

If the Northern and Eastern States tolerate the practice of carrying of our slaves, the Union must of course be very soon dissolved, their vessels be excluded from our ports...

The steamer, Wilmington, lately burst her boiler on the Mississippi, killing 6 or 7 of the hands. A Bank called the "Ruckersville Banking Company" has gone into operation under the free banking law of Georgia.

Now that the term of ten years during which what was called the compromise act in regard to the "Tariff" was to continue, is drawing to a close, the question of reviving the old mis-called "American System" begins to be seriously agitated again at the north.

The following remarks were written for last week's paper, but excluded for want of room.

Mr. Foster, U. S. Senator from Tennessee, has addressed a letter to the Legislature of that state, resigning his office, on account of instructions from the Legislature to vote for the "Independent Treasury" bill...

I planted the second week in May, a lot of morus multicaulis mulberry trees on one acre and a quarter of good land, being rich loamy soil, by laying down the roots and trees without being cut, burying them about two inches deep.

The silk worms required attendance about seven weeks; the first three weeks I employed two persons, one to pick leaves and the other to feed the worms...

I raised fifty bushels of excellent cocoons, and what I reeled produced one pound of silk in the bushel, which is pronounced by good judges to be better than the imported, and equally as good silk as any made from any other species of mulberry tree in our country.

But it is said the will of the people ought always to govern in a popular government. The rule is correct, but not the application of it.

Since the above was written we see that Judge White has gone on to Washington and taken his seat in the senate. We hope the event will prove that he is more of a patriot than demagogue.

GEN. McDUFFIE'S CROP. We are informed, (says the Edgefield Advertiser) by a gentleman in whom perfect confidence can be placed, that the Cotton crop of General McDuffie, this year, will average 8 bales to the hand.

fact ought to stimulate persons engaged in Agriculture to take and read agricultural papers, and to buy and read agricultural books. No money laid out in any other way would yield as large a profit.

We place the following article under the editorial head, where it will be seen and we trust read. The facts are worth attention. And let it be remembered that in the Southern States the quantity of leaves yielded by the multicaulis is at least double what it yields in Connecticut.

SILK GROWING IN 1839. Experiment of Mr. Aaron Clepp of Hartford, Conn.

The great importance of the silk culture to our country, and the eagerness of the public to obtain information respecting it, renders it the duty of every one engaged in producing a silk crop, to impart all the information he is capable of giving, that the public may have correct data on which to base their confidence to engage in, and to go forward in this great national enterprise.

With these views, and in compliance with the earnest solicitation of my fellow citizens, I give publicly the result of my experience during the past summer.

I then fixed up an old building which had been used for a store-house, by putting up ladders or shelves, the boards being about 18 inches apart one above another.

The silk worms required attendance about seven weeks; the first three weeks I employed two persons, one to pick leaves and the other to feed the worms...

Allowing that fifty pounds can be obtained from one acre and a quarter of land, and in so short a space of time, it will be seen that the silk business can and will be made very profitable.

Capt. James Marsh, of Hartford, raised this season one and a half bushel of cocoons from two square rods of ground, equal to 107 1/2 bushels to the acre, and at $3 the bushel would amount to $537 50.

S. B. Goodwin, of Wethersfield, gathered this season 575 pounds of multicaulis leaves from one-fourth of an acre of ground, equal to 14,300 pounds of leaves to an acre; and allowing that eighty pounds of leaves will make one pound of silk, it would produce 178 pounds and 12 ounces, and at $6 a pound would amount to $1069.

Dr. Holt, of Gloucester bars, obtained 70 pounds of multicaulis leaves at one time, picking from the rod of ground, equal to 11,200 pounds to the acre.

Mr. Church of Bethlem, from five years' experience in making silk from different species of mulberry, is fully satisfied that the multicaulis will make equally as good, if not superior, to any other kind.

Now, with a convenient cocoonery and additional help of two individuals for two weeks, I could raise a crop of one million of silk worms with the same ease and in the same length of time specified above.

to injure the trees when picking the leaves. The leaves from all picked over in a day, and some of the leaves, being 12 1/2 inches in length. Now when these are cut into a supply of multicaulis trees in the country, so that there would be no silk for them, we should gather the foliage by stripping off the branches and the leaves together, and in this way might gather the foliage four or five times as fast.

Several individuals in this vicinity have made silk this season from the morus multicaulis, with good success, and the specimens of silk that have recently been exhibited at the American Institute gives undoubted evidence that this species of mulberry trees makes equally as good silk as any other kind.

Our Rail Road.—It will be seen by the following statement, derived from the late report of MITCHELL KING, Esq. President pro. tem. of the Rail Road Company, that an expense of upwards of a million of dollars has already been incurred in the construction of the Columbia Branch, and surely no one will entertain the idea of abandoning that branch, at the sacrifice of the whole expenditure already made and incurred, when less than $600,000 (the whole estimate cost being $1,600,000) is necessary for its completion.

The order for iron rails from England, by the direction of Gen. HAMILTON, before the last meeting at Asheville, to our agents in England, was reduced from 2000 to 1600 tons—the quantity required to lay the road from Branchville to Orangeburgh. A part of this iron has, within a few days, arrived in Charleston, and from the last advice, the rest of it must be now on its way.

We gather from the report the following items: No new contracts have been made. Several existing ones have been completed and negotiations opened for their settlement on terms accommodating to the Company.

PRESIDENT OF RAIL ROAD COMPANY. MR. VARDY McBEER was elected, on Saturday last President of the Louisville, Cincinnati and Charleston Rail Road Company, in place of Gen. HAYNE, deceased.
