

Poetry.

From the Petersburg Intelligencer.

THE FIRST ROSE OF SUMMER,
Written by a young lady in her 13th year.
The first Rose of Summer now lifts its fair head,
And the dewdrops imppearl its bright bloom;
While around in profusion its sisters do shed
Their sweet odoriferous perfume:
But soon will the bleak blasts of winter assail,
And scatter their leaves in the air;
Soon, soon will their fragrance be lost in the gale,
And death nip their beauties so rare.
Thus, in the gay morning of youth and delight,
When joy wings the swift-passing hours,
No shrill winds arise our fond visions to blight
For friendship presides in our bowers.
But ah! when we deem our blest happiness sure,
Then hi, arrow grim death swiftly wings;
The smiles of contentment are seen then no more,
Dire misery the heart rudely stings.
Ah! more transient our joys than the meteor of night
That flies thro' the star studded sky;
I than the breeze that flies o'er me, our pleasures
more light,
And more swift than the winds too they fly.
Then grant, O great Omniscience! that in the cold grave
With the friends of my heart I may rest:
Oh long may the willows in sympathy wave
O'er the green sod that covers my breast.
JANE.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FROM THE PITTSBURG MERCURY.

Qui capis, ille facit.—"If the cap fits put it on."
I have often wondered, Mr. Editor at the little attention paid to rank, and grades of society, by the vulgar mechanic and plodding tradesman. These people should certainly know, that the vast difference between them and people of blood and fashion, ought to strike them with a reverential awe, and humble submission to the superior merits of their betters. Perhaps, Mr. Editor, as our constitution has been so meanly mechanic, as to forbid titles of nobility, you may be at a loss to perceive where the proper line of distinction is, between the best blood of the land, and the common herd of hard-working poor and despicable mechanics. Some body observes, that few of the great people in this country, can go back more than one, or two generations at farthest, without stumbling over a lap stone, or burning his finger with a goose; yet I have known some people, who have even in their own day and generation, used these vile implements of industry, to turn up their snouts at a leather apron, and be panic struck at the keen point of a needle. Therefore, as the distinctions, between these two classes, lie more in the opinions of the persons themselves, than in any real physical or moral difference, the best, and perhaps only criterion to judge by, is the sentiments of those who have placed themselves among the better sort of people. Thus, the son of a practical less wealthy, in the same proportion as the latter condemn the poor. A shilling in cash, adds a guinea to importance. Though we might all trace our origin to some poor tinker or taylor, or cobbler or nailer, or hewer of wood and drawer of water, or pedler or weaver, &c. &c. yet few of us are willing to look an inch farther back, than corresponds with our ideas of dignity. If we can perceive but a single drop of noble blood, in a direct line, though for centuries past, we will jump over whole herds of vulgar relatives, to get at it. This is called laudable ambition, and none but the low-bred will dare to gainsay. How far these ideas may correspond with your sentiments on this subject, Mr. Editor, I will not pretend to say. Till lately, I had been governed by that old-fashioned, vulgar adage, that "Worth makes the man;" and though I am not sufficiently furnished with arguments to controvert it, yet I think it would have read much better, "Wealth makes the gentleman," when aided by a quantum sufficit of self importance and easy confidence, (vulgarly called impudence): For I contend, that though my grandfather was a mender of kettles and my father a manufacturer of leather ware, yet, with my pocket full of money, I have as much right to forget them in recounting my ancestors, as I have to chastise the vulgar clown who would dare to dispute the rank and honorable descent of CRISPIN'S SON.

The following singular case is copied from a London paper of the 6th of April last:—A Gardner's wife at Vienna was, at the age of 24 years, seized by a violent head ache, which continued for several years, and drove her almost to despair. She was at last advised to take snuff as a remedy, in order to promote a discharge of mucus. Happening to have some assafoedita in the house, she mixed it with the snuff, on the supposition that it might increase the effect. The consequence was, that a worm was discharged from the nostril, similar in appearance to that of the common Grub. This circumstance induced her to continue to use the mixture of the assafoedita and snuff. Eight more worms were discharged. In short, by the use of the remedy, 48 worms in all were discharged, and the head-ache was completely removed. Dr. Franklin, who relates the case, supposes that the worms had been lodged in the frontal sinus.

