Massacre at Roanoke,

The following article, from the Columbus Sentinel, should have appeared some time nince, but has been accidentally and unintentionally delayed. Respect for the memory of our former fellow-citizen, however, prompts us to give it a place even at this late day-and we hope that it will not prove uninteresting, or less acceptable on this account. (Mr. KERSHAW, one of the victims of the savage ssacre at Roanoke, was a descendant of Colonel KERSHAW, [a patriot of the Revolution, and one of the Fathers of our own district, which now bears his name.] He was a native of this place, and for the greater part of his life a resident hero-having removed to the South but two years since-and it must, we think, afford some consolation at least, to his afflicted friends here, to be assured, that, even in that short period, he had established himself in the confidence and esteem of his adopted fellow-citizens—and, that though comparatively a stranger among them, he has not fallen "unwept, unhonored, or unavenged.) - Ep. Journal.

From the Columbus Sentinel.

At the massacre and burning of Roanoke, the sentinels who were out on duty came in from their post before it was light in the morning, and being wearied and unthoughtful of danger, lay down and stept; when suddenly the Camp was aroused by the erack of rifles and the yells of savages. Taken completely on surprise, and finding themselves overpowered, they fied in every direction.

The citizens who were sleeping in their houses were surrounded before they knew of the approach of the Indians. A dreadful scene presented itself to them when they awoke. Mr. Kershaw fell dead in his own house. His widow and little orphan were saved by the presence of mind of Mr. Pearce, the partner of Kershaw; he hid them under a box up stairs of the house. Several times did the In-dians come up and take their seats upon the iden. tical box under which they lay! When the steam boat Georgian returned back, the Indians, attracted by it, left them and ran down to the shore to attack it, when the disconsolate wife, with her little orphan in her arms, escaped to the neighboring

To the Public.

How true it is, that modern Physicians-in their rive at perfection in the practice by means of Ant alone,—overlook and neglect, as beneath their notice the rich and bounteous stores of medicine, eign countries for many of his most common and necessary articles perpetually changing as they are the dictates of fashion or folly he is surrounded in his own country with an endless profusion.

The congeniatily, efficiency and savery of vege table remedies over mineral, may be estimated by centrasting the ancient practice with the modern or, to bring it more immediately under our own ob se vation, the Indian practice with that of the whites. Who, in America, has not known or heard of repeated instances wherein some decrepid, unpretending temale Indian by means of her simple remedies alone, has effected the most rapid and astonishing cures, after the whole Materia Medica of ed at beholding the comparative case and facility with which the Indian frees himself of any discase, and at the almost total absence of chronic discase among them. Who has ever heard of an Indian with a constitution broken and ruined by ill-treatment? And can a doubt exist, that this happy exemption of the savage from most of the ills owing to the more genial and safe remedies which those which the pride and the art of man have is-

From a long residence among a portion of the aboriginal inhabitants of this country, and an inti-mate acquaintance with the methods of cures of some of their most successful practioners, the proprietor of the "THE INDIAN'S PANACLA," BOOK lady, James Brunson, and Sarah Beers a knowledge of some of their most powerful and (and others if any) of the legal heirs and favorable remedies. From these he selected such as were most efficacious and appropriate, and after various experiments to test their principles and trength he has combined them in the form here therefore ordered, that they do appear and presented, as the moss perfect and beneficial for the purpose for which it is recommended.

I he proprietor offers this preparation to the pubin its reach, a remedy capable of relieving many of his afflicted fellow beings, who are suffering un-der the various chronic and obstinate complaints to which it is applicable. To such it will prove of incalculable value, as the means, and in many cases the only means of relieving their sufferings and, restoring them once more to health and happiness, This is not offered as a common remedy, that may perchance be equally good with many others now in use, but as one which is capable of saving life in many extreme cases, when all the usual remedies fail. Thus it has done repeatedly; and this is the repeated it has obtained wherever it has been in-

Summer bush SQUASH it is known it is rapidly coming into use, and this affords the most substantial and convincing proof of its merits.

The value of the Panseea, is most conspicuous in those long standing and obstinate syphilitic and scrofulous affections which have defided all other remedies, and particularly in those cases where mercury has been so lavishly used as to cause distressing pains in the bones, nodes, mercurial ni-These it completely removes and in all cases I entirely eradicates the disease and the effects o mercury, renovates the constitution, and leave the patient sound and well. In Rheumatisms and in ulcerated sore throat, its happy effects are no less apparent, giving almost immediate relief.

Taken in proper doses, THE INDIAS'S PANACEA operates as an alternative, and detergent; a diarphoretic, diuretic and laxative; an antipasmodic and anodyne, and in proper cases, as a stomachic and emmenagogue. Generally expressed, it in-creases all the secretions and exertions, gives tene to the stomach, and excites action in the glands in a particular manner. From these principles its, operation may be understood.

This medicine has been found highly useful in many ambiguous diseases not here specified, and it has been used with wonderful success as a Spring and Fall purifier, by those who are subject to comquire new vigor. Such persons will do well to use two or three bottles in small doses. Wherever adirt drink is considered necessary, the Panacea, taken in a small dose, will answer all its purposes, in much less time, at less expense, and in a far more agreeable manner, than the common diet The following certificates, out of hundreds similar which might be procured, are given to show the effect of THE INDIAN'S PARACEA, in the various complaints therein mentioned; and also to exhibit in the most satisfactory manner its superiority over the syrups in common use.
