Finding it impossible to carry out his wishes, and doubtless tired of a life that had become a disgrace and dishonor to himself and the source of the keenest anguish to his vertisement in another column. family, the unfortunate man resolved on self destruction. He had procured, by some means, several pods of the Jamestown weed, that grew in abundace around the jail, and about noon of the 27th, asked for a cup of seed. He was discovered some two hours after taking the draught, lying on the floor in an insensible condition. Medical aid was brought, but he had passed beyond its reach. He lingered through the night and 28th. Mr. Laroche and the father of the of a recent hunting excursion in the moununfotunate man were present at his death and witnessed his burial in the afternoon of the same day. An appropriate end to a reckless and abandoned life.—Verily, "the way of the transgressor is hard." We sincerely sympathize with the parents and family of the deceased, who are clever, respectable people, residing in the upper portion of the State.—Savannah Republican.

THE ORIGINAL EXPLORER OF SALT LAKE VALLEY .- Prof. C. G. Forshey, of Galveston, Texas, formerly of New Orleans, through the News calls attention to the well known fact that Salt Lake was explored and described by Capt. Booneville, of the United States Army, twenty-one years ago, eight years before Fremont ever saw it, and that his explorations, maps, &c., were embodied in a book edited by Washington Irving, en-tifled "The Rocky Mountains." He obtained the articles in his possession from the wreck and took passage on the British brig Wasp, for home, but was again wrecked on the Virginia coast. He was put in prison, to hear from his relatives in Boston.

DEFENCE OF GEN. WALKER .- Wm. T. Johnson, one of the Americans who was taken prisoner by the Costa Ricans after the battle of Santa Rosa, is out in a letter de fending Gen. Walker. His name it will be remembered, with the names of six others, was signed to a circular addressed to the people of the United States, in which Gen. Walker was accused of being an unprincipled adventu:er, and of enticing by false promises young men from the United States o join his army. Mr. Johnson says that the circular is a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end; that his signature was put to it without his consent, and that his comrades signed it under intimidation.

WASHINGTON AND THE CORPORAL.-Du ing the American revolution, it is said, the commander of a little squad was giving orders to those under him, relative to a log of timber which they were endeavoring to raise up the top of some military works they were repairing. The timber went up with difficulty, and on this account, the voice of the little great man, was often heard, in reg-ular vociferations "Heave, away! there she goes! heave ho!" An officer, not in the military costume, was passing, and asked the commander why he did not take hold and render a little aid. The latter, aston-The correspondence between the Territo- an emperor, said "Sir, I am a corporal!" ished, turning round with all the pomp of rial officers of Kansas and the general Gov-ernment will be published to morrow. The Corporal was thunderstruck! It was Washington who thus addressed him!

INFLUENCE OF THE LONDON TIMES .- It may not be generally known, says a contemporary, that the leader of the "Times" is telegraphed every morning to all the principal towns of England; then written out in large letters and affixed to a bulletin board, and is placed in the public Exchange. At Glasgow, Liverpool, Manchester, and other towns of less commercial importance, crowds of merchants and others may be seen early in the day reading this article! As it thus, in effect, does the thinking for the mass of the middle classes of Great Britain, its influence with them must be very great. It is difficult, in fact, to understand its extent and power, which no class, we presume, and not even the Government itself, fails to acknowledge.

MOUSE STORY .- An Albany editor says that a mouse, which had several times been caught in the act of nipping the nice things in his pantry, was the other day traced to its nest, which was found to contain seven or eight cunning little "responsibilities."-The parent rogue was arrested, and executed for larceny. On one side of the nest, a peice of an old Bible was found, on which the following words were distinctly visible :--"Thou shalt not steal." What a hypoicrite!

A party of about one hundred emigrants, including sixty men and the remainder women and children and slaves, passed through St. Louis, on the 29th ultimo, on their way to Kansas. They emigrated from Georgia and Alabama.

LOCOMOTIVES COVERED WITH GLASS .-The locomotives in Germany are hereafter to be covered with a casing of glass, which will permit the engineer to survey the whole country, and at the same time protect them from the wind and cold.

WE find the following in the "Squatter Sovereign," published at Atchinson, Kansas Territory:

GEN. AYER AND PARTY .- Gen. Lewis M. Ayer of South Carolina, with a party of twenty two emigrants, from the same noble sentatives. State, arrived in our town on last Wednesday. The party, as we learn, had made a short stop at Leavenworth, and at Weston, on their way up the river. We are happy to say that they all arrived here in fine health and spirits, Let the ery be "still they come !"

Counterfeits.

The Newnan Banner says that counter-feit "Fifties" of the Bank of the State of Georgia are circulating in Coweta and Heard counties, Georgia, and Randolph county Alabama. They are said to be well executed, and those who handle large piles would do well to be on their guard.

POPPING THE QUESTION.—"I was sitting by the side of Imogene, meditating upon the best manner of coming to the point, when she took up an orange that lay on the table.
