if God sends them, the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly; for this day only is ours. We are dead yesterday and we are not yet born to the morrow. If you will secure a contented spirit, you must measure your desires by your fortunes and condition, not your fortunes by your desires; that is to be governed by your needs, and not by your fancy, by nature, not by evil customs and ambitious principles. Is that best better that has two or three mountains to graze on, than a little bee that feeds on dew and manna, and lives upon what falls every morning from the storehouse of heaven, Clouds and Providence? Can a man quench his thirst better out of a river than a full urn, or drink better from the fountain, when it is finally paved with marble, than when it swells over the green turf?

Mr. Snipe's Litaney.

From tailor's bill's doctor's pills and western chills, and other ills—deliver us!

From want of gold, wives that scold, maidens old, and by sharpers 'sold'—preserve us!

From stinking flies, cold black eyes, baker's pies, and baby cries—deliver us!

From bearded females, strong-minded women, female lecturers, and all other masculine ladies—preserve us!

From sooty coats, wrested notes, and sinking boats—protect us!

From creaking doors, a wife that snores, 'confounded bores,' and dry goods—protect us!

From colic's gripe's, Paddy's pipes, and Mrs. Snipes—deliver us!

From modest girls, with waving curls, and teeth of pearls—never mind.

"SEND FOR THE DOCTOR."—The poor doctor is called from his bed on a stormy night with the stirring summons—

"Doctor want you to come right straight away off to Banks." His child's dead."

"Then why do you come?"

"He's pisoned. They gin him laud'num for paregoric."

"How much have they given him?"

"Do'no. A great deal. Think he won't get over it."

The doctor pushes off through the storm, meets with divers mishaps by the way and at length arrives at the house of his poisoned patient. He finds all closed—not a light to be seen; knocks at the door, but receives no answer; knocks furiously, and at last a night cap appeared from the chamber and a woman's voice squeaked out,

"Who's there?"

"The doctor, to be sure—you sent for him; what the dogs is the matter?"

"Oh, it's no matter, doctor. Ephraim is better. We got a little skeered, kind of—Gin him laud'num, and he slept kind of sound, but he's woke up now."

"How much laudanum did he swallow?"

"Only two drops. 'Taint hurt him none. Wonderful bad storm to-night."

The doctor turned away, buttoning up his overcoat under his throat, to seek his home again, and tries to whistle away mortification and anger, when the voice calls—

"Doctor, doctor!"

"What do you want?"

"You won't charge nothing for this visit will you?"

A TOUCHING CUSTOM.—A common practice in Paris, which impresses a stranger favorably, in that of lifting or taking off the hat when a funeral passes. This is observable by all classes.—Ex. Paper.

Some years since we were one of that rushing crowd ever pouring up and down Broadway. When in front of old St. Paul's all eyes were attracted by the appearance of the crew of the French war vessel, La Belle Poule, which then visited the United States, under the command of Prince De Joinville. The crew were in their naval dress uniform, bright and beautiful, and were carelessly sauntering along seeing the sights. All at once they stopped, formed a line faced inward and uncovered. How exquisitely touching was the scene when we discovered in that thoughtless, busy hurrying crowd a man of foreign birth, evidently poor and friendless, under whose arm was tenderly carried a tiny coffin, and by his side the stricken mother. They were in search of burial for their babe, and were jostled, and unheeded in that gay torrent of humanity, until they met these hardy tempest-tossed mariners, who on the instant with bared heads, stood in silent respect, while the sacred ashes of the unknown infant were passing. Such are French manners.

Many dare not express their honest opinions, for fear of persecution. Such are slaves—they feel that they are slaves; are despised for their cowardice, by the very persons whose persecuting spirits they feared. The better way is to be bold and independent; speak honestly, when occasion requires; strength to persecution, will be received in such a course.

STRANGE COINCIDENCE.—Mr. William Thomson and wife, two aged citizens of this District, died at their residence, ten miles below the village, a few days ago. Mrs. Thomson was taken sick one hour and three quarters before her husband, and what is very singular, he died just the same space of time after she breathed her last. They were placed locking arms in the same coffin, and therefore sleep in the same grave.—Lancaster Ledger.

The Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel regrets to learn that the yellow fever has made its appearance in Hamburg, and that two deaths occurred yesterday—Francis Goudy and Mr. Clement. It is said, also, that there are other cases under treatment.

It is thought that champagne will rise in price on account of the anticipated failure of the grape crop. One of our exchanges thinks the price of champagne depends much more on the apple crop of New Jersey than on the vines of France. A very rational remark.

The Macon, Ga., Messenger, of the 1st inst., says: "Considerable excitement was created in our city on Monday morning, by the announcement that Samuel D. Scovil, Book-keeper in the Agency of the Marine Bank at this place, had absconded with $10,000 of the funds of the Institution. It has subsequently appeared, that he left this city at 8 o'clock, Sunday evening, on the train of the Macon and Western Railroad for Atlanta, but beyond that point it has been impossible to trace his progress. It is supposed, as the advertisements of fugitives usually read, that he is 'making his way to a free State.' Mr. Scovil has heretofore borne a very good character for industry and sobriety, and the announcement of his small Schysterism astonished every one. His parents we believe, were Northern people, who resided for some time in Twiggs county, Ga., where he himself was borne, Robt. Slappy and Heywood Hughes, Esqrs., of that county, we learn, are the securities upon his bond for $7,000."