LONGEVITY.

Died on the 3d inst. at his residence in Dorchester county, E. S. Md. Mr JOHN MITCHELL, at the very advanced age of one hundred and five years and nine months.
In Ashby, Ms. 3d inst. Widow ABITHA PEARSON, in her One hundred and First year! She had been blind for about twenty years until the last Sunday but one previous to her death, when her sight came to her so as to read without lasses!

byterian next helping himself to the remainder, exclaimed "in medietate variet." (Truth lies between extremes.) The modest Baptist being left without any thing to eat, took up a dish of drawn butter and splashed it over his companions, vociferating, "Ego Baptizo vos." (I baptize you.)

DIED, at his residence in Richland District on Thursday night last, after a few days illness, Mr. REUBEN HOUSE.

Under Decree in Equity.

Will be sold in CAMDEN, before the Court House, between the legal hours of sale,

On Monday the 5th day of August next, FOUR separate tracts of LAND, containing 650 acres, (more or less) situate on Horse Pen Creek, in Kershaw District, having on the same a Grist Mill, sold to satisfy a decree in favour of Turner Joy and Jacob Boon, against Nicholas Swilley.

—ALSO—

A tract of Land containing One Hundred Acres, (more or less) situate on Horse Pen Creek, bounded at the time of the original survey, on all sides by vacant land. Another tract on the north side of the Wateree, containing One Hundred and fifty acres, granted to Wm. Langley, and bounded at the time of the grant thereof, by Benjamin Perry's and Zaddock Perry's land, near Col. Peay's Ferry—Also, a lot in the town of Camden, No. 29, bounding on Broad-street. The said two tracts of land, and town lot above mentioned, to be sold to effect a division between the heirs of William Langley deceased, on a credit of nine months, the purchaser giving bond and good personal security, to be approved by the commissioner and paying for titles.

J. CARTER, Com. in Equity,
June 27, 1816. Camden District.

Election in Clermont Cavalry.

NOTICE is hereby given that an Election will be held at STATESBURGH, on the first Saturday of August next, for a CORNET in the Clermont Troop, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the promotion of Cornet Mayrant.

By order of

John Jennings,
Capt. 6th Cavalry.
Wm. T. SPANN, First Sergt.
May 28, 1816.

50 Dollars Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscriber on Thursday evening the 13th inst. a mulatto man named JULIUS, by trade a Carpenter & Cabinet maker, about five feet ten inches high, slender but well formed, of good appearance, but has a gloomy and somewhat frowning countenance, and has a sedate and somewhat slow movement in his ordinary gait. There are two marks about him by which he may be immediately known—his left arm, which was put out of joint at the elbow, and never properly set, and the appearance arising therefrom may be perceived even with his coat on; and likewise the appearance of a gun shot wound in one thigh. As he is ambitious, intelligent, artful and insinuating, he may change his name, attempt to pass as free and go to the northward. Any person who will apprehend the said fellow and deliver him to the subscriber, at this place shall be entitled to the above reward, or to the sum of TWENTY FIVE DOLLARS and all reasonable expences, on delivering him to any jail in the state. As this is the first fault of the kind if he returns voluntarily he may be forgiven, and sold in Augusta.

W. ELLISON.

Edgefield, Court House, June 17, 1816.

20 Dollars Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscriber on the 10th inst. two Negroes, ANDREW and his wife NANCY.—Andrew is about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, dark complexion, round face, wears his whiskers and is about 23 years old.—Had on when he went away a straw hat, white homespun round jacket, shirt and pantaloons. Nancy a mulatto wench, about 30 years old, bare made, with some of her front teeth it; has some marks on her arms occasioned by the whip; wears her hair plaited, had on a white homespun frock they took with them, other cloathing and their bedding. The above negroes were bought from near Salisbury, in N. Carolina, by one Arkey Partee, and sold in Clarendon county, S. C. in July last, and it is presumed they will fry to get back again. Any person that will take them up and cure them in a jail so that I may get them again shall receive the above reward.

