[PUNISHMENT—No. 78.]
AN ACT granting half pay to widows or orphans where their husbands and fathers have died of wounds received in the military service of the United States in certain cases, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That when any officer, non-commissioned officer, musician or private of the militia, including rangers, sea fencibles and volunteers, shall have died while in the service of the United States, since the twentieth April, eighteen hundred and eighteen, or who shall have died in consequence of a wound received whilst in the service, since the day aforesaid, and shall have left a widow, or if no widow, a child or children under sixteen years of age such widow, or if no widow, such child or children, shall be entitled to receive half the monthly pay to which the deceased was entitled at the time of his death or receiving such wound, for and during the term of five years; and in case of the death or marriage of said widow before the expiration of said five years, the half pay for the remainder of the time shall go to the said decedent: Provided, That the half pay aforesaid shall be half the monthly pay of the officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians, and privates of the infantry of the regular army, and no more. Provided also, That no greater sum shall be allowed to the widow, or the child or children of any officer than the half pay of a lieutenant colonel.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That if any officer, non-commissioned officer, musician, soldier, Indian spy, mariner or warrior, whose service during the revolutionary war was such as is specified in the act passed the seventh day of June, eighteen hundred and thirty-two, entitled "An act supplementary to the act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the revolution," have died since the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and thirty-one, and before the date of said act, the amount of pension which would have accrued from the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and thirty-one, to the time of his death, and become payable to him by virtue of that act, if he had survived the passage thereof, shall be paid to his widow; and if he left no widow, to his children, in the manner prescribed in the act hereby amended.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That if any person who served in the war of the revolution, in the manner specified in the act passed the seventh day of June, eighteen hundred and thirty-two, entitled "An act supplementary to the act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the revolution," have died leaving a widow whose marriage took place before the expiration of the last period of his service, such widow shall be entitled to receive, during the time she may remain unmarried, the annuity or pension which might have been allowed to her husband, by virtue of the act aforesaid, if living at the time it was passed.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That any pledge, mortgage, sale, assignment, or transfer of any right, claim, or interest in any money or half pay granted by this act, shall be utterly void and of no effect; each person acting for and in behalf of any one, entitled to money under this act, shall take and subscribe an oath to be administered by the proper accounting officer, and retained by him and put on file, before a warrant shall be delivered to him, that he has no interest in said money by any pledge, mortgage, sale, assignment, or transfer, and that he does not know or believe that the same has been so disposed of to any person whatever.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of War shall adopt such forms of evidence, in applications under this act, as the President of the United States shall prescribe.

JAMES K. POLK,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
W. R. KING,
President of the Senate pro tempore.

Indian Affairs.

From the Columbus Sentinel, July 29.
THE WAR NOT ENDED YET.

On Sunday morning last a severe engagement took place, as usual, between the Georgians and the Indians, in the neighborhood of Mr. Quall's plantation, above Roanoke. We have not received the particulars of the fight, but learn that information was given to the forces, stationed at Fort McCrary, that fresh signs of the Indians had been discovered in a swamp in Mr. Quall's plantation; upon which Capt. Calhoun, of Dekalb county, with a command of ninety men, were despatched in pursuit of the enemy. In scouring the place a fresh trail was found, leading out of the swamp in the direction of Lumpkin. It was followed. In a short time the party came up with a small gang of Indians, of thirty or more, and commenced the fight. The Indians soon fled, leaving seven of their number killed. The whites, after the first skirmish, supposed the Indians whipped and the fight over; but they found that this advance party was a mere decoy, to draw them into the midst of their enemies, by whom they soon found themselves completely flanked on both sides. The battle was renewed, but the ammunition of the whites being exhausted, they were compelled to retreat. In the engagement the whites lost five killed, and several wounded. Among the slain were Mr. Colly, (overseer for D. P. Hallhouse, Esq.) a brave man, and much respected; a Mr. Willis and Dr. Orr, of Dekalb—the names of the others not yet known to us. It is said that the whites had only three rounds of cartridges apiece when the fight first commenced—a very unfor unwise oversight, indeed, and if true, wholly unpardonable in the commanding officer. Something of this sort was surely the matter, or the Dekalb boys would never have turned their backs upon their enemy, although they may have outnumbered them three to one. Upon the receipt of this intelligence Gen. Sanford issued the following order:

ARMY OF THE SOUTH.

Order—No. 130.

Head Quarters, 1st army corps,
COLUMBUS, July 25th 1836.

The apprehensions of the Major General, that the enemy would re-assemble in force on the disbandment of the troops, has been but too sadly verified; a party of Indians amounting probably to 20 have again invaded our soil; they are doubtless seeking a covert in the Chickasawthee swamp. An energetic pursuit must be immediately adopted, and the enemy must be overtaken and overcome; Captains Delaparie, Le grand and Boswick with their companies, will immediately proceed to the reinforcement of the detachment now at Fort McCrary; the instructions contained in order No. 129 will be rigidly pursued by the senior officer of the whole force, who will take command of the detachment. In addition to these instructions, he will consider himself as not being confined to the limits of one county, but if necessary, pursue them to the Florida line—he will remember the Indians must not escape. Supplies of arms ammunition and subsistence, will be immediately forwarded to Fort McCrary, and every disposition made to check the escape of the enemy.

