Prospectus of THE CAMDEN JOURNAL. The subscriber, having purchased the CAMDEN JOURNAL Establishment, means to continue its publication.

There has not, perhaps, been a period of six months, in the last twenty-five years, that Camden has been without a newspaper, and it will be a vile slander on the character of her citizens, to suppose that they will not support one.

It will sustain the principles of the Republican Party—the rights of the States and the integrity of the Union. It may be proper to add, as personalities and scurrilous have become so common a weapon with the newspaper press, that this paper will support no political party which requires such aid for its success.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, respectfully address the following circular to the merchants of the United States, who trade with this city.

You are aware that on the night of the 16th of December last, an unprovoked and cowardly mob destroyed an important portion of our city between Wall and Broad streets, embracing the stores of many wealthy and enterprising merchants.

Dr. Elijah Pratt, DEAR SIR: As it is a matter of much public importance, to possess a means of lessening the terrible suffering from sore nipples, I have much pleasure in being able to say, that the shield you offer for the preventing and cure of this malady, is better adapted to the purpose than any I have heretofore seen.

Having examined Dr. Pratt's newly invented nipple shields, and witnessed its practical applications among my patients, I take great pleasure in recommending it as decidedly superior to any thing previously known.

THE INSTRUMENT is accompanied with printed directions for its application, and preservation. It can be packed up in a small compass, and sent to any part of the country by Express.

NEW SERIES FOR 1886. The New York Spirit of the Times. A METROPOLITAN GAZETTE. Of the Sporting, Fashionable, and Literary World.

THE SPIRIT OF THE TIMES is essentially a Sporting Journal, but, as it is a well-grounded objection against all mere sporting papers, that they are extremely monotonous, the plan of this publication will include a wider range, and the contents of Literature and the Drama, Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, Doings in the Fashionable Circles, &c., will fall within the scope of our design, and tender it at once grateful to the sportsman and general reader.

BLOODED STOCK—All important to Blood Stock, and all important to the horse and in England—selected ways on the breeding and management of horses, and a regular review of Stallions with pedigrees, performances, &c., will be published in our columns.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE—So great is the number of our correspondents at home, and so complete are our arrangements abroad, that we do not hesitate to promise our readers earlier Sporting Intelligence than can be procured through any other channel.

THE AMERICAN AND ENGLISH TURF. Importations and sales of blooded stock, breeding and raising, racing and trotting challenges, American horses to come, Sweepstakes open throughout the Union, On Duty in Sporting Circles, Pedigrees and Performances of Celebrated Horses, Coursing and Hunting at home and abroad, Shooting and Fishing, Rifle and Pistol practice in America and Europe, Rowing and Sailing, International Young Sportsmen, Postulatum, Sailing, and Barren Sports, &c., &c., &c.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT. Although the leading objects of our paper are of a sporting cast, our readers may rely upon it that we shall not be behind hand in high and elegant literature, and if we combine our original notices of New Books, Reviews and Magazines, and discussion of current letters, we shall make ample amends by our selections from the choice belles lettres of America and Great Britain, and could we bring our taste up to the standard of our industry, we would promise at once that the selected portion of this department should be gay, graceful and spirited.

THEATRICAL DEPARTMENT. As an object of lively interest, the Drama will demand our best efforts. Without stint or measure, but with candour and impartiality, we shall take cognizance of the novelties presented us at the three establishments so generously fostered by the bounty of this community.

DRAMATIC MINIATURE PORTRAITURE. A novel, and we have reason to believe, a popular feature in this department, will be a plan of occasionally giving Dramatic Miniature Portraits—executed, not with the crayon or brush, but with pen and ink sketches—of some of the distinguished performers on the American stage.

H. Hill, Tyrone Power, Charlotte Watson, Augustus A. Adams, Josephine Gilson, Charles Keen, John Barnes, J. W. S. Hows.

Green Room intelligence will form an item in our Theatrical department, in which we shall ever and anon record the positions and the movements of the "Stars" in the theatrical firmament; and others may look to our columns for information of his kind with all confidence, of hearing the true whereabouts of the present favorites.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE. To aid our own endeavors in sustaining the interest of the paper, the proprietors have gone to the expense of establishing a foreign correspondence, which is now in full operation.

GALLERY OF COMICALITIES. Or series of caricatures. And if these fail to make readers laugh it will be because the American Johnston and English Cribshank have ceased to sketch or grow comical in their wit.

INCIDENT AT THE THEATRE. At the National Theatre on Wednesday night, we witnessed some traits of the human character, which were very interesting, and which, perhaps, were never before seen in a crowded house.

It should be mentioned for the information of those abroad, that there is now nightly performing at this theatre, a national drama by Mr. Curtis, on the well known incidents of Pocahontas and the settlement of Virginia.

By far the most interested spectators of this drama on the night in question were a deputation of northern Indians of the Potomac valley, from our extreme Canadian frontier, who had never been in Washington before, and who fresh from the forest and the prairie, were ignorant alike of the English language and of the forms and manners of civilized life.

In the second act they place the grand dramatic spectacle of the coronation of Powhatan, and an Indian pantomime evoked by all the characters. This greatly delighted the aborigines, who gazed on every movement with eyes that spoke rapture, and with contortions of pleasure in every limb. One young warrior, especially, gave vent to his feelings by a wild
