

Our readers will perceive by the orders published in this day's paper, that the order for the drill and review of Col. Chesnut's and Col. Reynolds's regiments, is so far modified, as that they will assemble for review on the 12th October, instead of the 11th, as heretofore ordered.

It affords us pleasure to inform our readers that we have this week concluded the publication of the laws passed at the last session of Congress. Our columns have been crowded for the last four or five months with the public laws, to the exclusion of matter which we are sure would be much more interesting to our readers, but perhaps not so profitable to us. We shall endeavor hereafter to serve up a greater variety than we have been enabled to do heretofore.

The suggestion made in our last paper, by a writer over the signature of "A Voice from the Indian Land," is commanding some attention in our own District, as will be seen by the communication from "A Citizen of Flat Rock." We are pleased to see so prompt a response to the suggestion; indeed it could hardly be otherwise, if a moment's reflection was bestowed on the subject. Every one must perceive at a glance, of what immense importance to the prosperity of Camden, it will be, to make a good turnpike road on the route proposed. Our citizens have, with a laudable zeal for the welfare of the town, organized a Steam Boat Company, and will have a boat navigating the river the coming winter. We understand also, that there will be run on the river one or two other steam boats on private account. All must rejoice at the pleasing prospect which lies before us, but they must not rejoice as those who have nothing left to accomplish. Much remains to be done. We are in a fair way to succeed in increasing our facilities for getting produce to Charleston, and let us now look above us, and endeavor to make our own town more accessible to our country friends. That Camden possesses natural advantages, superior to any in land town in the State can hardly be doubted, and if the prosperity which has dawned on our town does not continue to brighten, we can only blame our own inactivity.

Communications.
To the Editor of the Camden Journal.
I perceive in the last Journal, a question propounded to the people of Kershaw District, by a writer from the Indian Land. It is one that I have long wished to see brought before the people. I, for one, will join the people of Lancaster, in a petition to the Legislature for a turnpike road from the North Carolina line to Camden, to join the great western Railroad at or near Columbia, which will form a sure and speedy way to market for the valuable products of the rich and fertile soil of the counties of Rowan, Wilkes, Surry, Ireddell, Ashe, Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Anson, Stokes and part of Montgomery, in North Carolina; and Lancaster, Darlington, Chesterfield and Kershaw, in South Carolina. It would also open a communication with a market for the important mineral productions of the mountains. Such a road "would be of immense importance" to every village, near its track, and the inhabitants, en masse, ought to be zeal-us in the cause, to be up and doing, without further delay. Such is the voice of MACHAON.
Camden, 17th Sept. 1886.

FOR THE CAMDEN JOURNAL.
The greatest good to the greatest number.
In all public works, private and sectional interests should be made yield to the above principle. The spathy of North Carolina to the great work now spoken of between South Carolina and Ohio, has been the subject of frequent remark, but it is not to be wondered at; when all the contemplated routes of the Rail Road pass over but a small and comparatively unimportant part of the state, and render her in reality but little interested. She could be easily aroused to its importance, if the surveys (instead of being carried over the hills, may almost mountainous country of the Saunds, Broad, or on the west side of the Catawba river, which are now considered the probable courses,) were made to cross the Catawba high up in Lincoln and Ireddell counties, thence running east of Charlotte five miles, east of Lancaster six, ten miles east of Camden five miles, and the line through the fork of Black river, on a gently inclined plain direct to Charleston. It would doubtless be nearer to go west of Sumterville, but the gain would be lost in overcoming the hills by grading or otherwise.

The best route to gain Lincoln or Ireddell across the mountains is not known to the writer, but it is notorious that there is a summit ridge between the Catawba and Yadkin, and the Wateree and Lynch's creek, extending in the route indicated from Ireddell which from a general view of the ground, would not require a single inclined plane in three hundred miles, and the saving in bridges, culverts, &c. would be immense, as the ridge is scarcely interrupted by a water course in its whole extent. The object will at once be seen to be to secure the trade of the valleys of the Yadkin and Catawba with Charleston. This is a section of country almost un-ann, and wholly unappreciated—its resources are immense, its population great—but its trade from its secluded situation, insignificant.

The greatest objection South Carolina can offer is that by so running the road, her western population will in a great measure be deprived of its benefits. We reply—the road should not be sectional, and the greatest benefit to the greatest number should be the ruling principle—she have the means of uniting with the Charleston and Hamburg road—they are nearer market, and their productions will be better bear transportation—or if preferred, run branch roads to the main trunk—one from Union, York and Chester, jointly, would pay very well. The bridge across the Catawba is required for the accommodation of travellers, and would pay handsomely in that way, on the investment, and at the same time by widening the piers, would serve as a viaduct.

part for the last twenty-four hours 15 cases of Cholera—5 whites, 10 blacks and colored, all under treatment. Of the cases reported yesterday no deaths have been returned.
