PROSPECTUS OF THE CAMDEN JOURNAL.
THE subscriber, having purchased the CAMDEN JOURNAL Establishment, intends to continue its publication.

There has not, perhaps, been a period of six months, in the last twenty five years, that Camden has been without a newspaper, and it would be a vile slander on the character of her citizens, to suppose that they will not support one now—a slander of which the subscriber will not be guilty until he has conclusive evidence of the fact.

If there be any of our citizens, either in the town or elsewhere, who feel an interest in the continuance of the JOURNAL, and who are not already subscribers, they have an opportunity of manifesting that interest by becoming so now. The publication will be re-commenced on or before the 1st Saturday in February next, previous to which time, the Proprietor would be pleased to have as many as possible of the names of those who feel sufficient interest in the character and prosperity of Camden, to induce them to aid in the permanent establishment of a newspaper in the town.

The Proprietor has engaged the services of Mr. JOHN C. WEST, in the Editorial department—consequently, the political character will undergo no change. It will sustain the doctrines of the Republican Party—the rights of the States, and the integrity of the Union. It may be proper to add, as personalities and scurrility have become so common a weapon with the newspaper press, that this paper will support no political party which requires such aid for its success.

The paper will contain, as far as its limits will permit, the current news of the day, domestic particularly, and foreign when of special interest. Strict attention will be paid to the Price Current; and weekly remarks made during the season in relation to cotton, which may be relied on for their correctness. With these promises on the part of the Proprietor, he solicits the patronage of the public.
ROBERT W. NIGHT,
Publisher and Proprietor.

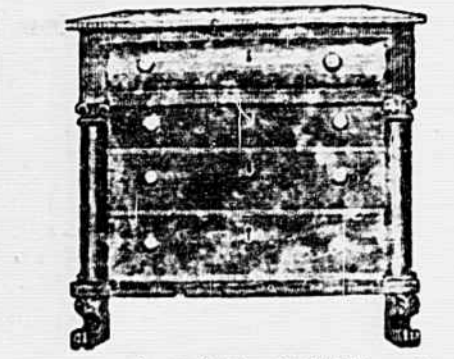

CELEBRATED.
THE BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, respectfully address the following remark to the merchants of the United States, who trade with this city:
You are aware that on the night of the 16th of December last, an unpremeditated Conflagration destroyed an important portion of our city between Wall and Broad streets, embracing the stores of many wealthy and enterprising merchants.

Let an apprehension should prevail that this loss may render our merchants unable to furnish the usual amount and variety of merchandise heretofore exhibited in this market, the Board of Trade have much satisfaction in giving the assurance that the Merchants whose stores were destroyed, have removed to other parts, and are prepared from fresh importations to continue their business with their usual assiduity.

The Board of Trade therefore deem it proper to give the public assurance that none need postpone their usual time of visiting the city, confident that they will find the market as well supplied as usual, and their correspondents equally able to supply their demands.

HUGH AUCHINCLOSS, President.
JOHN ELY, Recording Secretary.

DR. B. PRATT'S ARTIFICIAL NIPPLE.
THE subscribers have just purchased a supply of the above instrument, which has been successfully used for the last two or three years for that distressing complaint, sore or excoriated nipples; or where the nipple is entirely wanting; or where the child's mouth is so sore that it cannot nurse on the natural nipple.—The artificial nipple is recommended by the highest medical authorities on the subject in this country. Dr. Jewers of Philadelphia, and Dr. Sewall of Washington City, as the certificates annexed will attest; to which the medical faculty of the place, give their entire concurrence, having witnessed its successful application.

Dr. J. H. Pratt,
Deceased.
This is a matter of much public interest, to possess a means of lessening the terrible suffering from sore nipples; I have much pleasure in being able to say, that the shield you offer for the prevailing and cure of this malady, is better adapted to the purpose than any I have ever seen. In two or three instances, I have known them to be used, such satisfaction has been expressed, and have no hesitation to believe, it will generally succeed. I am so well persuaded of this, at this moment, that I cannot forbear to express a wish, that our City, through the various Apothecaries, may be supplied with them.
I am, yours, &c.
M. P. DWEEES, M. D.
Philadelphia, Jan. 16th, 1834.

