THE OLD FAMILIAR STRAIN.

Sing me that old familiar strain
Which touched my heart in boyhood's years,
Before its chords were jarred by pain,
Before its hopes were dimmed by tears.
Time has fled since first I heard
Its music from those lips of thine;
But well remembered is each word:
So sing once more, oh! Mary mine,
The old familiar strain.

Thine eyes have their soft radiance kept,
That won my heart in life's young spring,
And o'er thy beauty Time hath swept,
Gently, with light and charmed wing.
Unaltered is thy graceful form.
The trusting heart is still the same,
Keeping those true affections warm
As when before I dreamt of fame,
You sang me that old strain.

Yes, sing! as in those golden hours
When life and love and hope were young,
When fancy strewed our path with flowers—
Oh! sing that strain that then you sung!
You made sweet music in that time,
Ere grief or trial we had known,
When first you sang in youthful prime,
In melody's bewitching tone,
The old familiar strain.

Methinks that on your placid brow—
So lightly touched by furrowing years,
Since we first plighted love's young vow—
Thought's graver shadow now appears;
But if within thy very mind,
Remembrance of our dear will come,
Strong ties yet bind thee to the earth—
So breath once more within our home—
The old familiar strain.

A Garland of Artificial Flowers.—Among the articles at the industrial exhibition at London in 1851, will be a garland of artificial flowers, which will not be less than 1851 feet in circumference, and will contain 1851 varieties of flowers and fruits. This monstrous garland will be composed of materials from all the manufacturers of flowers in the English metropolis and the counties. It will be dedicated to Prince Albert, to the Dutchess of Sutherland, the counties of Carlisle, the royal Commissioners, and the subscribers who have contributed to this project. I will be enclosed in a glass case, on the sides of which will be the inscriptions to commemorate the exhibition.

Rare Sport.—We have been behind some of our neighbors in "hunting" stories, but the following from the Texas Monument, is even with any that has appeared in print recently.

A planter says that he was, some years ago coming through the Brazos swamp with his rifle in his hand, when he met a very large bear. The bear seemed disposed to engage in a fight with him, which he could not well avoid. The bear closed with him before he could get ready to shoot; so they had the contest hand to hand. In the struggle the bear took the gun from him, and as if conscious that he had disarmed him, fell back, levelled the gun at him, cocked it, and with his paw pulled the trigger. The man thinks that the bear would have shot him, but for the fact that the gun had double triggers, and the bear did not know how to spring them, so as to make it go off.

A Cunning Fox.—An English paper relates the following: A farmer had discovered that a fox came along a beam in the night to seize his poultry. He accordingly sawed the end of the beam nearly through and in the night the fox fell into a place whence he could not escape. On going to him in the morning, he found him stiff, and as he thought, lifeless. Taking him out of the building, he threw him on the dung-hill, but in a short time Reynard opened his eyes, and seeing all was safe and clear, galloped away to the mountains, showing more cunning than the man who ensnared him.

The New Jersey railroad has been mulcted in $2,000 damages, in consequence of Catharine Murray, a girl of 10 years, in 1848, having had her ankle crushed by the steamboat at the Jersey City ferry wharf, from the chain having been taken down before the boat was properly secured in the dock.

Recovered.—The two sons of the man Rosseau, who was murdered by Henry Carnal, a short time ago, in Dey street, New York, have entirely recovered. The recovery of one of them was entirely unexpected. Of course they will be used as witnesses against Carnal, who is a dogged, stubborn and brutal fellow.

MANSTONHOUSE.

CAMDEN, S. C.

THE subscriber respectfully announces to his friends and the TRAVELLING PUBLIC generally, that he has opened, as a HOTEL, that large and commodious house in Log Town, formerly the private residence of B. Perkins, esq.

The building is admirably adapted for that purpose, being situated in the most healthy and pleasant part of Camden, combining all the advantages of the town with the balmy atmosphere of the country, and within a few minutes' walk of any part of Camden. The rooms are large and airy, his Servants respectful and attentive, and he pledges himself to spare no pains in keeping up an attractive and well supplied TABLE, and to use every exertion to please those who may call upon him.

His STABLES will be found commodious, and always fully supplied with Provender.

The House being conducted on Temperance Principles, he flatters himself that those who favor him with a call will find the MANSTON HOUSE not only the comforts and attention of a well regulated Hotel, but the quiet retirement of a Home.

Charges moderate.

All the Stages arriving in the place, and the Omnibuses running to the Depot, will call at the House when desired.

E. G. ROBINSON.
Camden, Sept. 1.

HUNTER'S HOTEL,

CAMDEN, S. C.

THE subscriber having located in Camden, would respectfully say to the public that he has opened a Public House two doors below the Post Office, and hopes by strict attention to business to share a liberal patronage.

My Stables are good, and well supplied with Provender, and my Table shall always be supplied with as good as the market affords.

I am certain that those who once favor me with a call will be willing to call again.

I have also, a good Wagon Yard, with wood, water and house convenient, for the accommodation of Wagoners.

I will also attend to the Commission Business, and all Goods consigned to my care, or left with me for sale shall meet with prompt attention.

Charges moderate
JAMES M. HUNTER.
Nov. 26.

To Rent.

THAT new and commodious Stand with the Fixtures attached, owned and occupied by the late Robert L. Tweed, as a Blacksmith and Wagon-maker's shop.

To a skilful and industrious mechanic, this is a very desirable situation. Possession given immediately. For particulars apply to JAMES McEWEN.

The Tools can be had at a fair valuation and on accommodating terms.
Camden, Nov. 15.

The Evening News and Hornet's Nest will insert once a week for six weeks.

Darlington Hotel,

DARLINGTON COURT-HOUSE.

THE above House having been purchased and fitted up anew by JOHN DOREN, is again opened for the accommodation of the Public. Strict attention to the wants and comforts of guests will be given, and no effort, calculated to merit the patronage of all who may favor the establishment with a visit, shall be spared.

All that the market and surrounding country afford will be found upon the table.

Comfortable rooms, for families or individuals, are prepared.

The Stables will be attended by careful and attentive hostlers.

Drivers can be well accommodated, as any number of horses and mules can be kept in the stables and lots expressly prepared for them.

Nov. 1, 1850.

Dry Goods at Reduced Prices. THE subscribers having determined to change their business, offer their desirable and well-assorted stock of Dry Goods, at very reduced prices. Persons will do well to give us a call before purchasing elsewhere.

Nov. 15. H. LEVY & SON.

In Equity—Lancaster District. Middleton G. Caston vs. Susannah Caston, et al.

THE creditors of the Estate of Samuel Caston, dec'd. of Lancaster District, are hereby notified and requested to present and establish, before me, their demands against said Estate, on or before the 1st. January, 1851. By order of the Court in above case, June Term, 1850.
