

What a Captured Yankee Says.
The Leesburg correspondent of the Memphis Appeal records the following reply made to him by a Yankee captured at Leesburg battle, when asked why he enlisted:

"I enlisted in July," said he, "and have been incessantly drilling since, but often wished I was out of it. Trade being totally stopped, most of us out of employment, and to keep from starvation was the main motive. We always heard you spoken of as a 'handful of re- without arms and principle, who were ruling some districts by force, and our papers continually report that the great mass of the people loved the 'stars and stripes' as much as we, and only wanted us to come across the river when thousands would join us. To read the Boston papers daily sent us, any one would suppose we were badly whipping you in some quarter or other every day. But I always had a suspicion, judging from the boldness and bearing of your rebels, that such reports were fabrication. We have been in the service six months, and have received about twenty dollars—the rest always being 'promised.' I entered the service to support my wife and child," (said he, with filling eyes) "but I have not been able to do so from their inhuman treatment." They all speak in harsh terms of their treatment from the authorities at Washington, and seem glad to have shirked the yoke of the Lincoln dynasty.

SALTY.—Upon the reception, says the Mer- cury of the 25th inst., of the news that Gov. Brown was appropriating salt at other points, the article became exceedingly active in the Augusta market. A multitude of drays were engaged in transporting salt to the other side of the Savannah. Somehow Governor B. got inkling of the movement and gave orders, by a despatch, that all the salt in the city in the hands of dealers should be seized. Accordingly over 700 sacks were seized on Friday at the depot of the South Carolina Railroad. Much had, however, made its escape to South Carolina. Some of the people of Augusta kindled bonfires on Friday night, in approval of the Governor's action.

We understand Governor Pickens is about issuing a like proclamation.

ECONOMY.—The Vicksburg Whig notices a favor sent to that office, by a lady, as follows:

A great curiosity was sent us by Mrs. Blanchard. It is a "model economical candle," 60 yards long, and it is said will burn six hours each night for six months, and all that light at a cost of about 50 cents. It is made by taking one pound of beeswax and three-fourths of a pound of rosin; and melting them together; then take about four threads of slack-twisted cotton for a wick, and draw it about three times through the melted wax and rosin, and wind it in a half; then pull the end above the boll and light it, and you have a very good candle. Our's is very fancifully wound on a corn-cob, and makes a pretty ornament. The curious can see it at our office. Mrs. Blanchard deserves a premium for the invention, in times like these, when candles are scarce and dear.

REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF SALT.—The committee appointed by a meeting of the citizens of Lynchburg to take into consideration the exorbitant price of salt, says the Richmond Examiner, report that their labors have closed, and that salt will hereafter be sold to consumers by Messrs. M. Daniel & Irby, at $3.50 per sack; and that the supply, it is supposed, will be ample. This is a great point gained by the action of the citizens of Lynchburg; and we do think it is time that some steps should be inaugurated in Richmond, to relieve housekeepers of needy circumstances, from the abominable extortions being practiced.

THE ENEMY'S CAVALRY.—The London Times's correspondent does not give a very flattering description of the enemy's cavalry. According to his account, most of the officers don't know how to get on a horse, or to alight. The last branch of the science will be taught them by the Confederates, as soon as their awkward squad take the field.

The residence of the late Dr. Harney, in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, now the property of General Harney, of the Lincoln Army, is to be immediately confiscated.

The Douglas monument at Chicago is to cost from $100,000 to 150,000.

A YANKEE WOMAN DETERMINED THAT HER HUSBAND SHALL NOT FIGHT.—Mrs. Maskell, of Sanilac, Mich., was so determined her husband should not enlist in the army, that, a few nights ago, while he was asleep, she laid his hand on a block of wood, and taking a dulshaving knife laid it across his middle and fore finger, and striking the instrument a sharp blow, nearly severed them. She completed the job by sawing them off with a dull jack-knife, but the amputation was so bunglingly done that a surgeon was called to do it over.

POOR OLD SCOTT.—An Ohio paper says that old Scott is in his dotage, behind the times, and unfit to have the direction of an army. Poor old man! To be kicked out of power, and taunted by his own friends as a miserable dotard. But yesterday, he was the "great Captain of the age;" "now, none so poor as do him reverence." A righteous retribution for the hoary traitor who sold himself to the enemies of his native land for the pay and emoluments of office.—Richmond Dispatch.

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER.—It is mentioned as a fact worthy of note, that every male descendant of the author of this song, (the "Star Spangled Banner,") liable to military duty, is now in the Confederate Army. At least fifteen members of the family are at this time in arms against the tyranny at Washington, and rightfully claim that they are fighting for the principles to which the flag was originally dedicated.

LEX TALIONIS.—In retaliation for the cruelties thus far practiced upon our privateersmen, the Yankee prisoners confined in Charleston have been placed in separate cells. Col. Corcoran (who is the hostage for Smith, one of our privateersmen, already convicted of piracy in Philadelphia), has been committed to the condemned cell.

It is said that the adventurous rebel who visited all the posts of the left wing of Lincoln's army Saturday last, under a written permit from McClellan, was no less a personage than the famous Wigfall.

The Charge for telegraphing between St. Louis and San Francisco is $5.95 for ten words; and 48 cents for each additional word.

CIRCULAR.

To the Soldiers' Aid Societies of S. C.
In answer to the numerous enquiries which have been made by the different "Aid Societies which have been recently formed throughout the State, I have been intrusted by his Excellency Gov. PICKENS, to give the following information.

Depots will be established by the Quartermaster General, both in Charleston and Columbia, for the reception of all donations of clothing; and he is also charged with the duty of forwarding and distributing the same.

The "Department" will receive all donations of clothing, say frock coats and pantaloons, of heavy worsted goods, shirts and drawers, of heavy homespun or flannel, wool, or heavy cotton socks, blankets, new or second hand, also heavy shoes.

The plan upon which the State designs supplying her soldiers with all necessary clothing, is based upon their willingness to surrender to the State the amount of money appropriated by the Confederate Government for this purpose, say forty-two ($42) per annum, this sum not now being sufficient in consequence of the greatly advanced cost of material. It is in view of this fact that these laudable "Associations" of ladies and gentlemen, are cordially welcomed as coadjutors in this noble work, and in proportion to their voluntary contributions of labor and materials, will the absolute cost of clothing for our gallant volunteers be reduced.

In the event that any of the "Associations" should not feel themselves able to furnish both material and labor, the Quartermaster General is instructed by his Excellency the Governor, to re-imburse such Associations the cost of all materials, at a rate not exceeding similar materials purchased by the "Department;" and the quantity allowed for each garment shall be the same as used in our Manufacturing Bureau.

Societies are particularly requested to advise the Quartermaster General of the quantity of work they can do per week, and the amount of donations they will probably send.

To prevent confusion and loss, the following method for marking packages should be strictly observed. All Societies near Charleston, should ship to Charleston and mark thus:

No. 1. TO QUARTERMASTER GENERAL
CHARLESTON, S. C.

From Aid Society at (here insert place.)
Societies near Columbia, should ship and mark thus:

No. 1. TO ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER,
COLUMBIA, S. C.

From Aid Society (here insert name.)
The packages should be marked distinctly, and numbered from one (1) upwards. A correct invoice should accompany each shipment.

All articles shipped at the expense of the State.