Washington City,
February 4th, 1834
Having examined Dr. Pratt's newly invented nipple shields, and witnessed its practical applications among my patients, I take great pleasure in recommending it as decidedly superior to any thing previously known. It is a simple, a perfect remedy for that distressing malady, sore nipples, a disease which so frequently afflicts nursing women.

POLITICAL.
From the Richmond Enquirer.
THE ADJUSTMENT.

We understand, from the best authority, that on Monday last the British Charge, Mr. Hankhead, communicated by orders of his Government, the result of a despatch of the French Government, declaring its readiness to execute the financial provisions of the treaty in consequence of the frank and honorable execution of the President's message at the opening of Congress, and expressing a wish to have the diplomatic relations between the two governments restored. On Thursday, the President was to communicate this with the paper proposing the negotiation, and our answer to it. We are informed that these are two of the most beautiful productions of the present times. It is indeed the glorious consummation of President Jackson's negotiations, conducted in a spirit of justice and moderation, and maintained with a firmness which never falters. What must be the feelings of the nation, which have seized the moment of their country's peril to justify her enemy, and especially of that Senator from Virginia who is said to have declared that France ought to consider the last message an aggravation of the insult! As a friend writes us, "the odious resolution of the Senate is now the only spot in the glorious disk of the sun of Gen. Jackson's glory."

One Whig at least can do justice to the administration. We hail with pleasure the following from the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Chronicle:

"WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1-36.
"You knew the news even before we did; news that will ring far and wide to the glory of him who has now more than filled the measure of his country's fame. France has agreed to pay the money due our citizens, and the quarrel is settled—all Paris is full of joy, all Washington of gossip and political gratulation. The old President himself is in ecstasy; the palace is crowded this morning with glancing guests. The war has been stopped and Van Buren's star is brighter than ever—the great pacifying message, is the mantle beneath which the thousand sin of omission and commission will be concealed, on the part of the administration—but the third term is broken up."

We agree with him—the old Hero has really filled the measure of his country's glory. The United States will soon higher than ever in Europe. The name of New Orleans will scarcely be considered as more brilliant in the eyes of our statesmen. Judge by the following extract from the Globe:

"The following letter is from a gentleman of high talents and attainments; one who has recently travelled through England, Scotland, Ireland, Germany and Italy. The testimony of such an observer as to the rising reputation of our country abroad, cannot but be gratifying to our readers:

"The Paris papers have informed us of the recall of Mr. B. Eaton. It produces some excitement and many inquiries. At Genoa, at Milan, and at Florence, I was in company, and many questions were asked about the President and his intentions. It gave me pleasure to inform them I had seen him the week before I left home, and to assure them that no apology could come from him and that the country would support him. The little principality on the Rhine and in Italy seem surprised that America dare thus brave France. It is indisputable to our character in Europe, that we hold our ground with France and that we do not recede. America has had no rank abroad till lately, and is now noticed with respect by all the European powers. . . . I hope the President will be fully supported in the Senate and he will then, you could no be more successful a success, and not feel how important it is for America to hold the attitude of the President. . . . records will leave us a degraded nation. . . . come out of the present dispute without a stain, will place our nation high in Europe. The President is much praised here for his stand. . . . it is the French are bound by the treaty and have broken their faith. The moral influence is against them"

From the National Intelligencer.
THE UNITED STATES AND FRANCE
It is rumored, and it seems to be believed that a message will be sent to Congress today by the President of the United States, announcing the reception of official relations that the French Government is ready, without further delay, in consequence of the explanation contained in the American message, to pay over the last balance now due under the treaty of 1811, between that Government and the United States.

The following is the only additional information on the subject that we have at our disposal to lay before our readers:
From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, Feb. 15.
"The following is an important paragraph is extracted from a private letter of one of our Paris correspondents, who has peculiar facilities for obtaining official intelligence. The writer is the same who first communicated, from Paris, the fact of the existence of the Duke de Broglie's letter to Mr. Paquet, and gave us an outline of its contents. We gave that information exclusively, the result of the deliberations of the Cabinet Council of Lewis PHILIPPE.