A SPECIAL dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune, dated New Orleans the 20th ult., says: "I learn from head-quarters that the new Cuba expedition, which was to have left the States under command of Gen. Quitman, has failed, and there is no probability of future hope or success. I have been promised by one of the 'head men,' a full history of the present organization, the names of the committee here, the amounts subscribed and the names of the subscribers, as also the names of parties in your city who have been connected with the movement. All of the facts which are of any public interest will be forwarded to you for publication. The gentleman from whom I have obtained this information informs me that one of the members of the grand jury who pretended to investigate the truth of the rumors of a filibuster expedition, was the Recording Secretary of the Cuba Committee."

A CURIOUS woman, in Brookville, says the Hartford Courant, counted the stitches she took in making a shirt. The number was fourteen thousand four hundred and thirty-five.

The best lip salve in creation, is a sweet kiss. The remedy should be used with great care, however, as it is apt to bring on an affection of the heart.

'How he plays for one so young,' said Mrs. Partington, as the organ boy and his monkey performed near her door; and how much his little brother looks like him, to be sure!

A CONTEMPORARY, announcing the marriage of an editor, says he was always of the opinion that editors had just as good a right to starve some man's daughter as any one else.

GLEASON'S PICTORIAL Drawing-Room Companion.

A Record of the beautiful and useful in Art. The object of the paper is to present, in the most elegant and available form, a weekly literary mélange of notable events of the day. Its columns are devoted to original tales, sketches and poems, by the BEST AMERICAN AUTHORS. and the cream of the domestic and foreign news; the whole well spiced with wit and humor. Each paper is BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED with numerous accurate engravings, by eminent artists, of notable objects, current events in all parts of the world, and of men and manner, altogether making a paper entirely original in its design, in this country. Its pages contain views of every populous city in the known world, of all buildings of note in the eastern or western hemisphere, of all the principal ships and steamers of the navy and merchant service, with fine and accurate portraits of every noted character in the world, both male and female. Sketches of beautiful scenery, taken from life, will also be given, with numerous specimens from the birds of the air, and the fish of the sea. It is printed on fine white paper, with new and beautiful type, presenting in its mechanical execution an elegant specimen of art. The size of the paper is fifteen hundred and sixty four square inches, giving a great amount of reading matter and illustrations—a mammoth weekly paper of sixteen octavo pages. Each six months will make a volume of 418 pages, with about one thousand splendid engravings.

Dodge's Literary Museum.

THE NINTH VOLUME of the Museum commenced Saturday, June 5th, 1854, which far exceeds all preceding volumes of this widely circulated and independent Literary and Family Journal, both in typographical appearance and in the value of its original contents. The Museum claims to stand second to no literary journal in the United States, boasting a corps of Gifted Contributors whose names are enrolled in the list of the most eminent of American Authors, and whose effusions have long graced the pages of this paper. This is the Seventh Year of the Museum's existence, and its prosperity has been one of such a sure and substantial character, as to warrant the great and constant outlay made by the Proprietor, in order to secure and increase for it a brilliant reputation. The Editorial Department is conducted by OSIAN E. DODGE and J. W. HANSON. TERMS invariably in advance: One copy, one year, $2.00; One Volume, $1.00. And all above four copies at the same rate. Single copies to be had at all the Periodical stores in the civilized world. We will send one copy each of the Museum and Godey's Lady's Book, for one year, to each subscriber, for $4.00. Also the Museum and the N. England Cultivator, for one year, for $3.00. Persons wishing the direction of their papers changed should inform us of the Post-Office to which they are now sent, as well as of those to which they wish them sent. All letters whatever, respecting the business management or editorial department, to be addressed to OSIAN E. DODGE, No. 12 School-street, Boston, Mass.

Great Economy in Time & Labor. TALLINGHAST'S PREMIUM CHURN.

THE SUBSCRIBER respectfully informs his friends and the public generally that he has purchased the right to manufacture the above Churn, and is now prepared to execute all orders for the same. Its simplicity is such as to be understood by every intelligent child, and its construction is on truly and strictly philosophical principles, and produces the desired result in an almost incredible short time. The superior quality of this Churn are as follows: First, the quick and easy process of making butter when sitting in a chair. Secondly, in overcoming the difficulty which produces a swelling to overflow; and, Thirdly, the gathering process in separating the butter from the milk, and is preparing for salting. Persons wishing a Churn can find them at the subscriber's shop, near the corner of Main and Buncombe streets. J. R. MERRILL, Greenville, June 9.

Mechanics, Manufacturers, and INVENTORS.

A new volume of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN commences about the middle of September in each year. It is a journal of Scientific, Mechanical, and other improvements; the advocate of industry in all its various branches. It is published weekly in a form suitable for binding, and constitutes at the end of each year, a splendid volume of 400 pages, with a copious index, and from five to six hundred original engravings, together with a great amount of practical information concerning the progress of invention and discovery throughout the world. The Scientific American is the most widely-circulated and popular journal of the kind now published. Its Editors, Contributors, and Correspondents are among the ablest practical scientific men in the world. The Patent Claims are published weekly, and are invaluable to Inventors and Patentees. We particularly warn the public against paying money to travelling agents, as we are not in the habit of furnishing certificates of agency to any one. Letters should be directed, (post paid) to MUNN & CO., 128 Fulton street, N. Y.
