Defen of the letters, dery that if the in Kentucky wave any disposition to and do not shen an engagement, there ill be a great battle within three days. The Union declares that it h a no apprehensions for the result, as the very best divisions and generals of the Federal forces would be present and participate. The Louisville Journal, of the 12th inst., says that the rebels have no present intention to attack Cincinnati, but that four heavy columns, including Bragg's, were then advancing towards Louisville, Notwithstanding this, thousands of Yankee troops are being sent from Louisville to Cincinnati.

Our Success in Western Virginia-Capture of the Kanawha Salt Works. The Northern papers confirm our reported victory in Western Virginia-The capture of the Salt works in the Kanawha Valley. The New York Times says, editorially:

The rebels have fallen upon the Union troops left at Gauley Bridge to defend the entrance to the Kanawha Valley, and driven them away in much haste, and with very serious loss of provisions and army stores. Onr men, in retreating, seem to have made repeated stands, and to have dealt the enemy some damaging blows. But it was all of no avail. Charlestown, the flourishing county seat of Kanawha, has been shelled and burned, the Kanawha Salt Works, among the most productive sources of saline supply in the country, have been destroyed, the entire Kanawha Valley evacuated, and towns on the Ohio river, near its mouth, threatened.

This is a success for the rebels quile as marked in its boldness and vigor as the more important movements in Maryland and Kentucky. It is to be hoped that it will prove as shortlived and unprofitable. Report places Gen. Loring at the head of the rebels. He is on the Potomac. It is probably Gen. Floyd is on his old rounds.

RICHMOND, September 24 .- The Lynchburg Virginian of to-day says, the Yankee columns recently routed by Jackson, near Shephardstown, was commanded by Burnside, four brigades of the enemy reached across the river when Jackson precipitated his whole force upon them. They were literally mowed down. So many of them were killed that the stream was almost dammed up by their bodies-About 15,00 were taken prisoners. Out of the whole force of 10,000 not more than 2000 es. caped. On our side there were only 250 killed, wounded and missing.

CHATTANOOGA, September 24.-We learn from Nashville, that Gen. Bragg captured Munfordsville, Ky., and captured 445 prisoners, a large number of negros and several pieces of artillery.

MR. EDITOR: You will please announce ALEX-ANDER L. McDONALD as a suitable candidate to fill the office of Tax Collector of Kershaw District, at the ensuing election.

Mr. McDonald has been engaged in the arduous but honorable vocation, if not a lucrative one, that of a school teacher, for upward of forty years in our Town and District and country around. He has been unfortunately a cripple from his birth, as many of us know, but has acted his part well. Assidnously trustworthy in his profession as an instructor of youth, from his own South, annually having taught many of the parents and children of our section, and even some few grand-children of his former pupils. He is still engaged in teaching, and is now well stricken in years and short of means of support. Now, we, as citizens and friends of the needy, the aged and the crippled of our District, feel it to be our ndispensible duty to support him with our uffrages at the ballot box of our District, in October next.

"TO THE PLANTERS." AGENCY OFFICE, 40 BROAD STREET. Charleston, August, 12, 1862.

MR EDITOR-From the number of letters, I am still receiving from various parts of the State, requesting information about the "pledged Cotton," and as to the manner of remitting all amounts for Cotton already sold, I re cently published on both of these points in your paper could not have been seen by all parties interested. Will you therefore, allow ine to state again that Mr. Thomas H. Johnston, an experienced Cotton Broker of this city with his assistants, will call on all parties in due time and negotiate with them as to the purchase of the "Loan Cotton;" but I will thank all planters who have already sold, or intend selling to others, than the Government, to remit me the net proceeds of sale, either in a draft on one of our City Banks, or in Treasury Notes, without further delay. As soon as I can ascertain whether they prefer Confederate Bonds or Certificates of Stock, (both bearing eight per cent interest, but the former payable to bearer and the latter to order,) I will have them prepared and remitted to the planters. But it is important that I should first receive the remittances, for my orders are to give eight per cent, interest from the date of the receipt of all moneys, and it will be impossible to make a calculation until I receive the amount. As the Bonds and Certificates of Stock are only issued in 1000's 500's 100's and 50's, should the amounts of sales be uneven, I will further thank the planters to add on the fraction, so as to make it conform with the issues of the above securities. Pressing engagements, in connection with the auties of my office, compel me to adopt this mode of communicating with my friends in the countr