MICHAEL WILDER.

Clarendon County, S. C. June 14, 1816.

Lee & DeLeon

HAVE on hand a general assortment of seasonable and

Fashionable Goods,

Also, a good supply of GROCERIES, which they will sell low for cash or produce.

Camden, May 9, 1816.

Wm. Thompson

TAKES this method of informing the public that he still continues the business of TURNING and WINDSOR CHAIR MAKING, in the upper end of Camden. Orders in his line will be thankfully received and punctually executed. SETTEES and CHAIRS made to any pattern, and painted any color required.

May 16.

7tf

Patent Medicines,

For Sale at the Store of

Jumelle & Young,

Broad-street, Camden.

- DR. DYOTT'S Stomachic Elixir of Health,
- Vegetable Nervous cordial,
- Gout & Rheumatic drops,
- Patent Stomachic Wine Bitters,
- Worm Destroying Lozenges,
- Anti Biliious Pills,
- Patent Itch Ointment,
- Infallible Tooth Ache Drops,
- Circassian Eye Water,
- Restorative Dentifrice.

—ALSO—

Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, British Oil, Turlington's Balsam of Life, Stear's Opodeldoc, Essence of Peppermint, &c.

—LIKEWISE—

Elixir of Paregoric, Laudanum, Spirits of Lavender, Spirits of Hartshorn, Spirits of Nitre, Calomel, Jalap, Rheubarb, Ipecacuanha, Tartar Emetic, Peruvian Bark, &c.

Charleston Tobacco Inspection.

NOTICE.—The Commissioners of this institution will proceed to an Election of One Inspector of Tobacco, of Candidates from the upper part of this State, on the 15th day of July next, who shall be bound to attend at said Inspection, and to perform all the duties of an Inspector of Tobacco, agreeable to the laws and regulations of the Commissioners, from the first day of November next, until the first day of June following, and for same period in each succeeding year, so long as he may be continued in office; for which service, he will receive the sum of Five Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

Any person duly qualified for said office, and desirous of becoming a Candidate, will make application by letter, (sealed and directed to the Commissioners of the Charleston Tobacco Inspection,) and forward the same to the Subscriber in Charleston, on or before the 15th day of July next. Bond and security will be required, for the faithful performance of duty.

Daniel Stevens, Chairman.

Charleston, May 13, 1816.

CAMDEN—Kershaw District.

RECEIVED May the 18th 1816, into Kershaw gaol, a NEGRO WOMAN, slim and black, appears to be about 30 years of age and says she belongs to DAVID RICH, of North Carolina, Mecklinburgh County.

William Brazington, Gaoler.

June 11.

CAMDEN—South-Carolina.

COMMITTED to Kershaw gaol, April the 7th, a slim MULATTO FELLOW, who calls his name AMOS. He is crippled in his hand, and lost the great Toe of his foot, and relates that he belongs to General PIERCEY.

William Brazington, Gaoler.

June 11.

CAMDEN—Kershaw District.

RECEIVED, May the 25th, 1816, into Kershaw gaol, South-Carolina, a NEGRO MAN, very stout, tall and black. He says that he belongs to THOMAS GREEN, of Augusta, Georgia.

William Brazington, Gaoler.

June 11.

FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE, INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE Artillery Sword Exercise.

Printing.

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, EXECUTED WITH NEATNESS AND ACCURACY AT THE

OFFICE OF THE

CAMDEN GAZETTE;

Where may be had

BLANKS FOR LAWYERS,

MAGISTRATES, SHERIFFS, &c.

ORIGINAL
PAGE(S)
MUTILATED