 Intending to move westwardly, offers for sale, his

Plantation
 on twenty-five mile Creek and Beaverdam Creek about six miles from Camden, containing about one thousand acres, which as respects eligibility and healthiness of situation, is surpassed by none in the State, being well supplied by numerous springs of the purest water and furnish a number of delightful seats for summer residence. On the Beaver dam Creek that makes into twenty-five mile Creek there is a water GIN now in operation, and a Rice Mill ready to put up sufficient to grind for the plantation and neighbors on the twenty-five mile Creek, which run through the land and along the side of it. About two miles there is several good Mill seats—there is about one hundred and eighty acres of cleared land and several buildings on each side of the Creek, the Cotton crop that was raised on the land this year was inferior to none on the River, judged by all persons that have seen it.

He also offers for sale,
 Stock of all kinds, and Plantation Tools, Blacksmiths Tools, Corn and Fodder
 AND,
 A Negro MAN and a Negro WOMAN.