By order of Maj. Gen. Sanford,
W. S. ROCKWELL,
Adjut. Camp.

On Monday Capt. Jernigan, of Stewart county, with what force he could hastily collect among the citizens of that county, went in pursuit, and overtook the Indians about fifteen miles below Lumpkin. He engaged them, and it is said lost four killed and a number wounded. The loss of the Indians not known. Capt. Jernigan, we are further informed, had the Indians hemmed in a swamp, and was waiting for Gen. Sandford to come up, (who had with him Maj. Hoxey's command from this place, and a company from Coweta county,) when it was supposed a general engagement would take place. Passengers who arrived here yesterday report that they heard brisk firing in that direction as they passed the road.

It is also stated that a party of Indians, supposed to be four hundred, had crossed between Irwinton and Roanoke; and that Gen. Welborn with troops from the former place, had marched to intercept them.

We wait with anxiety to hear the result of these movements.

We learn since writing the above, that the three persons killed on Monday, under Capt. Jernigan, were a Mr. Moore, Mr. Williams and Mr. Bryan and Robert Wimberly mortally wounded—five others badly wounded, but expected to recover. The Indians were still in the swamp, where Capt. J. engaged them, and were watched by the company, waiting for Gen. Sandford's approach. Our informant states that he heard an express had been received at Fort Mitchell on yesterday, (Thursday,) that three white men had been killed the day previous at or near Fort Henderson, fifteen miles below Fort Mitchell, on the Alabama side of the river—the names not heard, nor the particulars given. The marines who were stationed at that fort had been ordered away some time since. The Indians were heard at work upon their rafts in the swamp opposite Fort McCrary, and were shooting off their rifles at night—evidently preparing for another excursion to Florida or the impenetrable swamps of Baker, Thomas and Lowndes counties; where, if they once get a foothold, they will leave their women and children, and carry fire and sword, murder and devastation, through the surrounding country, and sometimes penetrating to their old homes in Alabama. It will require a large force constantly engaged to prevent these fugitive gangs of Indians from crossing the river, and ruining the intervening country between Roanoke and Florida.—We fear our army was disbanded too soon; but, as fifteen hundred Tennesseans have arrived and are now under the command of Gen. Jessup, that officer, co-operating with Gen. Sandford, they will have ample force between them, as we hope and believe, to overcome all the hostile Indians who remain out.

Much anxiety is felt in regard to the friendly Indians, in anticipating their removal. It is feared that many of them will become hostile, when they find that they also are compelled to go. We learn that Gen. Jessup is making the necessary disposition of his forces to act efficiently in case any resistance should be offered.

[OFFICIAL.]

THOMASVILLE, July 10, 1836.

His Excellency Governor Schley.—I have to inform your Excellency, that on the night of the 11th inst. authentic information reached Thomasville, that a party of Indians, about fifteen in number, were seen in the upper part of Thomas county, marching in a direction for Florida. By seven o'clock A. M. the next day, a company of men, forty-six in number, under command of Capt. James A. Newman, was despatched in pursuit of them. On Thursday thereafter, the company was joined by a company of about forty men, from Lowndes county, under the command of Captain Pike, when the companies elected Michael Young to take command of the battalion. Scouting parties being despatched, the Indians, fifteen in number, were discovered in the fork of the Big Warrior creek and Little river. The battalion immediately proceeded across the river, and scoured a very thick, muddy swamp, about two miles wide and three long, without making any discovery. A company of thirty men from Thomas county, under the command of Capt. Tucker, and a company of fifteen men, from Lowndes county, commanded by Captain Sharp, then joined the battalion. The next morning Captain Sharp was sent up the east side of the river, to ascertain whether or not the Indians had crossed the river and left the swamp. Having found their trail, he despatched a messenger to the battalion; and proceeded to follow after the Indians. After pursuing them about three miles, he came up with them (about sixty warriors and their families) and a battle ensued, in which he lost one killed (Mr. P. Folsom) and one wounded, whom he was forced to retreat. The battalion hastened to his assistance, and in about three miles came up with them again, posted in a very advantageous position on a pierce ridge, their rear protected by a cypress pond, and in their front a wide, open, boggy meadow. A general engagement commenced about 9 o'clock, A. M. and after a severe fight for two hours, the Indians were completely routed, with a loss of twenty-two Indians and two negroes killed, that were seen; many wounded, and eighteen women and children taken prisoners. The battle was fought over a distance of three miles, through several cypress ponds and bays, and a very thick hurricane. The loss on the part of the whites were two killed, (Benton Ferrell of Thomas county and Edward Shanks of Lowndes) and nine wounded. Several horses were killed; several ran off during the engagement and have not since been heard of. The prisoners have been confined in the county jail under a guard for their safety; Your Excellency will please direct what disposition to make of them. The expenses of the detachment will be furnished you as soon as the Quarter Master can make out his account.

Yours Respectfully,
THOMAS E. BLACKSHEAR;
Col. Com. 69th Reg. G. M.

A NEW WAR.

We regret to announce to our fellow citizens, that the Creek Indians have renewed the war.

On Sunday last, a party of the hostiles crossed the Chattahoochee and attacked our Troops at Fort McCrary, and repulsed them, with the loss of several killed and wounded.

We are without particulars, but rumor estimates our loss in killed, from five to nine.
